Idealism Is Topic Of University Women

Idealism was the program topic for the Boone Branch of the American Association of University Women Wednesday night, Nov. 29.

Dr. Rice reviewed some of the schools of philosophy preceding idealism, one of the most elusive philosophies. He spoke of the types of idealism and the strengths and weaknesses it has as a whole.

After a business session in which new members were assigned to committees, Mrs. David R. Hodgin introduced Dr. D. F. Rice, professor of philosophy at Appalachian State University.

An informal discussion was held at the close of the talk. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Hodgin, who is overall program chairman for the year, and members of her committee. Serving on the committee for the November program were Miss Marjorie Kelley, Miss Nina Annas, Dr. Isabel Jones and Miss Helen Burch.

Dan'l Boone Chapter DAR Has Nov. Meet

The Daniel Boone Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution held its November meeting at the home of Mrs. John Barden with nine members present.

The meeting was called to order by Regent Mrs. Hadley Wilson. The DAR ritual was repeated and the pledge of Allegiance was given. The American Creed was read by all and Mrs. Barden accompanied the group as they sang the National Anthem.

Mrs. Dwight Pettus read the minutes from the last meeting and Miss Eunice Query gave the treasurer's report. The club collected money for the boy they help who is in school at Crossnore.

Mrs. Wilson talked about old soldiers' graves and read information sent to the club by Dr. Ina Van Noppen.

Mrs. David Rigby reported on new members. All those who had been voted on by the club were interested in joining.

Miss Eunice Query gave a review of the book, FIRST LADY OF THE REVOLUTION by Miss Katherine Anthony.

The meeting was adjourned and Christmas refreshments were served by Mrs. Barden.

Married At Central Baptist

MRS. JAMES SHORE (Weston photo)

Miss Patricia Shull became the bride of Mr. James Shore Saturday, Nov. 18 at 4 p. m. at the Central Baptist Church. The Rev. Harold Hayes performed the double-ring ceremony.

Wedding music was presented by Mrs. Lockwood Cook. Given in marriage by her brother, Jerry Shull, the bride wore a floor-length French lace gown over peau taffeta with Sabrina neckline, elbow length bell sleeves, scalloped hemline and detachable chapel train. Her tiered veil of illusion fell from a forward headpiece of pearlized orange blossoms and she carried an orchid with mixed flowers.

Miss Linda Roark was maid of honor. She wore a floor length dress of blue satin with a white lace bodice. Her headpiece was of blue net attached to a blue satin rose and she carried a bouquet of blue spray carnations.

Little Miss Sandra Shore and Master Ellis Parlier served as ring bearers. Mr. Shore chose Mr. Ray Parlier as his best man. The bride's mother wore a white dress with navy accessories and the bride groom's mother was attired in a navy outfit with black accessories. Both wore white orchid corsages.

Married In Wake Forest

At 4 o'clock Sunday, Nov. 19, Frances Catherine Greer of Vilas became the bride of Michael Jackson Watts of Atlanta, Ga., at the Forestville Baptist Church in Wake Forest, N.C. The ceremony was conducted as a service of worship in which the ordinance of the Lord's Supper was observed immediately after the wedding vows.

The Rev. John C. Whately officiated. Wedding music was provided by Mrs. Luther Rickenbacker, organist, and Mrs. Eugene Ruble, soloist. The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley C. Groer of Vilas, graduated from Mars Hill and Carson-Newman colleges with a B. S. degree in elementary education and attended Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary and Appalachian State University.

After the wedding trip, the couple will reside in Wake Forest. The bride is employed in the Wake County school system and the bridegroom is a student at Southeastern Seminary.

If That Man Is Average He's Stylish

Selecting clothing gifts for the men on the Christmas list should be relatively simple. The average man is now fashion-oriented, amenable to new fashion ideas for his clothing and sportswear, says the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear.

In view of that trend, here are some suggestions for stylish Christmas presents.

DRESS SHIRTS put the new, stronger colors to excellent use. Stripes are more popular than ever in regular, wide-track and new color-on-color versions.

Tattersall checks and windowpane plaids score in both traditional, contemporary styles.

SPORTS SHIRTS go wild and woolly in deeply-textured fabrics. The casual shirt appears in smooth cloths and knits in sparkling solid colors, woven and printed patterns.

SWEATERS return to the bulky look for the active sportsman and outdoorsmen. Fisherman knits, duo-toned "popcorn" knits and variations on the Scandinavian theme make the scene for the chilly days.

OUTERWEAR has become a classic Christmas gift and the style word for the season is "double-breasted". Dressy British Warm types in wools include meltons, hopsack and

Couple Honored On Golden Wedding Day

THE CHARLES GREENSES

A buffet dinner was given Nov. 19 in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Greene of Sherwood on their 50th wedding anniversary. The dinner was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Greene, their son and daughter-in-law.

Attending in addition to the Lee Greenses and their children were Mrs. Don Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Raleigh Hodges, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gray Greene and Charles, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Greene, Mrs. Ed Henson, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Issacs, Miss Carrie Issacs, Mrs. Earle Teague, Miss Vikie Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mast, Mrs. Lloyd Smith, Mrs. Hite Williams and Mrs. Arlie Tester.

Engaged

MISS BETTY WATSON

Mrs. Laura Watson announces the engagement of her daughter, Betty, to Clay Woodring, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey Woodring of Route 2, Boone.

