WHEN CHEESE WAS KING We found a note on our desl the other day when we returned from a trip down the country, with the simple notation, "Cheese Wilson," and we regret missing our old friend who had called while we were away, and whose visit brought memories of other days in Watauga . . . of the time when the hillsides and coves were covered with Holstein cattle, and when the lacteal fluid was being hauled away to the numerous local cheese factories, where the big cheddars and the succulent bricks, and even Swiss of wagon-wheel size were manufactured, and Cheese Wilson was the authority, the man who came in from wide experience in the north and helped with the cooperative movement . . . Mr. Wilson helped with the industry for a long time, became known to all our people and was held in the highest regard . . . We hadn't seen him since the cheese business folded and the numerous little factories over the country were converted to other purposes . We would have enjoyed visiting with the genial friend of other days.

WEATHER ON TV

Herman Wilcox, President of the Boone Chamber of Commerce, has been telephoning soone temperatures to Clyde McLean, the weather man of station WBTV, Charlotte, and invariably when the weather outlook is given each evening, the personable announcer will give the torrid temperatures of the lowlands, followed, by "Up in the high mountains at Boone, where the breezes blow, it was only 80 today" . . . This sort of thing is highly beneficial and Mr. McLean has the thanks of the folks for including us in his popular broadcast . . . And Herman, of course, deserves full credit for fathering the thought.

THE LUST TO KILL

It developed that the topic was crow-shooting, and one of the fellows was getting great joy in having hundred of the noisy birds this summer . . . It was fun to see them "fold," he allowed, and described the express loads which were used to wage the one-sided war on the birds, which were "called" to their execution . . The non-shooter was telling the
