

Betty Leonard's Visit To Bloodmobile Pictures Steps Taken By Donors

231 Pints Blood Given In Watauga Last Week

Thos. Lawrence Rites Are Held

Thomas Eugene Lawrence, 36, of Alexandria, Va. died at Mount Alto Veterans Hospital in Washington, D. C. October 20 from a heart ailment. He left Watauga county in 1950 and had lived in Alexandria since. He was a veteran of the last world war, entered the army in 1943. Held the Purple Heart, Good Conduct and European battle ribbons. He had been employed by the Army under Civil Service at the Fort Belvoir army base. A son of James B. Lawrence of Mountain City, Tenn., who survives and the late Dollie Thomas Lawrence, he is survived also by the widow and a daughter, Peggy Jean of the home. There are two brothers and four sisters: Stauffer and Rainey Lawrence of Baltimore, Md., Mrs. Juanita Thomas, Newport News, Va., Mrs. Estell May, Mrs. Pauline Thomas, Trade, Tenn.; Mrs. Deluth Brown, Boone. Burial was in Arlington National cemetery with military honors.

The Red Cross Bloodmobile left Boone last Thursday afternoon with 231 pints of blood, which represented a record turnout for a bloodmobile visit to Boone, Joe McClung, local bloodmobile official, said this week. The amount exceeded Watauga's quota by 31 pints.

In praising those who came out for the visit, Mr. McClung said: "It is always gratifying when working on a project such as this, so important to all of us, that college and community pitch in and work together to reach a goal and even go over. Not only do we thank all the donors, but also those that were rejected for some reason or another."

He especially cited the twenty-nine employees of IRC, twenty-seven of Shadowline, and college students and faculty for their cooperation.

During the visit, two persons, George Flowers, Jr., and Mrs. Lois Chester, reached the three-gallon mark in giving of blood to the Red Cross. Reaching the two-gallon mark were James A. Green, William L. Eury, Marshall Hargrave, Jack W. Groce and Fred Mast.

Recognized for reaching the one-gallon mark were Hal Johnson, A. E. Moretz, Bill Gregg, Dean E. Hall, James L. Hall, Dr. Lawrence H. Owsley, Bonnie Cornell, Neil Stewart, Fred Gragg, Norman Isenhour, M. J. Norris, Ralph Hayes, A. Vance Farthing, James R. Reary, C. P. Calloway, Gilbert Barnes, Jim W. Winkler, James Hennessee, Mary Alice Huff, Hubert Tester, Bill J. Cook, and Steve Gabriel.
