CHICKS THAT ARE BRED TO LAY—To have profitable layers is the breeding that counts! According to Dept. of Agriculture reports, chicks that grow into the best producing layers come from flocks that have been bred to lay. That's why leading poultrymen throughout the Carolinas are choosing FCX chicks—and because FCX-bred flocks lay 50 per cent higher than the national average—over 250 eggs per bird each year! These flocks are constantly tested and culled by FCX poultry specialists. FCX hatcheries use the most up-to-date methods in maintaining standards to hatch out superior chicks. FCX chicks come to you U. S. inspected and certified—pullorum clean. You are assured of the highest quality—healthier, bigger, better offspring—ready to grow into top profit producers. For a solid foundation to a profitable poultry business, remember always to buy the quality breeds—Parmerster Reds, New Hampshire, FCX Sex Links, and Harco Reds. Watauga FCX Service, S. Water St., Boone. 1c
