Garden Time

By ROBERT SCHMIDT
During the dormant season we should examine our shrubs and fruit trees closely to see if they are infested with scale insects. If you do not know what scale insects look like, call in your county agent or some horticultural friend who is familiar with them. If your trees are infested with scale it is important that you do something about it.

Scale insects are very small sucking insects that attach themselves to the twigs, leaves, and branches of shrubs and trees and proceed to suck the life out of them. As soon as they are attached to the twig they construct a tough scale covering over themselves for protection. That is why they are called scale insects. The scales are usually white or gray in color.

In order to kill the insects it is necessary to use a spray material that will penetrate the scale covering. Such a spray would be too strong to use during the growing season because it would also damage the plants. Therefore, we must spray for scale insects during the dormant season when the plants are not growing and deciduous trees are free of leaves. The miscible oils, such as Volck and Scalecide, and lime-sulphur solutions, are effective in controlling scale insects when used according to the manufacturers' directions. Oil sprays should not be used in freezing weather. Because of its fungicidal action, especially on peach trees, it is preferred to use lime-sulphur spray late in the dormant season.

Also, at this time of the year we may find a number of spindle shaped cocoons or "bags" hanging on the twigs of our narrowleaved evergreens. Many of these "bags" contain eggs of the bagworm which will hatch out into caterpillars in early summer. These caterpillars will eat the foliage of the evergreens and will protect themselves by spinning new bags in which they live while they feed. Later in the summer they will change to adults and the females will lay eggs in their cocoons. For control of bagworms all cocoons on the trees or shrubs during the winter season should be picked off and destroyed. During the summer the caterpillars may be killed with a DDT spray or an arsenical spray.

Three Boone Men Enlist In Navy

It was announced today that three young men from the Boone area are now in the Navy and are taking training in the Great Lakes Naval Training Center, in Illinois. The new recruits are David Maston Warren, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Warren of Sugar Grove, John Clyde Ragan, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Ragan, of Route 2, Boone and Jerry Lewis Trivette, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Trivette of Rominger. These young men will train for nine weeks and then will take their places in the Navy either on a ship or shore station it was pointed out by Steelman, the local Navy Recruiter.

It was also announced today by the Recruiter that the Navy Recruiters would be in the postoffice three days a week starting as of now. The days will be each Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. The new days were made possible by another recruiter being assigned to the area. The new recruiter is Joseph Hahn, Quarter Master, First Class, USN, and is a veteran of twelve years in the navy. Men interested in a career in the navy are requested to contact Hahn or Steelman at the Postoffice in Boone on the days mentioned above.

SILVER LINING
Wife (at desk)—I've been asked for a reference for our last maid. I've said she's lazy, unpunctual and impertinent. Now, can I add anything in her favor?
Husband—"You might say that she's got a good appetite and sleeps well."

Questions And Answers On Farm Problems

QUESTION: Is there any way that I can estimate how much milk a young cow will give at maturity?
ANSWER: Yes. So-called "age conversion factors" not only can help a farmer decide whether a young milk cow is worth keeping but also her sire's desirability as a breeding animal. Farmers can obtain a table giving the conversion factors from U. S. D. A.

QUESTION: Why do eggs packed with large end up grade higher?
ANSWER: Because when eggs are packed with small end up, the yolk has a tendency to rise, causing the egg to grade lower when candled. To grade "A" or better, an egg must have a well-centered yolk.

QUESTION: How does North Carolina rank among other states as far as agriculture is concerned?
ANSWER: In cash income from agriculture, North Carolina ranked fourth among the states in 1953. However, this state has the largest farm population in the nation and ranks second only to Texas in the number of farms.

QUESTION: Are the organized feeder calf sales a good place to buy beef calves in North Carolina?
ANSWER: Yes. For one thing the animals sold in these sales are uniform in quality and type. They have been selected by experts who know their business and each animal will have been dehorned, vaccinated and castrated.

QUESTION: What happens to the money set aside for soil conservation if farmers fail to use

ANSWER: The money is turned back to the general fund of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. On July 31 this year North Carolina farmers had nearly $5 million of federal funds approved for conservation practices; a recent check showed that less than $1 million has been used, or reported on.

QUESTION: Some insect is cutting twigs off my pecan trees. What is it and what can I do?
ANSWER: The insect is known as the twig girdler. The only practical control is to pick up and burn the twigs as they fall. These twigs contain eggs, so by burning the twigs you can destroy eggs that would hatch more beetles for next year. You will also need to burn twigs from hickory and persimmon trees as the same insect attacks these two trees as well.

COMPROMISE
A girl dismissed her sweetheart with the statement that she could not think of marrying him until he had a few thousand dollars. A few months later she met him and asked him how much he had saved up.
"Thirty-five dollars," was the reply.
"Well," she said with a blush, "I guess that's near enough."

Secretary of Agriculture Benson has disclosed the Eisenhower Administration is considering permitting the sale of surplus butter and other farm products to the Soviet Union.

- 2,500 Gallons (outside) no sewer .....$1.50
- 2,500 Gallons (outside) with sewer ....$1.75
