Admitted To The State Bar

John F. Bost III, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Bost of Lenoir, was admitted to the State Bar Friday morning in ceremonies held during Superior Court in the Caldwell County Courthouse.

Bost is the grandson of Mrs. Charles Nelson of Blowing Rock and Chicago.

Demolay Chapter Host At Cookout

The Boone Chapter of Demolays held a cookout at the Parkway School, Saturday, Aug. 26. The affair was a going-away party for Steve Critcher, who is joining the Navy in September. Steve is an active member of the Boone Demolays.

Demolay was formed in the early part of this century by Frank S. Land and a few young boys in Kansas City, Mo.

At first, it was just a club to provide recreation and jobs for under-privileged boys but it soon began to spread. Led by Dad Land, as he was called, and sponsored by the Masons, Demolay set up its rules and started chapters in other states. It soon became known for its public service projects and gained respect as a major contribution in the fight against juvenile delinquency.

Demolays are found in almost every country of the world, performing helpful projects and being of public assistance.

PTA Schedules A Count-In

Every child counts, with the PTA. That's the reason the National Congress of Parents and Teachers is planning a special "count-in" of their parents and teachers as schools reopen this fall.

"The PTA believes that every child must be provided with what he needs to grow up healthy, secure, well-educated and useful to his community," says Mrs. Irvin E. Hendryson, of Albuquerque, N. Mex., president of the National PTA.

"To help secure these rights

Every single child counts, with the PTA—a nationwide organization of volunteers concerned for children and for the parents and teachers who nurture and educate them.

for all children," she declares. "The PTA counts on every citizen to work at expanding the opportunities of all America's children.

Parent-teacher associations (PTA's), organized in the 50 states, the District of Columbia and schools for American dependents overseas, begin enrolling new members with the first PTA meeting of the school term and usually concentrate on membership enrollment during October.

This year, they will give particular attention to reaching parents in low-income areas.

One of the many valuable services any PTA provides, Mrs. Hendryson believes, is "the opportunity for parents and teachers to know each other in a social situation. They are the people most important in a child's world, and the child can't help benefiting from their friendly collaboration.

"In poor areas, especially," she notes, "this friendly relation between home and school is of particular value because it's where children most need help."

PTA's can work to improve educational opportunity, to protect dependent or delinquent children, to improve health care and to provide the leadership for vibrant community programs that will serve all children, Mrs. Hendryson points out.

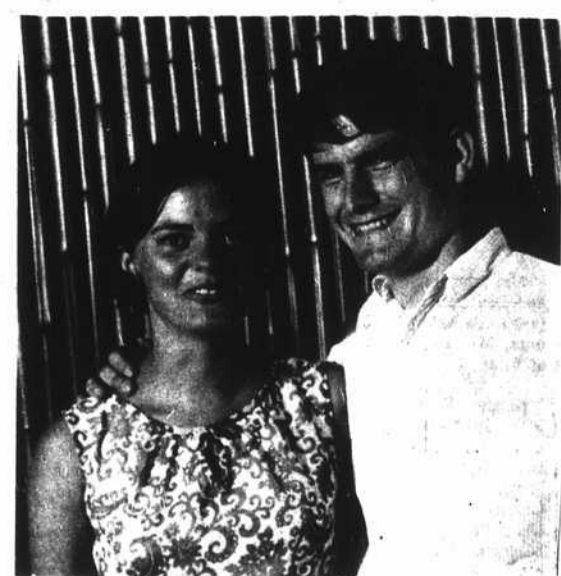

Because every child counts with the PTA, its activities cover all the varied needs of children—for kindergartens, adequately financed schools, well-trained teachers, along with the proper nourishment, good health and favorable emotional climate in which to learn from them. "We need many members to cover such wide-ranging programs," says Mrs. Hendryson. "So our task this fall is to persuade every parent and every teacher that he too counts, with the PTA."

As PTA's start their "count-ins" this fall, Mrs. Hendryson is urging them to demonstrate that "PTA is where the action is."

