

Speaking Of Golf

By JOE MAPLES

In just a few days, the big event that all golfers around Boone and many around the two Carolinas have been waiting for will take place. The 1961 edition of the Carolinas Open will be taking place with the finest players in the two states on hand to try to take home a part of the purse.

A lot of the local people have never watched a tournament of this type and I would like to pass on a few hints that may be of help to spectators. Remember, these players are not playing during this event, they are at work, trying to make money, just as much as any body else in a different business. They are glad to see you follow them, in fact many will play better with people watching. However it is necessary for the spectators to position themselves before the player makes a shot in order not to distract him. When any player is making a shot, regardless of who it is, remain still and quiet until after the shot. This is even more important when the player is on the green putting. Never run on the course, always walk from one vantage point to another.

A good idea, is to pick a good spot where you can see the players tee off and putt out on a green. Unless you especially want to follow some particular player, the best place to watch from, and where you can see action on several holes, is from the Golf Shop, and the area around it. There you have a commanding view of the entire 18th hole, a good part of the 6th and most of the 7th, and by walking just a few feet, you can watch all the action on the 9th.

Those of you that go on the course to watch the play, please observe the following requests. Stay off the tee and green area at all times. If the gallery is large, kneel if you are in the front row. Treat the course as if it were your own. Don't litter it with trash, bottles and paper. Use the containers provided. You are welcome to use cameras and take pictures. Just remember to respect the players, don't take pictures until after the stroke is made, unless you have the players permission. Ladies should wear sport shoes, never high heels. They are more comfortable and high heels damage the course. In short, follow the golden rule of treating others as you would have them treat you.

The Boone Rotary Club is in charge of all ticket sales for spectators and have these tickets for sale now. The admission will be $1.00 per day and the ticket you buy must be displayed at all times while on the golf course property. A different color ticket will be used for each day. These are also on sale at the Chamber of Commerce office in Boone and Blowing Rock. It would be most helpful if local people would buy their tickets in advance from members of the Rotary Club. It would save time for you and them during the tournament itself. There will be no admission charged during the Pro-Am tournament on Monday.

Local Notes

Eagles have been flying on the local course recently with three having been made. Benly Burnett, a member of the ASTC golf team made two on the 15th hole recently playing with me as my partner. Truman Critcher held his second shot on the 13th and Kent Church here for the Annual Blue Ridge Pro-Am, and now for one of our major tournaments. We feel your area is one of the most golf-minded in our section, and we are proud to work with you in promoting a fine game and community."

The Carolina's Open is an old established event dating back to the early 20's, according to Mr. Maples. Its winners have included some of the greatest players in the game. Bill Goebel is believed to have been the first winner, in 1924. He repeated in 1929. Some other golf greats who have won include Henry Picard, who won the event five times, Tony Manero, Clayton Heafner, Johnny Palmer, Skip Alexander, Bobby Locke, Billy Joe Patton, and Dow Finsterwald.

Patton was the first amateur to win the tournament, in 1951, and that was on his home course in Morganton. Another amateur, P. J. Boatwright, has won twice since, in 1957 and 1959.

The defending champion, Al Smith, of Danville, Va., won last year at New Bern, with a score of 208.

Charles Farlow, of Greensboro, is chairman of the tournament committee.

Golfers already signed up to play include:

- Hampton Auld, Cape Fear Country Club, Wilmington.
- Terry Atkins, Meadow Green Country Club, Leaksville.
- Ceek Alexander (A), Charlotte.
- Chuck Alexander, Benvenue Country Club, Rocky Mount.
- Aubrey Apple, Green Valley Golf Club, Greensboro.
- Austin Adams (A), Boone.
- Sam Belcher (A), Martinsville.
- Maurice Brackett, Raleigh Golf Association, Raleigh.

AID TO RIO

The United States and the International Monetary Fund has announced a major program of financial assistance to rescue Brazil from a balance-of-payments crisis. The United States will make new loans totaling $338,000,000, the fund will provide $160,000,000 more, and a group of European banks are working on a deal expected to produce $150,000,000, a total of $648,000,000 in new money.

Comment On Sports

By PETE FRITCHIE

Washington, D. C.—The hottest question in baseball now is whether the New York Yankees have had it. The Yankees moved as if they were heading for the top of their league in early May but soon began to stumble and then lost nine out of twelve.

It was not surprising that they could manage only a split with first-place Detroit, even in New York, for the Tigers have long been the nemesis of the Yankees. What surprised us was the sweep of a two-game set from New York by Cleveland; they are not the Yanks of old.

And this seemed to set Cleveland on fire. The Indians, who started poorly, caught fire and made moves of fighting it out with Detroit and others for the pennant.

Detroit, of course, has a lot of games to play before the Tigers can say they belong up there, as pennant contenders. But they have impressed observers so far, even though Boston recently became the first team to win a series from the Bengals.

Detroit's pitching will be the key. The Tigers have good power, but much of it is rookie power and it could be only a one-year sensation. Frank Lary, Don Mossi, the rookie surprise, Regan, and Jim Bunning must consistently win. Paul Foytack could take up the slack, if Bunning or Regan falters, or if Lary or Mossi are hurt.

Cleveland suddenly has a hot pitching staff—Perry (the best), Grant, Hawkins, Bell, Funk, and others. The Indians have good power and they could be taught—especially if they are pepped up by a Yankee collapse. But if the Yankees come on, they will probably roll over the Indians, as usual.

Chicago seems much weaker this year, but Al Lopez may yet get into it. Judging him from last year's tough pull, however, he lacks the punch. Minnesota might have been a contender this year—still might—but the Twins haven't yet begun to click with bats.

Lastly, Baltimore must still be rated a top contender. The Orioles haven't received the steady pitching of a year ago but may get hotter as the season wears on. So, in summary, it could be Detroit, New York, Cleveland, Baltimore, Minnesota or Chicago this year—and that's good for the American League.

LUNAR LANDING

The first concrete step toward landing a manned expedition on the moon, perhaps before the end of this decade, was taken recently by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

that a study contract had been awarded to the Martin Company of Baltimore, Md., "to investigate various methods of manned transportation between the earth and the moon."
