

Gets New Position At Appalachian

Dr. David J. Middleton has been recently appointed assistant director of extension at Appalachian State Teachers College.

Dr. Middleton assumed the responsibilities of this position to better coordinate the efforts of Appalachian in providing a functional in-service program for public school teachers and other educators. Middleton received his A. B. degree from Duke University and his M.Ed. and Ph.D. from the University of North Carolina.

Under the direction of Dr. James E. Stone, Director of Extension, and the coordinative efforts of Middleton the extension department has initiated a program which offers the following courses in the following cities:

Workshop in Elementary School Science in Yadkinville, Organization and Administration of Student Teaching in Salisbury, Workshop in Guidance and Counseling in Winston-Salem, Art Education Workshop in Hildebran, Workshop in the Public School Curriculum in Shelby, Public School Curriculum in Sparta, Library Science Workshop and Audio-Visual Workshop in Startown, and a few other courses not yet determined.

The entire program is in keeping with the quality education program now being emphasized on all levels in North Carolina.

Cove Creek 4-H Club News

The girls' 4-H Club No. 1 of Cove Creek Elementary School met October 2 and enjoyed an interesting program.

The following officers were elected: President, Donna Townsend; vice president, Katy Sue Greene; secretary, Barbara Baird; song leader, Janie Adams.

Mrs. Danner talked to us about friendship and taught us the 4-H pledge.

The Cove Creek boys' 4-H Club held its monthly meeting Monday, October 2, in the Cove Creek School Library. Leaders elected were:

President, Lynn Greene; vice president, Johnny Isaac; secretary, Mike Mast; reporter, Jerry Greene.

Mr. Richardson talked to us about health.

Busy B Club Has Meeting

The Busy B's Community 4-H Club met Thursday, Sept. 28, with the leader, Mrs. Howard Love.

There were nine members present. The vice-president, Linda

Love, presided at the meeting. It was decided that the club buy a 4-H flag. The business meeting was adjourned, and the leader gave a demonstration on freezing.

WRONG PAINT.
South Bend, Wash.—The four-year-old son of Mrs. Kim Troxel found a can of roofing tar in the yard where they were visiting and proceeded to paint his 20-month-old sister.

They were rushed to the local hospital, where the doctor cleaned the tar out of the little girl's eyes. A service station attendant was summoned to bring along some gas. He bathed the infant and her brother in gas to remove the tar.

Sign Destroyed At Beech Creek

Members of the Beech Creek Community Club are offering a $60 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person who destroyed their community signs which they had erected on highway 321.

The signs were erected out of a sense of community pride on the part of the people of this fine neighborhood, and their money as well as their heartfelt appreciation will go to anyone who will aid them in apprehending the culprits.

UNUSUAL JOB

Des Moines, Iowa—Arriving for her baby-sitting assignment, Marcia Hudson, 14, was told that the entire family would be away for several hours.

Her "sitting" assignment was an unusual one. Marcia was asked to sit and see that the neighborhood children didn't mar the newly-poured cement in the backyard patio.

Choosing a comfortable chair, she sat.
