Mrs. Chiquita Cox and Mrs. Marvin Miller spent last week end in Savannah, Georgia. Bobby Black of Johnson City, Tenn., spent the week end in the Miller home.

Miss Helen Underdown spent Sunday in Linville at Carolina Inn with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Anderson. Mrs. Anderson is the former Miss Catherine Clarke of Miami, and Blowing Rock, a friend and neighbor of Miss Underdown for a number of years.

Mr. and Mrs. Bee Lawrence of Cincinnati, Ohio, are visiting this week with his brothers, Drs. Ray and Jack Lawrence. Other guests of the Drs. Lawrence and Dr. and Mrs. E. T. Glenn are Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hettinger and son, Chris of Cincinnati.

On Saturday afternoon, October 1, in the Boone Methodist Church, Miss Sarah Lind Dowling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace O'Neal Dowling, was married to Lieutenant Clarence B. Craig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ballard Craig of Cincinnati, Ohio.

The double ring ceremony was performed at four thirty o'clock by the Reverend Everette H. Lowman.

Church decorations were in green and white. The aisles leading to the altar were outlined with clusters of white asters, ferns, and white satin bows. The altar was backed with palms and seven-branched candelabra. The altar itself was marked by a white lectern on which lay an open Bible, a gift from the grandmother of the groom. Single cathedral tapers stood on each side of this, and similar pedestals with tapers stood on each side of the kneeling cushion for the bride and groom.

Prior to the ceremony, a quartette from Appalachian State Teachers College consisting of Allene Quinn, Mary Alva Cole, David Wingate, and Jerry Hill, under the direction of Mrs. Virginia Wary Linney, sang "I Love You Truly." Mr. Wingate sang "If I Could Tell You," and "The Lord's Prayer" was sung as the benediction with soprano solo by Miss Queen accompanied by the quartette. Mr. James Rooker, organist, played "Claire de Lune" during the ceremony. The traditional professional and recessional wedding marches were used.

Mr. Craig attended his son as best man. Ushers were William Taylor Payne, cousin of the bride, Jim Beyrd of Cincinnati, Ohio, A. E. Hamby, Jr., Boone, Robert Ross, Jr., Greenville, N. C., Joe Hamby Clawson, Lenoir, and Malcolm McInnis, Florida, cousins of the bridegroom.

Cousins of the bride chosen as junior ushers were Bruce and Jeffrey Ellis, Washington, D. C., Jack Martin Thomas and Frank Mast Payne, Jr., Boone.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a Maurer original wedding gown of imported hand clipped Chantilly lace over satin. Chantilly lace formed the long-sleeved bodice which extended into an applied neckline. Her bouffant skirt flowed into a lace-aped cathedral train. Her Juliet crystallite dress with matching accessories and a pink orchid corsage.

The reception immediately following the ceremony, was given by the parents at their home.

Leaving on a southern wedding trip, the bride wore a light beige sheath dress with matching coat, brown accessories, and a brown orchid corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Robert E. Lee High School and attended Appalachian State Teachers College in Boone. Mr. Hess was graduated from Fishburne Military School, Waynesboro, Va.

The rehearsal party was entertained by Mrs. Carl Keys at the Ingleside Hotel. The bride honored her attendants with a luncheon at the Triangle Tea Room.

Junior bridesmaid was Miss Pamela Hamby of Boone, cousin of the bridegroom. Her violet gown and headpiece were fashioned after that of the honor attendant. Her escort was Johnnie Payne of Boone, cousin of the bride.

Flower girl was Sara Lou Hagaman, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. D. Hagaman of Boone. She wore a dress of Mayflower crystallite with velvet bow and bouffant skirt.

Mrs. Craig attended Appalachian State Teachers College where she majored in Primary Education. She was a member of the College Chorus and of Pi Kappa Delta, National Forensic Fraternity.

Lieutenant Craig, a graduate of Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, received his B. S. degree in Business Administration. He is a member of Delta Upsilon Fraternity, having served his chapter as vice-president. After the completion of two years in the Air Force, he will enter business with his father who is a furniture manufacturer's Representative in Cincinnati, Ohio.

For travel the bride changed to a plum-colored wool suit with velvet collar and matching hat. Her accessories were beige.

After a two-weeks honeymoon in New York City and Bermuda, Lieutenant and Mrs. Craig will make their home at Moses Lake in Washington State where Lieutenant Craig is stationed with the Air Force.

Brinkley-Hess Vows Are Said

The marriage of Miss Josephine Anne Brinkley to Mr. Richardson Borthwick Hess took place at the First Baptist Church in Staunton, Virginia.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Abe Bressman of Staunton, and Mr. Gurney Brinkley of Spruce Pine; the bridegroom is a son of Mrs. Roy Wenger of Staunton, and the late Mr. John Allen Hess, II.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the pastor of the church, the Rev. R. Carrington Paulette, before an altar banked with palms, floor baskets of gladiolas, majestic daisies, and asters in all shades of pink. The candelabras held tall pink tapers.

A program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. J. C. Ruff, organist, and Miss Betty Collins, soloist.

