RIGHTS BILL DELAY
"House" backers of legislation to broaden the civil-rights law are conceding their hopes of action this year have almost vanished. They are blaming an unplanned combination of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and Southern Democrats.

FALSE ALARM
Boston—Police were summoned to the home of Mrs. Gussie Simmons because she heard "a loud noise and rattling of pans" in her kitchen.
Two policemen came to look for the prowler. They found two extremely hard-boiled eggs rattling around a waterless, red-hot pan. Mrs. Simmons then confessed that she put the eggs on to boil and then forgot them.

WIDE PUBLICITY—Baptist Hospital (in Winston-Salem) is doing "a magnificent job in many ways for North Carolina as a whole." Governor Luther H. Hodges, center, said in receiving from Brantley C. Booe, left of Winston-Salem, chairman of the hospital's board of trustees, a letter-bound copy of the current issue of the Reader's Digest. The magazine carries a story on the Hospital's Pastoral Care Program. At right is Dr. Richard K. Young, founder and director of the institution's Pastoral Care Department and School.

About Your Home

Statistics show that most accidents in the home result from carelessness. Something can be done about this!

Ladders are a "must" in every household, and should be used when washing windows, hanging curtains and cleaning walls and ceilings, etc. Many hard falls have resulted from a housewife using a chair or stool to perform such jobs.

The burners on gas stoves should be completely turned off when not lighted for use. Pilot lights should be high enough to remain burning even when gas is low.

When children are in the kitchen be sure that all of the pots cooking, are pushed to the back of the stove out of their reach.

Train children to pick up and put away their toys. Never allow toys to remain scattered over the floor as this is one of the greatest household hazards known.

Provide an attractive chest decorated with nursery figures as a storage place. Make the child feel that this chest is his and give him a feeling of responsibility for his toys and the important job of keeping them in place. Reminded often enough and in the proper way, most children will respond.

Stairways should always be well-lighted and uncluttered. Keep such things as razor blades, knives and scissors well out of children's reach.

Mark all poisons and store where there is no chance of children or adults getting them by mistake. Securely fasten window screens to keep children from falling out. Build gates at the top of porch

NEW HOUSING BILL

The Senate has approved a $1,050,000,000 substitute housing bill. It acted after having refused to send the measure back to committee, where it might have been killed for the remainder of this session of Congress.

The vote on final passage was 71 to 24.

It's soil testing time.

9:00 O'Clock Service Set

A 9:00 church worship service has been added to the Boone Methodist Church Sunday program, it was announced this week by the pastor, the Rev. Preston Hughes, Jr. The service is expected to be more or less informal, as time allotted for it will not be as long as the regular morning worship at 11:00 o'clock.

The need for such a program, which is being tried on a temporary basis, had been expressed by several people, and members of the official board gave approval of the plan in a called meeting last week.

Mr. Hughes said the service will not be designed to take the place of the regular service, but it may lead to less congestion at that service, especially when the college students return, beginning this week end. The same message will be preached by the pastor at both the services.

Trial of the extra service begins this Sunday.

CONSTERNATION!

Cambridge, Mass.—Newly married Mrs. John Bacon Munson assembled her bridesmaids and prepared to toss her bouquet.

Up went her arm, and up, up went the bouquet, landing on the roof of Cambridge Yacht Club.

Her husband and a guest retrieved the flowers and Mrs. Munson tried again. The second attempt was a perfect pitch.

Crane In Salute To Working Men, Women

By FRANK CRANE,
(Commissioner of Labor)

I am proud to salute the working men and women of North Carolina on this Labor Day—September 7, 1959.

I take pride in the enduring contributions which Tar Heel workers have made to the prosperity and progress of our State. Their efforts have been instrumental in effecting great improvements in wages and working conditions. Their active participation in civic, social, religious and political affairs has imparted balance and stability to the structure of the body politic. Labor's role in building a better and happier future for the people of our wonderful State is of inestimable value.

Labor Day, 1959, finds the more than 1,500,000 working people of North Carolina on the move and going places.

The State's industrial labor has increased at an annual rate of 24,000 during the past ten years. This phenomenal increase shows no sign of slowing down. Recession in business have caused some unemployment and temporary setback but Tar Heel labor has recovered rapidly from each downturn in the economy.

Ten years ago, in 1949, a total of 852,000 people were employed in non-farm work in North Carolina. Now there are 1,095,000 persons so employed. The economy of the State has gained 243,000 workers during the past decade.

One of the main reasons for this huge, long-term increase in employed labor is the magnificent growth of new and diversified industry which has taken place in the State since the end of World War II.

The labor force of North Carolina has been changing drastically, in composition for the last two generations. Once predominantly agrarian, the working population of the State is now 73 per cent non-agricultural. This is true despite the fact that North Carolina has more farms than any other state except Texas and possesses the nation's largest rural-dwelling population. Agriculture, however, is still basic in the State's economy. It may well be said that North Carolina has at present a favorable balance between industry and agriculture.

LABOR BOARD HEAD ENDORSED

The Senate Labor committee has approved the nomination of Boyd Leedon of South Dakota for a five-year term as chairman of the National Labor Relations Board. Mr. Leedon has been on the Labor Board since 1955 and has been renominated by President Eisenhower for a second term.
