the winter quarter, December 1, 1959 through March 4, 1960, in the student teaching program of Appalachian State Teachers Col-

In this program students devote approximately 12 weeks to student teaching in the field for which they have been preparing. As a part of the student teaching program, the Appalachian student usually lives in the community near the school and participates in community activities as well as in school activities. The student devotes full time in the school and gradually takes over the full teaching load, always under the supervision of the supervising teacher and the principal.

Blowing Rock Board Named

In a ballot completed December 1, the members of the Blowing Rock Chamber of Commerce electits first prolonged cold spell of the fall. Accompanied by snow wind, the temperature reached a low of 13 Sunday night.

More than five inches of snow fell on the town from the time of its beginning about 7:30 a. m. Sunday, until it stopped during Monday night. Beginning with a mixture of rain and snow, the precipitation quickly turned into all snow. By 2:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon, a blanket of three and half inches deep had covered nost of the town.

School children were given a respite from their classes Monday and Tuesday. Movement of buses was considered hazardous as drifts covered sections of secondary roads. The roads could not be kept clear of snow because of the high winds that blew the snow back into drifts almost as fast as they were cleared by the highway department.

Classes were resumed in all the chools Wednesday morning.

The snow and cold weather was apparently widespread, as schools in Avery and Yancey counties were

Then, about 4:30, the wind started blowing, and the temperature started dropping, and by nightfall the highways were freezing over and the temperature registered in the twenties. Before daybreak Monday the mercury had gotten to a low of 13 degrees and all during the day was not able to get

Snow continued intermittently into the night Monday, and the the winds lifted the snow and piled it into drifts. Cars were stubborn about starting, and motorists were tardy for work. Car batteries and tempers were tested, and some cars that refused to "turn over" were seen in isolated spots standing in drifts Tuesday morning waiting for warmer weather or for ambitious owners to dig them out.

Winter begins December 21.

Local Volume Is Way Ahead Of Last Year

the Mountain Burley Warehouse pany this week makes the proverbial bee hive seem like siesta

During its first ten days of selling in this new season, the ware-house has sold 2,632,946 pounds, according to Miss Harriet L. Sikes. This tremendous volume is about three-quarters of a million pounds above the volume sold for the corresponding period last year, she said, and has been sold at sub-stantially the highest average of any North Carolina market.

The smooth working and efficient methods of the warehouse have easily met the task of handling the increased volume, and growers can now be assured of a sale the same day they bring their crop in, Mrs. Sykes said.

The warehouse will close its market for the Christmas holiday at the close of selling on December 18, and will reopen for sales again

Stallings Is Chairman Of Scout Group

B. W. Stallings will be installed chairman when the Boy Scouts the county meet with their friends and parents for a covered dish supper in Fellowship Hall of the Boone Methodist Church.

The supper is an annual affair and will honor out-going officers as well as the new slate.

Marvin Deal, who was district chairman last year, is urging a big turnout for the event. "Drinks and eating utensils will be furnished" he said in urging attendance. "The main thing is for the parents, the leaders, the scouts, cubs, and explorers to come and bring the food." All district leaders and their wives are expected
