

Thanksgiving Theme Blowing Rock School

Displayed prominently throughout the school on classroom and hall bulletin boards, themes for Thanksgiving set the atmosphere at Blowing Rock Schools. Students and teachers joined together in preparing the displays.

A program of Thanksgiving music featuring the glee club and band, directed by Fred Poplin, will climax the school's observance of Thanksgiving.

Storie Attends Meeting

Principal James M. Storie left Monday night for Raleigh to meet with the Legislative Committee of the North Carolina Education Association. Serving on two committees, Storie will represent the principal's division of the N. C. E. A. as well as the legislative arm of the N. C. E. A.

Accreditation Sought

Blowing Rock's school personnel, county administration, school committee, and parent-teachers association continue the campaign to meet the State's requirements for elementary schools.

Maps, globes, phonographs and other equipment have recently been added to the elementary school. Other necessary supplies have been ordered to fulfill the standards set by the state.

Supervisor Visits School

Working closely with Blowing Rock's personnel, Mrs. Dessie Mae Edmisten spent Monday in the school helping to arrange an instructional program which will help Blowing Rock to meet state requirements.

Class Activities

Mrs. Bee Winkler's sixth grade observed American Education Week by preparing a bulletin board highlighting themes by the students. "What an Education Means to Me" was the topic of the themes.

The following parents visited Mrs. Winkler's class: Mrs. Jones Miller, Edith Harman, Ernest Hayes, Ariene Smith, Carter Lentz, and Parks Knight.

Thanksgiving day bulletin boards in Mrs. Winkler's class reflected the research done by the class to find the story behind the original Thanksgiving. While one committee found the facts about the first observance of Thanksgiving, another committee drew large pictures to illustrate the story.

In Mrs. Hollar's class there were some changes in enrollment. Tonzi Whitaker moved to Florida, while Jimmy Harrison came to the second grade from California.

The second and third grade students in Mrs. Hollar's room joined the observance of Thanksgiving by making a bulletin board consisting of turkeys and pumpkins.

Mrs. Hollar's room was visited by the following parents during the recent open house: Messrs. Harry Robbins, Boyd Williams, Bruce Greene, and by Mrs. Harry Robbins, Boyd Williams, Arnold Bolick, Allen Craig, Richard Gragg, Glenn Teague, Jackie Stillwell, Victorie Buchanan, Charles Greene, and Thomas Klutz.

Representatives Of Watauga At Safety Meeting

The Governor's Traffic Safety Council held its fifth annual meeting in Raleigh Friday "to take stock of where we stand," according to Motor Vehicles Commissioner Ed Scheidt.

Some 40 persons, including four representatives from Watauga county, attended the session in the Highway Building Auditorium.

Sheriff E. M. Hodges, Blowing Rock Chief of Police Lewis Hodge, Traffic Safetyman Don McCracken of the college, and Mayor R. B. Hardin of Blowing Rock took part in the council.

Mr. Scheidt, who presided, talked informally about legislation he will recommend for improved traffic safety. Some of the recommendations include an increase in the number of highway patrolmen, chemical tests to determine intoxication of motorists and periodic inspection of motor vehicles.

The featured speaker was State Senator J. Spencer Bell of Charlotte, who is leading a movement to reform North Carolina's court system. His topic was: "Tar Heel Courts and Traffic Cases." An effort is being made to unify the codes of the various courts in the State having jurisdiction over traffic violations.

Other speakers included Dr. Charles F. Carroll, State superintendent of public instruction; Wallace Hyde, director of the driver improvement and accident records section of the State Motor Vehicles Department; and State Representative H. P. Taylor, Jr., of Wadesboro.

In 1959 North Carolinians are scheduled to set a total of 66,129 acres of land in trees.

Two Break-ins Mar County Quiet Over Past Week End

Sheriff E. M. Hodges reported two break-ins over the week end, one just west of Boone, and the other at Deep Gap.

The first robbery discovered was at Hilltop Drive-in. John Jackson, operator, upon opening his establishment Monday morning, discovered the place had been entered and a juke-box broken into and the money removed. An attempt had been made to get into the cigarette machine, but apparently was unsuccessful. Five dollars in pennies was missing from the cash register.

Entrance to the drive-in had been gained by "jimmying" the lock on a back door after cutting the screen door. Time of the robbery was placed sometime between midnight Sunday when the place was closed, and opening time Monday.

Myers Motel Service Station, at Deep Gap, was entered in almost the same way, except the front door was used, but the robbery was not discovered and reported until Monday afternoon. Missing from the station were tires and money from the cigarette machine.

The sheriff's department said Tuesday no arrests had been made in either of the two cases.
