outdoor terrace or porch should have two essentials: be har-monious with the house and not try to compete with nearby flow-ers or shrubs. It should be a comment to them and a link be tween the house and the garden From a functional standpoint, it should be comfortable.

Outdoor furniture is best done in solid colors or a stripe. Chairs and couches should be of the lounging sort, comfortable and Junior sizes-seven, nine eleven, etc-are created for the youthful figure. The line are shorter, arm opening and neck openings are smaller.

There are styles for the small; same size lines as the junior clothes, but more mature in style. The regular sizes-ten, twelve, fourteen, etc., are cut for the average size figure. More women fall into this group than any other. It is the most desirable group to be in, as you have a much larger choice of clothes. Then, there is another group of sizes designed for the mature, somewhat heavy figure. Lastly, there are a number of clothes houses that design for the really stout figure.

Investigate and decide exactly what group you are in. Never buy a dress or suit which will require extensive alterations. It is always a mistake. No matter how lovely you think the dress is, remember, you will look much smarter in a dress not quite so pretty, if it fits

STEVENSON HAILED

Gov. David L. Lawrence of Penn sylvania has expressed the view that Adlai E. Stevenson is the ablest man in either party to fill the office of President. He said Mr. Stevenson could not be count ed out of the running for 1960.

Governor Lawrence, who is expected to lead the second largest delegation to the Democratic National Convention next year, indicated that he would like to be for Mr. Stevenson. But he refused to say whether the seventy-four member Pennsylvania delegation would be committed in advance to the defeated standard-bearer of 1952 and 1956
