Reynolda House To Have Opening Hours

Winston-Salem — To accommodate an increasing flow of visitors, Reynolda House will be open to the public the final Sunday of each month, beginning Sunday, Jan. 30. Officials of Piedmont University Center and Reynolda House, Inc., reported that nearly 6,000 persons have toured the mansion built by R. J. Reynolds, founder of the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, since it was opened to the public last Sept. 15.

A special attraction during 1966 is a monthly series of great American paintings, loaned by the country's leading museums in salute to the 200th anniversary of the city of Winston-Salem. Gilbert Stuart's portrait of George Washington, from the National Gallery, is being shown during January. The loan scheduled for February is Benjamin West's "Hagar and Ishmael", from the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York.

Reynolda House is open each Wednesday, 2-5 p.m. The same hours will apply for the Sunday opening. Arrangements for special groups can be made on other days, with the exception of Mondays when the house is closed to the public.

Piedmont University Center, a coordinating agency for 17 liberal arts colleges of the area, uses the facilities of Reynolda House which is maintained by Reynolda House, Inc., a non-profit corporation formed to promote and encourage the advancement of higher education and the arts.

Snow Aids Observance Of Ski Week

Being a curious person Mr. Thalheimer wanted to know who had brought the largest number of people to ski for the first time. The man that won this prize had brought 23 who skied for the first time from Columbia, S. C. and they said they had so much fun they would be back tomorrow.

National Ski Week will continue through January 30th and there will be races every day. Mr. Thalheimer said that the races were really thrilling in the new snow and they will probably be even more exciting as the week progresses. The reason for this is many colleges have their mid-semester break and we will have races for all class skiers. Mr. Thalheimer said there is nothing more satisfying than to see young people have a good time. The climax to National Ski Week will be the finalist in the Salome races. The person winning this will receive a pass for the duration of the season. Mr. Conbier and his daughter informed us that they would be back for the finals.
