Linville, June 24—Crowds estimated at 30,000 plus a day free of rain spelled success in a big way for the 32nd annual "Singing on the Mountain" at Grandfather

Mountain near here today, Many among the huge throng wandered to the shade trees at the edge of the meadow to escape the sun. The temperature, as reported by Grandfather Mountain Weather station, reached a high of 74.

The event here is the largest and ldest mountain musical event in the Southern Appalachians.

Joe L. Hartley of Linville, 85year-old founder and chairman of the mountain religious singing convention, termed it the largest crowd and the "best singers" of all.

Featured musical performers were the Blue Ridge Quartet of radio, television and recording fame. Other musical groups and personalities included Bascom Lamar Lunsford of South Turkey Creek, "the minstrel of the Appalach-Banjo Picker George Pegram, the Liberty Quartet, the Quartet, Joe Franklin Quartet, Watson Quartet, Conover Quartet and Happy John Coffey.

D. Hiden Ramsey of Asheville, retired newspaper executive and civic leader, delivered the principal address. Rep. Charles R. Jonas of Lincolnton of the 10th N. C. Congressional District also spoke.

Mr. Ramsey called attention to the fact that persons of many religious beliefs, different political parties, and varied professions and occupations assembled each year at "Singing on the Mountain" to share in the expression of two common convictions, which he listed as fear of God and love of coun-

Mr. Ramsey went on to say that mountains have played an impor-tant part in the history of the world since its creation. He called attention to Noah's Ark resting on a mountain top, the presentation of the Ten Commandments on Mount Sinai, and the temptation of Jesus by the devil on the mountain crest.

More than 50 preachers of various denominations spoke from platforms and boulders spotted about the Grandfather field during the day. Principal sermon was de livered by the Rev. Edward Honey

Is Held Sunday

Fred Shull, 39, of Sugar Grove, died Sunday, June 24, in Watauga Hospital following a cerebral hem-cutt of Lenoir.

A special detail of 14 State Highway Patrolmen and 10 Blue Ridge Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. Tuesday, June 26, at the Wil-low Valley Baptist Church. Of-Parkway Rangers kept traffic mov-ing well on the parkway and U. S. 221 near the singing grounds. No mishaps had been reported by late ficiating ministers were the Rev. R. C. Eggers, the Rev. W. C. Payne, and the Rev. Bynum Trivette. Burial was in the Shull cemetery.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Jettie Shull, a son, Jerry, and four daughters, Maxie Lee, Nancy, Carol, Patricia Ann, all of the home; six brothers, Simon, Jin and Bill Shull, all of Sugar Grove in Deep Gap about 65 years ago Arliss Shull, Winston-Salem, Saland was, I am told, related to the Shull, Valle Crucis; a half-brothe Foster family. His daughter, when living here, told me that Jack, her sisters, Mrs. Jessie Cannon, Ter father, stuck a walking stick in nessee, Mrs. Mattie Rominger the ground and found soft dirt Rominger, Mrs. Eula James, Vall which was Laura Foster's grave Crucis, Mrs. Mamie Yates, where her body had been put by inger, and Mrs. Ethel Yates, Vall Tom Dula and Ann Melton after Crucis.

She also said that "her grave had CHURCH OBSERVES 175th been set out with trees or plants YEAR

Elizabethtown, Ky.—The Severns Valley Baptist Church, organized on June 18, 1871, in a wilderne that posed a constant threat of Indian attacks on the white settlers, recently celebrated its 175th birthday. John Garrard, the first pastor of the church which had 18 persons on its first membership roll, was killed in an Indian raid. The church now has a member ship of 2,000 and recently moved into a new $500,000 building.

The Little Leaguers began to round into shape as they continu ed to show great interest in playing baseball. Two games were played in the 9-12 year group where the competition was equal among the participants. The 13-14 year old group also played two games which were very interesting and hard played.

Next week the 9-12 year olds will be separated into three separate teams that will be permanent the remainder of the summer. They will be divided according to their ability so each team will be evenly matched.

Soil Bank Meet Is Held Friday

A meeting called by M. L. She pard of the county ASC office was held last Friday in the courthouse to explain to Watauga farmers the local application of the national adtration's Soil Bank.

General aspects of the plan were iscussed, and an informal, tapeded interview with officials of the N. C. Department of Agri culture was heard. It was stressed, however, that farmers should come to the ASC office individually and have the plan explained as it applies to Key personnel attending the meeting were L. E. Tuckwiller, county agent; Dave Minton and B. W. Farthing of the county ASC committee; Howard Williams of the Soil Conservation Service; W. R. Vines, Grange; Robert Shipley
