State College Hints For Homemakers

To throw away sometimes is thriftier than to save, household management specialists say. They explain that some articles, likely to accumulate around the house, are accident hazards which should be discarded promptly.

Any chipped or cracked glassware—whether, tumbler, canning ware, jar, or serving dish—should be retired from use to prevent cuts as well as possible waste of food. Chipped enamelware also should go out of kitchen service because it may leave tiny glasslike particles in food prepared or cooked in it. Once china or pottery is cracked or chipped, it cannot be kept sanitary by ordinary dish washing. A cracked cup, therefore, is a health hazard as well as an accident hazard.

Tip-ty pots and pans have caused many a serious burn. Cooking utensils should stand steady on the stove. Home medicine cabinets are inclined to fill up. Old pills prescriptions and remedies are a nuisance and are dangerous to have around. They should never be saved for future use except on specific instructions from the physician. [Some drugs deteriorate with age.]

Other items which may wisely go out are toys with sharp points or edges or any loose parts which a child can get into his mouth. Tiny toys also have proved dangerous for young children. If the toy cannot be fixed for safety, it pays to throw it away. Finally, be sure not to throw items on trash heaps or into open containers where children can find them.
