

Actors In Horn Making Plans For Next Winter

With 'Horn in the West' approaching the end of its first season Sunday, August 31, actors and crew-members are making plans for a winter which will scatter them to the proverbial four winds.

Organist Jim Grauel returns to Princeton, N. J., to the Westminster Choir School. If present plans materialize, he will travel to Japan on tour with the choir in late October.

Heading for New York and the borscht circuit of night clubs is Hansford Rowe (Governor Tryon). Ned Austin (Daniel Boone) will remain in Boone until October when he will leave for New York.

Taking college teaching posts are: Irvine Smith (John Sevier), Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa.; Stage Manager Gene Graves, Duke University; Lighting Director Gene Wilson, University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa; Director Bob Hailey, Lynchburg College; and Assistant Costumer St. Clair Williams, University of Arizona, Tucson.

Returning to high school teaching positions are: Charles Elledge (Amos Howard), Marion school principal; Sam Greene, Danville, Va., high school; Mary Tom Spanghous, Smithfield High school, and Bill Ross, Boone High school.

Director Kal Jurgenson will resume his duties as associate professor with the UNC Drama Department, and Music Director Tom Nichols, his post instructing in the Music Department at Chapel Hill.

Returning to Chapel Hill for study are: Technical Director Tommy Rezzuto; Art Green (John Stuart); Edgar Daniels (William Morris); Louise Lamont (Nancy Ward); Master of Properties Dick Epler; John Miller (Sam Phillips, currently appearing as Toby Miller); Louisa Cartledge (Martha Stuart); Max Shoaf (Indian ceremonial singer); Herman Coble (Rev. Samuel Doak); Anne Lynch, Jean Hillman and Mary Gray Clarke, all members of the chorus.

P. D. Pyatt, Jr., master electrician, goes to Duke University for undergraduate work, and Jane Walton (Mary, the Quaker maid) will enter WCUNC; Jane Gillett, Letitia House and Barbara White, all chorus members, will go to St. Mary's.

Roberta Jones, soloist in King's Mountain battleground scene, has New York plans in October, and Nancy Langston (Betsy Howard) leaves for the west coast and a job with a new San Francisco theatre. Jane Stephens (Jessie Howard) returns to Raleigh.

Jim Blanton (the cobbler) will return to Shelby after September when he and Evelyn McCracken will be married. Another September marriage will be that of Carl Clark (Jack Stuart) who plans to marry September 5 before assuming his teaching post in Charlotte city schools.

"The members of this committee worked faithfully, tirelessly, unselfishly, with sacrifice of time, money, and energy, to the end that the Daniel Boone Theatre would be ready for the first performance of Horn in the West West on the date that it was due to be offered to the public.

"It is the sense of the board of directors that the theatre could not have been ready had it not been for the efforts of these men individually and collectively, and it wishes to record its gratitude to each of them in behalf of the Association.

"The completion of the theatre on schedule has brought favorable comment upon our town and its citizens from widespread sources, and the board of directors expresses its appreciation to the members of the Building Committee for making this possible.

"Resolved, further, that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the official minutes of the board of directors and that we extend to each member of the building committee our heartfelt thanks.

("Signed) D. J. Whitener, executive vice-president.
Attest: Earleen G. Pritchett, recording secretary.

The building committee was released from its work as the building committee, and was appointed, by the board of directors, to be its permanent maintenance committee for the Daniel Boone Theatre and other properties.

U. S. WIDE BLOOD DRIVE
The Office of Defense Mobilization has announced an intensive drive for blood donations from throughout the country is getting underway. Cooperation will be sought from the press, radio, television, labor unions and business groups. The American Red Cross has been named official collecting agency. The blood is needed for men wounded in Korea and for plasma to be stored for use in any atomic attack.

The State Agricultural Mobilization Committee found in 1951 that 440,000 acres of land in North Carolina were being cultivated that should be in trees or grasses.

Horn Directors Laud Members Of Building Board

At its meeting last week, the board of directors of Southern Appalachian Historical Association, Inc., passed the following resolution, and voted to request that it be printed in the pages of the Watauga Democrat and become, also, a part of their official minutes:

"RESOLVED, That in behalf of the entire membership of the Southern Appalachian Historical Association, Inc., the Board of Directors adopts these resolutions in tribute to the services of the members of its building committee, consisting of W. R. Winkler, Russell D. Hodges, Sr., Estel Wagner, Grover Robbins, and Alfred Adams.

"The members of this committee worked faithfully, tirelessly, unselfishly, with sacrifice of time, money, and energy, to the end that the Daniel Boone Theatre would be ready for the first performance of Horn in the West West on the date that it was due to be offered to the public.

"It is the sense of the board of directors that the theatre could not have been ready had it not been for the efforts of these men individually and collectively, and it wishes to record its gratitude to each of them in behalf of the Association.

"Resolved, further, that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the official minutes of the board of directors and that we extend to each member of the building committee our heartfelt thanks.