Miss Watson is employed at the Appalachian State University cafeteria and Mr. Woodring is employed in Lenoir. The wedding will be Dec. 15 at the Lutheran Church at Meat Camp. The Rev. Goodman will conduct the ceremony.

ASU Students Take Part In State Confab

Chapel Hill, N. C.—Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Barnes and Mr. Gary Ogburn participated Saturday in a statewide conference of student leaders which focused on "Total Citizenship" and "the need for active, continuing involvement in public affairs by more Americans."

Mr. Barnes and Mr. Ogburn are students at Appalachian State University, and Mrs. Barnes is an employee of Rivers Printing Co. of Boone. The day-long conference, held at the University of North Carolina under the auspices of the Republican National Committee, the North Carolina Republican Executive Committee, the North Carolina Federation of Young Republicans, the North Carolina Young Republican College Council, and the University of North Carolina Young Republican Club, was entitled "Opportunities, Unlimited".

HOLIDAY BREADS

Remember the good smell of Mother's kitchen when yeast bread was baking? Onslow County homemakers re-discovered that lost art recently when Lt. James John Knocke, food service officer from the local Marine Base, gave a yeast bread demonstration showing various ways of using a basic recipe.

After the instruction, many Onslow County families will have a happier Christmas with holiday breads, believes Mrs. Chase Padgett, home economics Extension agent.

Engaged

MISS MARY RUTH HICKS

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mack Hicks of Boone announce the engagement of their daughter Mary Ruth, to Mr. George William Simmons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Simmons of Vilas. The wedding will be Dec. 9 at the Mount Lebanon Baptist Church at Vilas.

Engaged

MISS KATY HOWELL

Mr. and Mrs. Radford R. Howell of Deep Gap announce the engagement of their daughter, Katy Ann, to Sgt. David E. Huffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Huffman of Wilkesboro.

Miss Howell is a graduate of Beaver Creek High School. Sgt. Huffman, a graduate of West Wilkes High School, is enlisted in the U. S. Army completing overseas duty in Vietnam.

A July wedding is planned.

Luncheon Honors Dr. D. J. Whitener

Mrs. D. J. Whitener attended the Literary and Historical Association in Raleigh and at the luncheon Saturday was presented an engraved silver pitcher in memory of her late husband, Dr. D. J. Whitener.

Dr. Whitener was a former president of the Association and Dean of Appalachian State University.

Mini, Mod Modes Engaged Set New Trends In Playland

The mini and the Mod influences in fashion world have impact on the world of dolls and stuffed animals this Christmas. Santa's pack has a record showing of miniature prototypes in Mod-inspired costumes.

The boy doll is playing a bigger role in the doll world, and there's a resurgence of lovable baby dolls with nearly-human characteristics.

Notable in the mini category is a new group of singers, the Pip Squeaks, with Mod hairdos and costumes. Just squeeze their arms gently and they give out with a groovy sound. FOR FOOTBALL FANS

Mini Dancers are another all-star talent team that's new in Toyland's doll sector. These five-inch-tall darlings to into a hilarious terpsichorean act, when wound up.

In the growing boy doll contingent is Scrambling Quarterback, designed to provide football fans of all ages with an animated souvenir of their favorite team. When the key in the back of this five inch doll is wound, a spring mechanism sends him scrambling in search of a receiver.

There's a cheerleader doll for the girls. The dolls are being offered dressed in the team colors and insignia of 25 pro football teams in the National Football League.

Play Pets provide more scope for the young puppeteers by a new design in hand puppets which departs from the traditional head-atop-a-fabric skirt and provides an almost full figure of soft vinyl with the skirt behind.

LIKE REAL BABIES

It's a year of superlatives in baby dolls that look and act like real babies. Their human characteristics are emphasized by names like Thirstee Walker and Sleepy.

In the baby doll category is Cheerful Tearful, whose smile turns to a wince when her stomach is squeezed. Tubsy begins splashing when put in the tub. Miss Fussy takes her bottle and then kicks and cries.

Baby's Hungry moves lips, chin and cheek and rolls her eyes as she chews.

Baby Crawl Along's crawling action is controlled by a "magic pocketbook." Sitting up, Baby Crawl Along wriggles and turns her head.

This season, Barbie and her friends are twistable at the waist. Barbie also flirts, with real eyelashes.

SHINE ORNAMENTS

Old Christmas tree ornaments can be bright and glossy. Spray them with clear lacquer from an aerosol container. The lacquer also gives them protection against breakage. Push button artificial snow is also very good for added trim to ornaments.

MISS GLORIA HAMPTON

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil J. Hampton of Boone announce the engagement of their daughter, Gloria Jean, to John Paul Minko, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Minko of Connellsville, Penn.

The bride-elect graduated from ASTC, now ASU, and is employed by the Carman School District in Flint, Mich.

Mr. Minko is a graduate of the University of Michigan and is employed by General Motors in Long Island, N. Y.

A late December wedding is planned.

FEED THE BIRDS

Trim an outdoor tree for birds. Pine cones dipped in suet or peanut butter can be attached to branches. Balls of popcorn and cranberries can be hung from the tree. Birds welcome bits of apple, dry donuts and crumbs too.

Woodpeckers, nuthatches, warblers, bluejays and brown creepers are meat eaters. Cardinals, juncos and finches like vegetable seeds.
