By PETE FRITCHIE
 Washington, D. C. — Ingemar Johansson has said that unless he obtains satisfactory explanations and accountings of the television receipts from the first Floyd Patterson-Johansson fight, he will seek in every legal way possible to invalidate his contract for a September match with Patterson.

Patterson, no longer the champion and no longer in the driver's seat, along with his big-talking manager, has wired Johansson seeking to ensure his chance for a return bout.

It will be recalled that Johansson was put through all sorts of legal complications and entanglements before he was allowed to fight Patterson in the United States the first time. He was sued by one American boxer, and Patterson's manager, Gus d'Amato was threatening to do all sorts of things.

Now the shoe is on the other foot, and if Johansson is not gaining satisfaction, or a full and complete accounting from the money men who handled the arrangements for the first fight, he is entitled to his turn at the legal technicalities and complications act.

In fairness to Patterson, it must be said that he did not engage in any of the shenanigans which are used so frequently by d'Amato. And, in giving Johansson his chance at the title, Patterson certainly deserves his chance to regain it.

Therefore, one cannot hope that Patterson is denied his chance, even though he may feel that the shoe is now on the other foot, and that some of those who were in charge of the first fight are getting their just due—now that Johansson is putting the pressure on them.

As far as the fight itself is concerned, it has been said before that Patterson will probably go in to it the favorite. With this diagnosis, we do not necessarily agree.

As before, it is probable that if Johansson lands one of his famous rights, Patterson may not be able to stand up under the punch. This has been the case with Johansson's opponent for the last three or four fights, and he has fought some tough men, including the European champion, Eddie Machen, and Patterson himself.

To win his title back, and be the first man in heavyweight boxing history who has done it, Patterson will have to put on a superb performance of dancing and staying away from the champion's right hand. Whether he can do this for fifteen rounds is certainly problematical.

Therefore, in our book, the champion will have to be the favorite until someone shows (and no one has done it in the last two years) that he can stay away from that right hand and win on points. We give Patterson about a fifty-fifty chance to do this, for he is an outstanding boxer, lightning-fast, and certainly not a stupid fighter. On the other hand, he is lighter than Johansson, and he will be in a regulation-sized ring.

Whether he can stay away from that right hand all night is certainly a big question.

Summer Campers Are Guests Of Local Lions

At the second bi-weekly meeting of the Boone Lions Club, on August 18, the following guests were present: Lion W. H. Batts, formerly of Boone and now sales agent for Esso Products in Henderson; Lee R. Bishop, Crescent City, Fla., guest of Lion D. J. Whitener; and Milton C. Jordan of Boone, production manager of the International Resistance Co., of Boone.

Some thirty-five of the 175 campers from Camp Yonahlossee, with Miss Helen Misenheimer of Winston-Salem, music counselor, presented a rich program of songs and dances. This program has come to be an annual event for the Lions, this being about the seventh or eighth annual appearance.

At the first meeting in September, Bill Ross, director of Horn in the West, and who plays the part of Dr. Stuart, will present some interesting aspects of the production and the season's performances. It is hoped that some new developments in the matter of membership and attendance may be forthcoming soon.

On August 26, Lion President Herman Wilcox and Lion Secretary C. A. Price attended a zone cabinet meeting in Morganton. Lion A. E. Hamby of Boone is zone chairman, and also attended. The zone consists of clubs in Boone, West Jefferson, Sparta, and North Wilkesboro.
