GRATITUDE TO LANDLORD
Philadelphia, Pa. — In gratitude to the landlord who was "wonderfully kind" to him, William Chormann, 71-year-old bachelor, who died Feb. 5, left everything he had, $1,300, to his landlord, Max Hess. Chormann explained that, when he lost his job in 1942, Hess let him stay on in the five-room house which he rented for $16 a month—less than half the standard charge for the area. Hess had a chance to sell the house, but refused, so that Chormann could stay on.

Guilford College Choir Will Appear in Boone

The Guilford College A Cappella Choir, one of the best known collegiate musical organizations in the South, will present a full concert in the college auditorium on March 20 at 7:45 o'clock, under the auspices of the college and the Boone Worthwhile Club. The chorus is composed of 45 carefully selected students, directed by Dr. Ezra H. F. Weis, professor of music.

The A Cappella Choir, one of the first such organizations in the southeast, is in its 20th season. It represents a college which was founded 109 years ago by members of the Society of Friends (Quakers) and which is known as probably the oldest educational school in the South. It is a small, liberal arts institution, widely known for its high academic standards.

Members of the choir, who come from seven states, are chosen for their ability and interest in music. Definite training, including music theory, is required for permanent membership in the organization, a factor which lifts to a high standard the quality of performance.

Devotion of the Guilford choir to the best sacred music of the ages has had a definite effect on church music wherever it has appeared since its beginning in 1929. Like the college from which it comes, the choir attempts to reflect the sincerity, thoroughness and friendliness of the small, student community. It has always attempted to maintain efficiency in its musical standards for tonal fidelity, balance, enunciated clarity and interpretation.

Blowing Rock Nurse Gains Distinction

Morganton, N. C., March 8.—Miss Opha Ford of Blowing Rock has been named "Miss Grace Hospital School of Nursing for 1948" to represent the Morganton institution in a statewide contest being conducted by North Carolina's 38 schools of nursing.

Miss Ford, who is a graduate of the Happy Valley High School in Caldwell county, was picked from the senior class of the Morganton hospital by a vote of fellow students and faculty, the selection being made on the basis of personal appearance, aptitude for nursing, spirit of service, personality, scholastic standing and leadership.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira V. Ford of Blowing Rock, Miss Ford was recently elected president of the newly-formed student council in the Morganton School of Nursing.

As local winner, she will go to Asheville to compete in a district contest to choose finalists for the later selection in Raleigh of the grand winner who will be crowned "Miss North Carolina Student Nurse of 1948."
Miss Ford, who will be graduated this year, entered training in September 1945, following her graduation from Happy Valley School. She has made an excellent record in both her clinical and classroom work.

SET OIL FLOW AFIRE

Oklahoma City, Okla.—High school boys, seeing oil bubbling out of a manhole cover, after an eight-inch pipeline from a storage tank broke and leaked crude oil into the city sewer system, struck a match to the oil. A few moments later, a string of sewer explosions started flipping the massive iron covers 10 feet into the air, badly frightening residents. The pipeline valves were shut off and the Fire Department flooded the sewers with water.

ALL IN ONE POCKETBOOK

Chicago, Ill.—When a girl reporter asked five women what they carried in their purses, she and they were surprised. The champion contained—two sticks of gum, a comb, a pack of cigarettes, rouge, mirror, four books of matches, a mascara case, two lipsticks, an eyebrow tweezer, rosary beads, wallet, an emery board, two bills, a pair of earrings, an ornamental pin, a loose quarter, two pencils, five hairpins, a railroad ticket and a cosmetic case.

UNMARKED PILLS KILL

CHILD
Detroit, Mich.—Pills from two unmarked bottles caused the death of little James Berris, 2, and chemists were called to determine what the pills contained that would cause the death of the child.

REUNION IN HOSPITAL

Peoria, Ill.—Mrs. Ellen Plover, 82, a patient in St. Francis Hospital, began to feel right at home when she was followed, as patients, by her daughter, a granddaughter, and a great-grandson. While they were all in the hospital, another granddaughter received her cap as a graduate of the hospital's school for nurses.

CARILLO BLUES
Plymouth, Mass. — Policeman George Cowdry ran to the historic First Church Unitarian when he heard the carillon bells playing "The St. Louis Blues." He arrested church organist Edward Ward, 42, who was charged with intoxication.

Los Angeles—L. A. (Slim) Perrett, 44-year-old test pilot, ordered his crew to jump to safety but was killed himself because he would not desert his crippled experimental plane until it was safely clear of a 1,000,000 barrel oil storage reservoir. He then tried to save his own life by parachuting from an altitude of 300 feet but his chute failed to open.