She has suggested, for example, that local units take the lead in sponsoring "cultural happenings" for youngsters. Some branches of the National PTA, she notes, have developed art-mobiles, comparable to the popular bookmobiles, which bring traveling exhibits of painting and sculpture to school children in remote areas. Other PTA's regularly sponsor musical concerts or provide tickets for theatrical productions to children who would not otherwise attend them.

"With something as simple as a folk festival," says the PTA's national president, "we can do much to enrich the lives of children."

BPW Club Meets Last Friday

The Boone Business and Professional Women's Club met on Aug. 22 at 6:30 p.m. at the Holiday Inn Restaurant.

A guest, Mrs. Anita Winkler, was recognized by the club president.

The president reported that she received a communication from the Parks and Recreation Board asking the club to give the name of someone in the club to serve on the Advisory Committee. She suggested that since Marjorie Kelley is the Civic Participation Chairman that she be appointed to serve.

Hope was expressed that all members could attend the orientation meeting in September.

The president introduced Mrs. Lillian Danner, Home Demonstration Agent, who presented an enlightening program on personal development through the right use of leisure time.

Appreciation was expressed to Mrs. Danner for the program and the meeting adjourned.

He was introduced to the court by Attorney Walter T. Carpenter Jr., with whom he will be professionally associated in Lenoir. The oath of admission to the Bar was given by Bost's uncle, Judge Harry C. Martin, resident judge of Buncombe County Superior Court.

Bost received the Juris Doctor degree from Wake Forest University in June. In law school, he was on the Scholastic Honors List and was awarded the American Jurisprudence Award. He also was a member of Phi Alpha Delta legal fraternity. A graduate of Lenoir High School, he received the

FALL PREACHING MISSION

To Be Held

Sun., Sept. 10 Through Wed., Sept. 13

REV. FLOYD TREXLER

including the non-believer

The Rev. Floyd C. Trexler, called one of the greatest Christian ministers in America today, will be the Missioner for the services to be held at 7 each evening.

The Rev. Larry D. Campbell, pastor of Holy Communion congregation, is urging all people of the surrounding area to come to hear the messages of this renowned preacher.

"This is not a membership drive," states Pastor Campbell, "but an opportunity for people of all denominations in our community to enrich their lives. It has taken four years to get this man here, and I challenge all people to be present to hear him. It is a rare privilege indeed."

Pastor Trexler is a native of Salisbury, North Carolina where he attended the city schools, and after four years in the Marines, returned there to graduate from Catawba College.

Following graduation in 1953 from the Lutheran Southern Seminary in Columbia, South Carolina he accepted a call to Bethany Lutheran Church, Kannapolis, N. C. While Mr. Trexler was at Bethany a $120,000.00 building program was begun and completed.

In 1960 Mr. Trexler accepted a call to St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Mooresville. While at Mooresville a relocation program for the Church was begun and completed at a cost of $400,000.00.

For a year and a half, he served as pastor of the Lutheran Church of Our Savior in Jacksonville, N. C., where his congregation was made up primarily of military families from the Camp Lejeune Marine Corps Base.

In September, 1966, Mr. Trexler accepted a call to Bethany Lutheran Church, Hickory, N. C.

The Lutheran minister is active in Scout and civic work, having received the President's Award in Scouting in 1953 and the Kannapolis "Young Man of the Year" Award in 1957. He is a past president of the Central Conference of the North Carolina Synod and of the Mooresville Ministerial Association. He has served on both the Evangelism and the Social Mission Committees of Synod, serving as chairman of the Social Mission Committee. At present Mr. Trexler is an Evangelism Resource Person for the North Carolina Synod, is a member of the synodical Stewardship Committee, is presently chairman of the Human Relations Committee in Hickory, and the Vice-President of the Hickory Arts Council.

The Reverend Trexler has become widely known for his work with puppets among children and young people. He is noted as an after dinner speaker, and is the author of several newspaper columns, one of which is syndicated in 22 states.

He is married to the former Maurine Rehm of Milwaukee, Wisconsin. They have four children, Deborah 17, Donna 15, David 11, and Danny 6. Mr. Trexler's sermon topics for the week will be four questions:

- "ARE YOU RUNNING OR RESTING?"
- "HOW BIG IS YOUR CHURCH?"
- "WHY GIVE?"
- "WHERE IS GOD?"
