Dr. Lazaron To Appear Again At Blowing Rock

Those who love good music and great preaching will be glad to learn that the Lazaron family will appear again at the Blowing Rock Methodist Church Sunday at 11:00 a. m.

This event is eagerly awaited each year by the community and many others. Dr. Lazaron has occupied this pulpit at least once each year for the past ten years.

Dr. Lazaron was born in Savannah, Ga., Southerner on both sides of the house, his father being born in Atlanta and his mother in New Orleans. On his mother's side, he is closely related to the notable Judah F. Benjamin, secretary of state of the Confederacy.

He traces his decents to Inh Daud, a notable rabbi of the 9th century.

Dr. Lazaron was educated in the Savannah schools, received his master of arts degree at the University of Cincinnati, and was ordained rabbi at Hebrew Union College in Cincinnati, the school for the training of liberal rabbis in America.

Rabbi Lazaron was in charge of the Baltimore Temple for 35 years. He retired from its pulpit in 1949. He was a chaplain in World War I and was one of four chaplains chosen to officiate at the burial of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington Cemetery on November 11, 1921.

He traveled extensively for various organizations in the early days of the National Conference of Christians and Jews; as a member of the first trio of ministers who toured the country in behalf of interfaith understanding. He was accompanied by Dr. Everett R. Clinchy and Father John Eliot Ross.

During the last war he went on several missions to England and the Continent. In 1955 he was one of three sent to investigate matters in the Middle East. The others were Dr. Harold Fey of the Christian Century, and John Cogley, editor of Commonwealth. Dr. Lazaron represented the Jewish Newsletter.

Dr. Lazaron is a prominent and prolific writer and has published several books of great importance. Among the books which he has written are, Seed of Abraham, Common Ground, Palestine and Jewish Nationalism, and Olive Trees in the Storm. In September or October of this year another book from his pen will be published by the Citadel Press. The title will be, Bridges—Not Walls.

He has also written numerous articles for leading magazines.

As a sort of sideline, Rabbi Lazaron has recently taken up painting. Many of his excellent pictures have been shown in Blowing Rock. A much more notable fact concerning the paintings is that he has given one-man exhibitions in both New York and Paris.

The other members of the group who will appear Sunday are Harold Lazaron and Samuel Thaviu, son and son-in-law respectively. Harold Lazaron is a graduate of Johns Hopkins University and the Peabody Institute of Music. He is now teaching in the Amherst High Schools and at Massachusetts State University. He is pursuing graduate studies at the Boston Conservatory of Music.

Mr. Thaviu is the son of a distinguished musical conductor of the famous Thaviu Band which was well-known throughout the country a quarter of a century ago. He was concert master of the Baltimore Symphony for several years. He has been concert master of the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra for the last ten years.

During the services, Harold Lazaron will play and sing an original composition, using the words of the 8th Psalm as his subject matter. Mr. Thaviu will play a violin solo, a Beethoven Romance. Mr. Lazaron will accompany him. Rabbi Lazaron will be the preacher of the hour, using as his subject, The Wonder of Life.

Know The Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Is there much difference in the length of daylight in various parts of the United States?

Yes. At various times of the year there is quite a difference. For example, at the Winter Solstice there will be more than an hour's difference in the length of daylight in Maine and Florida. Florida will see the sun more than an hour longer on that day.

Yet at the autumnal equinox, and the spring equinox, the hours of daylight are practically the same in the northern and southern states. As is the case in December, however, at the Winter Solstice, the hours of sunshine are quite different in the northern and southern areas in June—at the Summer Solstice.

Then the days in the north are longer.

HARD TO EXPLAIN

Centralla, Ill.—It took a lot of explaining, but Engineer Charlie Mathis finally convinced an Illinois Central Railroad dispatcher that his passenger train struck a camel near this small town.

When Mathis phoned in the accident report, the dispatcher asked if maybe he hadn't hit a pink elephant, too. It turned out the camel belonged to a circus set up too close to the tracks. The animal suffered only an injured leg.

Vacation Time Menus

By RUTH CURRENT
 (N. C. Agricultural Extension Service)

Vacation time, when children are always hungry, can be a happy, learning-to-cook time. With recipes geared to your children's skills and appealing to their youthful tastes, they can spend many hours creating their own meals.

These tested recipes give excellent results.

Cookies (pressed variety)—the kind to make when it rains and the hours seem long.

1 cup soft butter
 2/3 cup sugar
 3 egg yolks
 1 teaspoon vanilla
 2 1/2 cups sifted enriched self-rising flour

Preheat oven—400 degrees. (1) Cream butter and sugar. (2) Add egg yolks and vanilla. (3) Work in flour with hands. (4) Force dough through cookie press on ungreased baking sheet, using the shapes you like best. (5) Bake 7 to 10 minutes, until set but not brown. (6) Remove to cooling rack, using metal spatula. (Makes 6 dozen.)

One-dish dinner—made of drop biscuits cooked on top of creamed beef stew. Serve with a tossed salad on Mom's night off.

1-3 cups sifted enriched self-rising flour
 1-3 cup self-rising corn meal
 1-4 cup shortening
 1-2 to 1-3 cup milk
 Large can beef stew

Preheat oven—425 degrees. (1) Pour beef stew into a casserole dish and place in oven to heat. (2) Mix flour and corn meal together in bowl. (3) Cut in shortening with pastry blender, until mixture is crumbly. (4) Add milk to make a thick batter. (5) Drop spoonfuls of this batter on top of beef stew. (6) Bake about 25 minutes.
