New Enlistees In Marine Corps

For his own sake, it is important to find a Marine's mettle early in his career. That is Marine boot training is tough, bringing out the best in every recruit.

Marine Tech. Sgt. Bill Oliver, local recruiter who works out of the Boone postoffice every Wednesday morning told this to some of the local youths last month.

Two of them, James H. Hollars and Curtis R. Baird, decided they could take anything the Marines could dish out. They enlisted and are now at Parris Island, South Carolina going through recruit training.

Young Baird is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Baird of Blowing Rock and is a graduate of Blowing Rock High School.

Young Hollars is the son of Mrs. Earlean Hollars of Blowing Rock and also attended Blowing Rock High School.

Both boys enlisted for four years.

GETTING IN THE ACT Detroit, Mich. — Ten-year-old Desmond McDuffee had an argument with his widowed mother and decided to return to his former home in Memphis, Tenn.

Desmond got out his mother's car and left. Two miles from home, fourteen damaged parked cars, one flattened fence and one equally flattened back porch later, police flushed him out of hiding under a nearby pile of cartons only to be told by Desmond: "I ain't talking. I'm taking the Fifth Amendment."

Two Sunday Services Planned By Baptists

Pastor L. H. Hollingsworth reported virtually an overflow crowd in the morning worship service in the First Baptist Church here. In view of the fact that upperclassmen had not arrived of the ASTC campus plus the expectation of large numbers of local people, the Deacons and other church leaders, in emergency sessions Sunday afternoon quickly came to the conclusion that two worship services would in all likelihood be necessary to accommodate all who wanted to attend.

Appalachian's enrollment will break all records this year and, as always, the largest number of students will be Baptists. Last year of approximately 1900 students more than 1200 were Baptists. It is expected that this year's student body will have even more Baptists in it.

The remaining part of the Sunday program for the Baptist church here will include Training Union activities for all ages at 8:15 p. m., followed by a regular worship service at 7:30 every Sunday night.

Trees Should Be Cut When Ripe

Too often trees are cut when they are making their most rapid increase in value.

Sometimes this is justified by high market prices or by the owner's need for cash, says R. S. Douglass, forestry specialist for the N. C. Agricultural Extension Service.

"Frequently, however, the owner takes a real loss by cutting the trees too soon," Douglass added. "Often a pine that is cut for pulpwood or small sawlogs would have doubled its value in 10 years."

Douglass also points out that selective cutting brings in cash returns every few years, keeps the forest growing at top speed, and allows larger harvest when markets are especially good.

The owner may find it difficult at first to determine which trees are ready for cutting. But with help from a forester and a little practice he can soon do a good job.

"The timber owner should regard his timber as a crop to harvest frequently," Douglass said. "By selective cutting he can harvest high-value sawlogs every five to 10 years and at the same time keep fast growing young trees to replace those cut."

this is the Quad... THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH The Church is the greatest factor of each for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
