

NewsOfThe Week At Grammar School

Mr. John Howell, principal of the Boone Demonstration School, has announced the student teaching assignments for the spring quarter. They are as follows:

First grades, Miss Betty Louise Holt and Miss Barbara Ann Griffin; Second grades, Miss Patricia Bevil and Miss Myrin Fleming; Third grades, Miss Doris Rucker and Miss Bessie Barringer; Fourth grades, Miss Bea Sanford, Mrs. Florence Songer and Miss Evelyn Young; Fifth grades, Mrs. Dorothy McLean Blue and Mr. Irvin Crews; Sixth grades, Miss Jean Rainey and Miss Frances Hinkle; Seventh grades, Miss Billie Ladd.

The following students are doing honor and substitute teaching:

Miss Ruby Holland, Miss Selly Kivett, Miss Elizabeth Sheffleton, Miss Betty Jackson, Miss Louise Simpson.

Mrs. Cottrell's First Grade

Miss Betty Louise Holt from Ashboro, N. C. is our student teacher for the spring quarter. We are glad to have her.

We have completed our unit on "Community Helpers." Some of the helpers which we have studied are: Doctor, Nurse, Policeman, Milk Man, Garbage Man, Laundry Man, Ambulance Driver, and others.

Our Spring Mural is in the making. It shows clouds, flowers, and boys flying kites.

Mrs. Broome's Third Grade

Students from the college have just finished an interesting unit on transportation.

David Dougherty was our chairman for news and interesting facts for the past week. Burl Tugman has been chosen for next week.

Eva Danay Erneston had a very good report to present to the class of her trip over the week end to Durham.

Elaine Wagner made an attractive bulletin board of materials she brought from Florida.

We are working on a new Spring bulletin board.

Claude Lewis was chosen last week as being the most outstanding student in the room, qualifications being: cooperation, neatness, politeness, and good working habits.

Sue Anne Allen, Gail Triplett, Chester Cutlers, Carolyn Mastans and Gwyn Michael have had charge of the devotionals for the past week.

The girls and boys are having an attendance contest.

We made a tour of the college library Thursday afternoon. Sue Anne Allen's father showed us over the building. We learned that there were approximately 60,000 books and that they were receiving 300 different magazines and 25 newspapers. We went to the cataloging room and also learned where the children's books stayed. This was our first visit among our tour of the college buildings. We wrote thank-you letters, drew pictures of the library and are drawing a map of the college with the different buildings which we plan to visit before school is out.

The class gave an interesting program Friday afternoon with every person in the room participating. Some made airplanes, puppets and other interesting objects, some gave reports and others contributed with stores, read or told, poems or news of visits outside of Boone and North Carolina.

Mr. Lashure's Sixth Grade
Miss Jean Rainey is our practice teacher for the spring quarter. We gave a party for Miss Betty Jackson, our substitute teacher,

Friday afternoon.

Mr. Day's Seventh Grade

New officers were elected by the school Safety Patrol this week. From the seventh grade, Betty Hollar was elected captain. Geraldine Honeycutt, June Lee Robbins, and Henry Main were elected lieutenants. Patsy Houck was elected lieutenant from the sixth grade.

Retiring officers who have done an excellent job are Geraldine Moody, captain; Patsy Wilcox, Margaret Wood, and Jerry McCracken, lieutenants.

RETAIL SALES

Retail sales in January amounted to $13,000,000,000, ten per cent more than in the same month a year ago, according to the Commerce Department. January sales, adjusted for seasonal influences, were 1 per cent below the December level, due principally to a decline in sales of soft goods during the month.