Given in marriage by her step-father, the bride wore a gown of blue pink imported chantilly lace and tulle over taffeta. The long torso bodice was complemented with rows of shirred tulle, forming a softly draped portrait neckline and shoulder effect. The very full bouffant skirt was arched with panels of imported tulle set in a full length panel of chantilly lace in front and back, with the back panels extending into the chapel train. With this she used long lace mitts. Her fingertip veil of imported blush pink illusion fell from a star shaped, shirred tulle crown, studded with rhinestones and tiny seed pearls.

She carried a crescent shaped bouquet of pale pink sweetheart roses and stephenotis centered with rubrum lilies.

Maid of honor was Miss Zelda Simon of Staunton; the matron of honor was Mrs. William C. Lawson of Blowing Rock. They were ballerina length dresses of silk crystallite over taffeta of candlelight pink. They were designed with a softly draped bodice and torso waist, the very full skirts paneled with net. Worn with this was a brief bolero and matching mitts. Their crowns of matching crystallite were adorned with pale pink roses. They carried cascading bouquets of pink roses.

The bridesmaids were Miss Patricia Shiffitt, and Mrs. Richard Burnett of Staunton, and Mrs. Richard F. Pharr of Charlottesville, Va. They wore dresses identical to those of the honor attendants in coralite pink crystallite, and their bouquets were cascades of pale pink asters centered with roses.

The bridegroom's best man was Mr. Robert W. Stevens of Staunton. Ushers were Messrs. Russell M. McKay, Charles B. Dull, William L. Burnett, all of Staunton; and William B. Gates, III, of Waynesboro.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Bressman chose a tunic dress of Cotillion blue peau de soie. With this she used iridescent blue accessories and pink hat. Her corsage was pale pink roses.

Mrs. Wenger wore a navy blue crystallite dress with matching accessories and a pink orchid corsage.

The reception immediately following the ceremony, was given by the parents at their home.

Leaving on a southern wedding trip, the bride wore a light beige sheath dress with matching coat, brown accessories, and a brown orchid corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Robert E. Lee High School and attended Appalachian State Teachers College in Boone. Mr. Hess was graduated from Fishburne Military School, Waynesboro, Va.

The rehearsal party was entertained by Mrs. Carl Keys at the Ingleside Hotel. The bride honored her attendants with a luncheon at the Triangle Tea Room.

Wedding Reception

Following the wedding of Miss Sara Lind Dowling and Lieut. C. B. Craig, Jr., on October 1, a reception was given in their honor by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Payne, uncle and aunt of the bride, at their home in Cherry Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Payne welcomed the guests in the foyer which was decorated in pink and silver. The entire wedding party received in the living room where flower arrangements complimenting the wedding bouquets and dresses were used. In the den where Mrs. Carlos DeLima and Mrs. A. E. Hamby, Sr. presided at the bride's register, bronze and gold flowers accented the antique paneling of the room.

Mrs. W. T. Payne, Sr. showed the guests to the recreation room where the gifts were displayed. Assisting there were Mr. and Mrs. James Council and Dr. and Mrs. William Matheson. Mrs. Richard Kelley ushered the guests to the dining room where Mrs. Council Cooke, Mrs. L. D. Hagaman, Miss Janet Sue Houck, Miss Judy McGinnis, and Miss Karen Bishop presided.

Luncheon For Miss Dowling

On Tuesday, September 27, Miss Sara Lind Dowling, bride-elect, was honored at a luncheon given by Mrs. Ralph Winkler and Mrs. James Winkler at the Daniel Boone Hotel.

The table was centered with a gold wedding ring on a base of yellow and gold calendulas. Small arrangements of yellow tuberous begonias marked the places of the honor guests, and gold and white place cards of bridal design were used.

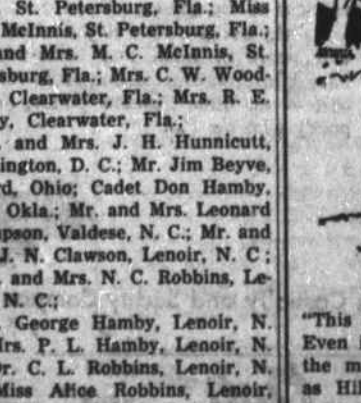

The hostesses presented the honoree with a crystal juice pitcher.

Rehearsal Dinner

On Friday evening, September 30, following the rehearsal of the wedding of Miss Sara Lind Dowling and Lieutenant C. B. Craig, Jr., the wedding party and out-of-town guests were entertained by the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence B. Craig of Concinatti, Ohio at a buffet dinner at the Watauga Inn in Blowing Rock.

Wedding punch was served as the guests approached the buffet table. At the entrance to the main dining room on a small table was arranged a clever wedding scene consisting if a tiny church with a miniature bride and groom coming out.

Paul Said To Mr. Ed:

The frail old lady fell and broke a leg. The doctor put it in a cast and warned her not to walk up or downstairs, recounts Dick. After several months of healing, the doctor removed the cast.

"Can I climb the stairs now?" she asked.

"Sure," said the doctor. "I'm tired of climbing up and down the drainpipe."
