Miss Stiffler is a graduate of Appalachian State University and is employed by the Charlotte-Mecklenburg school system.

Mr. Thomas attended Marion Institute in Marion, Ala. and N. C. State University after graduation from Appalachian High School. He is a senior at ASU.

A Dec. 22 wedding is planned.

ALASKANS MAKE REPAIRS

Fairbanks, Alaska—Residents are racing to clean up, dry out, and rebuild before the beginning of freezing temperatures which come in mid-September. The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers has estimated damage from the floods at more than $178,000,000.

Campbells Return From Long Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Paul N. Campbell of Rogers Drive, Boone, have returned from an extensive trip to California and the Hawaiian Islands. While in San Francisco for two weeks, they visited their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Coverdale Jr., and their youngest grandchild, Christine Coverdale, age 1, and Billy, age 3. A high point in the visit to the bay area was sailing on San Francisco Bay with the Coverdales in their 26-foot "folk boat", based near Golden Gate Bridge. Visits were made, too, to San Rafael, suburban San Francisco, where the Coverdales are moving into a new home.

From San Francisco, the Campbells flew to Honolulu for eight days in the tropical islands. The Oriental culture and people, as well as famous Waikiki Beach, dominated by Diamond Head (an extinct volcano), Hawaiian dancers and singers, vacationers from all the world, visits through fields and factories of pineapple and sugar cane, views of the many U.S. military reservations, including Pearl Harbor—all make a Hawaiian vacation memorable, the couple notes. A pleasant part of the Campbell's stay in Honolulu was a visit with Mrs. Robert Broome, a former teacher at Appalachian Elementary School and now teaching in Honolulu schools the past year.

Before returning home, the Campbells visited friends in Kansas City, Oklahoma City and Phoenix and spent three days in Boulder, Colo. with friends. The last week of the trip was spent visiting their son and family, Paul N. Campbell Jr., of Elkhart, Ind. and a daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gary J. Buhrow of Louisville, Ky. Mrs. Campbell will return to Louisville Saturday to be with the three Buhrow children while their parents are on a three-week vacation in Europe.

Garden Club Holds Meeting September 5

The Rhododendron Garden Club held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday night, Sept. 5, at the home of Mrs. Wiley Smith. The president, Mrs. Cleone Hodges called the meeting to order and the club's collect was used. Mrs. Hodges asked for the year's selection of hostesses and programs, prepared by Mrs. G. T. Buckland. For a most interesting program, each member brought a specimen of flowers or shrubs from her garden and told of the care and best places for cultivation. Mrs. Grace Mast served as moderator for the discussion of specimens brought. Various places in town which have been beautified was shown to the group by Mrs. Hodges. Nine members were present.

Rummage Sale Next Saturday

The Boone Worthwhile Woman's Club will sponsor a rummage sale each Saturday, the 16th, the 23rd and the 30th, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. during the month of September. Sales will be held in the Hillside Dairy Building, across from the bus station. Donations of articles of any description will be welcomed. If unable to get donations there, persons may call either 264-3859 or the clubhouse phone 264-3033. Funds are to be used on the indebtedness of the clubhouse. The door will be open each Friday from 1-3 for receiving articles.

Would You Believe A LETTER 3,200 FEET LONG?

War-time does strange things to people. Take the case of the love-lorn miss from Brooklyn who, in the Korean war, wrote a 3,200 foot letter to her soldier-sweetheart. Her letter was written on an adding machine roll. How romantic can you get?

If Farmers and Traders Life Insurance Company thought you would read it, we'd write you an even longer letter about our Family Life Insurance policy. This "personalized insurance" plan gives protection to father, mother and the children in one policy and for one low premium. It can be adjusted beautifully to your individual circumstances like all "P.L." policies. Just nod in my direction and I'll give you full details about this popular plan.
