Church Meeting At Blowing Rock
The second annual Consistory-men's Conference of the Evangelical and Reformed Church will convene Friday, September 9, and continue through noon Sunday at the Blowing Rock Assembly Grounds. Registration will begin at 5 p. m. Friday with the opening message at 7:30 p. m. by the Rev. Dr. Harvey A. Fesperman, president of the Southern Synod.
Dr. Allen S. Meek, president of the theological seminary at Lancaster, Pa., will deliver two sermons on "The Marks of the Superior—the Man," and "The Marks of the Christian—the Steward."
Other leaders for the week end conference will include four of the laymen of the church: Harold Isenberg of First Church, Salisbury; Edwin Hanford and Calton Day of First Church, Burlington, who will represent the committee on stewardship; and Dr. Aaron R. Tosh, pastor of First Church, Landis, and past president of the synod who will represent the committee on Christian education and publication along with the Rev. Lawrence N. Strunk, pastor of St. John's Church, Kannapolis.
The Rev. Mr. Strunk will have the closing message at 11:15 a. m. Sunday.
Delegates from 71 Evangelical and Reformed Churches throughout the state are expected to attend.

Special Service Set By Graham
A special service will be conducted Friday evening at 7:30, at the Gospel Tabernacle by Rev. Dan Graham and two faculty members from the Graham Bible Institute, Bristol, Tenn.
The service will be designed to complete plans for an extension class of the Bible Institute in Boone.
Rev. F. Burton Toms, Dean of the Institute, will teach a Bible course and Leonard Alred, art teacher, will conduct a course in visual aids.
These courses should give the church member a better understanding of the Bible and to train Sunday School teachers and youth workers for better service.
Those interested in the classes are asked to be present. Everyone is welcome.
Steel output falls short of records for July.

White Christmas Seen By Farm Forecasters
Lancaster, Pa. — While everybody else is living it up over Labor Day, satisfied to let it go at that, the seers of this Pennsylvania Dutch never-never land are forecasting a white Christmas.
That's what happens hereabouts when people start looking ahead, not resentfully to the onset of another work week, but the winter.
Now what else do they see when they peer past the fluttering leaves of the Indian summer calendar?
If you take it from the high prophets in a picturesque region where it seems that every other man is something of a Nostradamus, the American winter is going to be mild. Most of it, anyway. And the Christmas snowfall may be the heaviest of the season in many regions.
January will be the coldest month. February, especially the last part, will be humid, rainy and in the end, rough on man and beast.
These forecasts are based on study of the planets, the reflexes of squirrels, the habits of woodpeckers, and in suitable time, on how woolly the woolly bears become.
One of the foremost prophets, using a system he says cannot be simplified, is Samuel H. Miller, an official of the Water and Sewer Department in nearby Mount Joy. For 16 years he has been foretelling the weather, winning the reputation of being right 80 to 85 per cent of the time.
Miller relies on the planets. This year he observed that the seven planets, in the first three weeks of August, moved in the Zodiac sign of Leo. Leo, being a fiery sign, has great drawing power. That means the planets can't whirl off into space as if they were free agents. Obviously, when a planet is close to a fiery sign, the climate isn't going to be very cold.
Miller's is a highly complex gift, and if he falls short of a full explanation of his art, that's because he's both stymied by his own virtuosity and disinclined to give away secrets.
Anyway, he figures that this fall will bring more hurricanes than last year; that some areas will have earthquakes; that you may count on a white Christmas; that November and December will be normal in rainfall and temperature; that January will be bitter; and that February and March will be moderate.

Mrs. Myrtle Taylor is recovering nicely from an operation at the Watauga hospital.
Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Collis Parlier Sunday were Mrs. R. H. Grant, Mrs. Straley Rurgin, Mary and Mike, and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Grant, all of Old Fort, N. C.
A household shower in honor of Mrs. Alice Parlier Grant was sponsored by Mrs. Clyde Howell. Mrs. Grant received many useful gifts. Mrs. Grant is leaving soon for a trip to Old Fort where she will visit her husband parents for a few days.
Mr. Ernest Brown is having a new tool house built on his lot. We are glad to have Mr. and Mrs. Brown and their fine son as neighbors.
The new Baptist Church is well on the way. Now everyone is very proud to have the new church in this end of Boone.
Cpl. Jimmy J. Grant left for New Jersey Monday for Germany. Mr. Zeb Farthing is home after a short stay in Watauga hospital.

Cemetery Work
Thursday afternoon, September 15, has been set for work on the Old Mt. Pleasant cemetery. Those interested are asked to be present.

Says Pasture Best Nutrient
Any livestock man will tell you that pasture is your cheapest source of nutrients, says Marvin E. Senger, extension dairy specialist at State College.
He says that Dr. R. E. Hodgson, chief of USDA's Dairy Husbandry Research Branch, recently released data showing that the cost of producing 100 pounds of total digestible nutrients in pasture is only about one-third as much as for hay; one-half that of corn silage; and one-third that of wheat grain.
Unfortunately the livestock man cannot use the same plant the year around for the best growth and pasture yield, Senger says. He needs small grains and crimson clover for fall, winter, and early spring; and Ladino clover and orchard grass for late spring, early summer, and early fall. Blue grass also does its best during spring and fall.
Usually these crops will need some help during the summer. Alfalfa and lespedeza may help fill this gap. Such annual crops as Sudan grass, millet, and soybeans provide good summer grazing.
Supplemental grazing helps avoid over-grazing permanent pasture and gives it a chance to get off to a good start next spring. If

GEE, DAD, YOU'RE SWELL!

It is a wise father who takes time out now and then to be chummy with his boy and to participate in his sports. The lad in the picture beams his pleasure as his dad prepares to "pitch him a few."

The bond of companionship between a good father and his son is one of the most helpful influences that can come into the life of a boy. Boys who enjoy such companionship seldom go astray.

What a striking contrast we observe in the other picture! Guilt and fear are written on the face of the boy with the stolen fruit. He has started on the long and painful road that leads to disaster.

Juvenile delinquency is one of the great social problems of our time. Unwholesome influences are abroad in the world to lead children astray. Without parental guidance, many of them drift into evil ways.

Parents need the help of God and the counsel of the Church in meeting this responsibility.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and social support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
