By HERMAN WILCOB (President)
Post Office Driveway Approved
 The driveway into the Post Office off King Street is to be extended into Queen Street, thus eliminating the traffic problem that has been experienced in the past by the Highway Postoffice vehicles. Postmaster Lyle Cook advises us, the engineers have been here and discussed the matter with him and approved the plans. This is another project completed. Thanks Lyle, we appreciate the interest you took in the important project.

Official Opening Of Highway 603
 Plans for the official opening of Highway 603 are almost complete. The ribbon cutting, which will be held at 3:00 p. m. will highlight the affair. High officials from both states have accepted invitations.

The banquet will be held in the cafeteria of the Appalachian Elementary School, November 19 at 7:00 p. m. Those who wish to attend this affair are urged to secure your tickets at once from the ticket chairman, Stanley A. Harris, or the Chamber of Commerce, or others who have been named to distribute these tickets. Of course the ladies are welcome and are expected to attend.

Another Industry Feeler
 We keep getting new feelers for industries, and we confidently believe one will pay off in the near future. The last one is a type of industry that would employ only men, beginning with about 50, and having a peak employment of about 500. We shall do everything possible to get this one, since this is the type of industry we so desperately need.

Quarterback Club Has Glad Awakening

By RALPH TUGMAN (Democrat Staff Writer)
 Once upon a time in a tiny village high in the Blue Ridge Mountains there lived a small band of fearless men who were known far and wide as the "Quarterback Club". They went about the campus doing good and telling tall tales. They brought gold and precious gifts to needy football players; and provided many laughs, much fellowship and some annoyance for head football coaches. Some said they were the god-fathers of the ASTC football team. There were some who said other things about them.

In a land far below the mountains there lived another clan. Among other things, this clan was said to be the god-father of the Lenoir Rhyne football team. The two teams became arch rivals, and each autumn, when the harvest moon hung high in the heavens, the teams would meet to joust on the gridiron.

Many a time ASTC sent them back the mountain with bowed and bloody heads, and there was much joy on the campus and in the Quarterback Club.

Bye and bye throughout the land, great evil fell upon football, this being in the days before the TV quiz shows. Rumors sprang up about money and where it came from and where it went. Some said that much money came from unsavory hands. There were charges and counter-charges.

Colleges everywhere began to de-emphasize football, and conference rules sprang up that choked off the helping hand for many a deserving football player. The Quarterback Club waned into near nothingness.

Jousting under the harvest moon went on between the two teams. Autumn after autumn they met, and always the arch enemy from below the mountains carried away the trophy. A great sadness fell upon the Quarterback Club, and upon the ASTC campus. Rumors said the enemy had at least 50 full scholarships to award needy players each year.

One day some wise men met and formed a new and worthwhile thing called the Appalachian Educational Foundation. The purpose of this Foundation was to make funds available at very low interest rates to deserving students at the college.

When the Quarterback Club heard of this, they felt remorse that they had so easily been diverted from their purpose of helping deserving athletes at the college.

Word went out that the clan would meet. Last Friday night gathered, and the welkin rang with the voices of their leaders. It was a time for great preparation and great joy among the Quarterbacks. It was a time for sack cloth and fasting in the camp of the enemy.

Together they will surely go forward now, and the college shall grow and games shall be won. Once more before the camp fires of the Quarterback Club will hang the Bear Skin emblem of victory over its Piedmont enemy, and they will live happily ever after!

CONFUSED
 Portland, Maine—When Gov. Clinton A. Clauson arrived to deliver the principal address at naval ceremonies recently, he found the crowd already leaving. Quickly, he discovered the reason for the mix-up. "The invitation said the program would begin at 1400 hours," he said "I thought that was 4 o'clock."
