

Duke Alumni Of 39 Carolina Boys And Girls Four Counties To Meet Here To Attend Chicago Gathering

Jaycees Give Hospital $1,000

Accepting a check for $1,000 from Jaycee Treasurer Jerry Moretz is Mrs. Carrie Winkler, chairman of the Special Gifts Committee for the new Watauga County Hospital. The picture was made in one of the patient rooms, and shows a flexible examination light. The rooms have not yet been furnished. Behind

Mrs. Winkler is a built-in locker. Lockers will be available for possessions of each patient. Moretz said the money has been donated to furnish an entire room, and this is one of the Jaycees' community development projects. (Staff photo)

The annual meeting of the Watauga, Ashe, Avery and Alleghany Counties Duke Alumni Association will be held Monday, Dec. 5, at 7 p.m. at the Daniel Boone Hotel.

Duke University alumni from the four counties will gather for dinner with the guest speaker being Robert Boyd Cox, dean of undergraduate men and associate dean of Trinity College at Duke University.

Dean Cox will speak on current developments at Duke University, and will entertain a question and answer session following his talk. The association has held an annual meeting for many years with excellent response from its members to hear the many outstanding speakers who have traveled from the University to this area. All friends of Duke University in addition to alumni and non-alumni husbands and wives are invited to hear this outstanding educator and administrator.

The Rev. Richard J. Crowder, president of the association and minister of Boone Methodist Church, is in charge of arrangements.

Some 39 North Carolina boys and girls, each one a state winner in a 4-H project or activity, will board planes Nov. 25 for trips to Chicago and the 45th National 4-H Club Congress.

The Tar Heel delegation will be joined at the Conrad Hilton Hotel by some 1,600 boys and girls—all winners—representing all 50 states, Canada and Puerto Rico.

Congress activities begin at once with registration and get-acquainted parties, but the formal program actually begins Sunday, Nov. 27, and continues until a final banquet and farewell party Thursday night, Dec. 1.

Dr. T. C. Blalock, state 4-H leader at North Carolina State University, says the Congress is an annual event planned by the National 4-H Service Committee in cooperation with the Extension Service of the land-grant universities, and more than 57 individual and business firms which support the 4-H program.

The Congress theme is "Pursuit of Excellence". Prominent government, education and business leaders will meet with the delegates to provoke a greater depth of challenge in setting high standards for a better tomorrow.

During the action-packed week more than 218 youths selected for superior achievement and leadership ability will be designated national winners of $500 educational scholarships.

Three boys and three girls will be named to receive the highest honor bestowed during the Congress: the Presidential Silver Tray award. These champions are the top pairs in achievement, citizenship and leadership programs.

Donors of funds for the trips and scholarships are business firms and foundations. They contribute more than a million dollars each year, according to the National 4-H Service Committee which receives the funds to administer for awards and other program aids.

How you can ease the tight money market in North Carolina!

Today there is very little money available for making home loans.

Money is tight!

You can help relieve this "tight money" condition by saving at your local savings and loan association.

Sound too simple? Not at all! You see, on the average, 98 cents out of every dollar saved at a savings and loan association in North Carolina is put to work in your community.

It provides jobs for Realtors, home builders, plumbers, carpenters, masons, electricians, landscape gardeners, retail merchants—just about everybody.

These people, in turn, buy groceries, clothing, contribute to your local tax dollars, churches and United Fund which starts the cycle all over again.

Sound simple? It is—because we control our own economy. The way to ease the "tight money" market in North Carolina and the way to provide for new homes, more jobs and more purchases in our local stores is to save at your local savings and loan associations.
