Wagon Train Rattling Along Boone's Trail

Wagon Train officials say some stallions have caused trouble on prior journeys and can end a danger by standers should they get out of line during a parade.

The Wagon Train, originated by Clyde R. Greene of Boone as part of the Tercentenary Celebration of North Carolina, has been incorporated, with directors representing North Wilkesboro, Ferguson, Darby, Triplett and Boone.

As it comes to the crest of the Blue Ridge, and down into the Boone Valley, the Wagon Train will celebrate the 15th season of Boone's outdoor drama, "Horn in the West".

Horn Players To Be On TV

Friday, July 1, WBTV-Charlotte will present Glenn Causey and Bud Mayes — boisterous leader of the Horn Quartet—on the Noon Report. Ty Boyd will conduct the interview. Show time is noon until 12:25.

The following Friday, July 8, WSJS-Winston-Salem will have Jim Tucker talk with Bill Ross and Glenn Causey on the "This Afternoon Show", 1 to 1:30 p. m.

Glenn Causey, Bill Ross, Montez King, Mary Lawrence Jellicorse and the Horn Quartet will have a busy schedule Tuesday, July 19.

From 9-10 a. m. on WRAL-TV, Raleigh, Mrs. Bette Elliott will discuss with them on "Feme Fare" the historical significance of costuming used in the drama. The group will then depart for Greensboro where they will be on WFMY-TV's "TV Matinee". Lee Kinard will be host from 1 to 1:30 p. m. He plans to emphasize entertainment, songs, dances and a skit.

WESTWARD, HO!—Marnil Allred of Randleman is on his way to Boone in a restored wagon that his father bought in Ramseur in 1918. This is his first year on the Wagon Train, the brick mason said, and he and his young friend, Eddie Ray Ferguson, added they were looking forward to the Wilkesboro and Boone parades and the three camps in between. Allred said he has been training his ponies (one of which peers on from left) for several months. He will be part of the Saturday morning parade in Boone, and his wagon, with a bright gold cover, will be easily recognizable. (Staff photo)

Your Telephone Manager

REMEMBER

Schools are out—
and so are our kids—
So please—
DRIVE CAREFULLY

Is our time ever really so important That we can afford TO TAKE AWAY From someone else ALL OF THEIR'S?

I HOPE NOT!

PLANNING YOUR VACATION? WHY NOT SPEND IT SEEING THE BEAUTIES AND POINTS OF INTEREST IN OUR OWN STATE? AND TO SAVE TIME AND TROUBLE IN YOUR TRAVELS . . . PHONE AHEAD FOR RESERVATIONS!

TOMORROW'S TALENTED TELEPHONE will be a remarkable instrument indeed! Just listen to some of the things you may be able to do by phone . . . dial your supermarket and order groceries with a coded card; pay bills by dialing your bank and asking them to switch funds from your account to your market, drug store, or department store; students will one day call a library computer for answers to homework problems; doctors will dial medical center computers for the latest information on treatment of diseases. Already business firms use phone lines to speed data across the country in seconds . . . and banks can verify signatures between branches by telephone line. Since the very beginning in 1876, when the first sentence was transmitted by phone, the history of phone communications has been a series of exciting events. Things that seemed like "miracles" at the time, eventually became every-day, accepted telephone services. So, enjoy the speed and convenience of your telephone today . . . and don't be too surprised at the new and wonderful things it will do for you in the future!
