

H. Walter Horton, Civic Leader, Dies At Age 95

Henry Walter Horton, 95, of Boone, Route 3 and Miami, Fla., a retired real estate broker, died Thursday at the Blowing Rock Hospital, where he had been a patient at the Extended Care unit since May.

Funeral services were held at 2 o'clock Friday at Greenway Baptist Church and burial was in the Boone cemetery.

Rev. C. O. Vance conducted the services.

Mr. Horton was born on New River near Boone July 4, 1873, a son of William and Rebecca Blair Horton. He was the founder and owner of the Horton Telephone Co., the first telephone company in North Wilkesboro. He was one of the first automobile dealers in Boone and founded the Highway Motor Co., which dealt with Maxwells and later Nash automobiles and erected the Horton building in downtown Boone, the most modern business structure in town at the time. He was one of the first to see the value of tourist courts to the area, and built the Horton tourist facility on Winkler's Creek and established a housing development in the same area.

Mr. Horton dealt in real estate in both Boone and Miami, living in Florida during the winters. He was an early-day good roads promoter, one of the founders of the Boone Civitan Club and a life-long promoter of tourism in the Boone area. He was a member of the Three Forks Baptist Church near Boone. Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Charity Susan Usher Horton; three daughters and a son: Mrs. Sarah Horton Kennedy, Mrs. Rebecca Horton Bachelor, Mrs. Wanda Horton Barrs, Henry W. Horton, Jr., all of Miami. There are four grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

William Glenn Shook

William Glenn Shook, 43, of Route 6, Lenoir, died at 9:30 a.m., Friday at his residence following an extended illness. Shook was born Feb. 23, 1925, in Watauga County, the son of the late David A. and Josie Hamby Shook. He was a member of Grandview Park Baptist Church, and was last employed at Bernhardt Furniture Co., Plant No. 2. He was in the U.S. Navy during World War II.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Ruth Parlier Shook; two daughters, Mrs. Eugene Story and Mrs. Eugene Perkins, both of Lenoir; two sons, Kenneth Shook of Route 6, Lenoir, and Larry Shook of the home; two sisters, Mrs. Ted Bumgarner of Hudson, and Mrs. Clara Mae Ramsey of Rhodhiss; three brothers, Jeffrey Shook of Banner Elk, Wayne Shook of Lenoir, and Amos Shook of the U.S. Air Force in California; and three grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at Grandview Park Baptist Church by the Rev. C. R. McFelea and the Rev. R. B. Burnett. Burial was in Blue Ridge Memorial Park.

Lumber Inspected

To be sure it's properly graded and used, framing lumber is inspected at least four times between manufacture and its enclosure in a house wall: at the mill before shipping, by the lumber wholesaler or retailer, by the home builder, and the city or county building inspector.

Miss Ida M. Kinsley Penny Carol Hartzog

Miss Ida Mary Kinsley of Blowing Rock died Wednesday at the Blowing Rock Hospital after a period of declining health.

The funeral was held in Boone at Saint Elisabeth's Catholic Church Friday at 9 a.m. Father Robert Shey officiated and burial was in Floral Park Cemetery in High Point.

Born in New York, she had lived in High Point until she moved to Blowing Rock nine months ago. The only survivor is a sister, Mrs. William Mayer of High Point.

West Jefferson—Penny Carol Hartzog, infant daughter of Jacob H. and Brenda Miller Hartzog of Todd, died Friday in the Ashe Memorial Hospital.

The funeral was held Sunday at 2 p.m. at the Zion Methodist Church and burial was in the Riverview Cemetery in Ashe County.

Surviving are the parents; the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. B. K. Hartzog of Fleetwood; and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Miller of Todd.

School Completes Its 10th Course

The North Carolina Outward Bound School, located on the slopes of Tablerock Mountain in the Pisgah National Forest, announced the completion of its tenth course on August 4. Fifty-five young men from seventeen states participated in the course. The youngest was fifteen and the oldest twenty-eight.

Two teachers participated under scholarships provided by DeWitt Wallace, Publisher of Reader's Digest and a member of the Outward Bound national Board of Trustees. Mr. Wallace is responsible for at least fifty secondary school teachers attending Outward Bound Schools this summer to study the applied concepts of Dr. Kurt Hahn, founder of Outward Bound and headmaster of famed Gordonstoun School in Scotland.

Twelve young business men, all in training to be store managers, were sent to the course by Jewel Box Stores, Inc., of Greensboro, North Carolina. Over fifty of that firm's manager trainees have attended NCOBS this year.

Other members of the July course were high school, prep school and college students. Among activities undertaken by students during the rugged Outward Bound course were an overland expedition of forty miles to Mt. Mitchell, a two-man rubber raft run in the Linville Gorge, and a thirty-five mile expedition to Grandfather Mountain. All expeditions are made with forty pound back packs. In addition to the expeditions, the students made dramatic climbs up the steep walls of Tablerock and the Chimneys.

The North Carolina Outward Bound School is a private, non-profit educational institution devoted to develop self-confidence, compassion, and initiative among its students. Among its prominent Board of Trustees are three candidates for public office in North Carolina, Lt. Gov. Bob Scott, who is a candidate for Governor; State Senator Robert Morgan, who is a candidate for Attorney General; and Judge Richardson Preyer, a candidate for Congress.

Fence Foil

Flower beds need a good backdrop to set them off. A white-painted fence can be exquisite if the condition of paint is kept immaculate. But weathered cedar and exterior stains in natural wood tones are equally good, and require little maintenance.

MELVIN TUCKER

C. E. REILEY

Melvin Tucker Plant Manager Sou. Bell

Melvin W. Tucker has been named Plant Manager of Southern Bell Telephone Company for the Morganton, Lenoir, Blowing Rock, and Boone exchanges.

Tucker succeeds C. E. Reiley, Plant Manager since December, 1966 who has been appointed Division Plant Supervisor with headquarters in Atlanta Georgia. In his new position Reiley will supervise and coordinate activities in the Atlanta Suburban Division of Bell.

Educated in Coca, Florida, Tucker joined the telephone company in June, 1948, at Coca. He served as a specialist in the Medical Corps of the U.S. Army from October, 1954 to October, 1956, and returned to the telephone company when his military duty had been completed. After holding various positions with Southern Bell in Florida, he transferred to Asheville as Storeroom Foreman in September, 1966.

Tucker is married to the former Nancy Sullivan of Coca. They and their five children, Kathleen, Michael, Sharon, Patrick, and Melvin, Jr. are now residing at 14 Hawthorne Drive.

While in Morganton, Reiley was active in the community, serving as a football official for the Western North Carolina conference and as an advisor for the Boy Scouts of America. In addition, he is a member of the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary Club, and Mimosa Hill Golf Club. He has also served as youth advisor of the First Presbyterian Church.

12 Kinds of Cabins Seen in Booklet

Are you ready to join the weekends-away gang with a vacation cabin built on a sunny lakeshore or hidden deep in a pine forest?

Early planning is half the battle, but today it's easier than ever to locate good cabin plans. For example, a booklet published by a lumber trade association offers twelve possibilities, some large, some small. Exterior and interior views of each cabin, plus its floor plan, are sketched.

Construction plans, at low cost, can be ordered out of the booklet.

Remodel Fence

A fence built with boards eight inches wide or more sometimes looks ungainly. But it's easy to remodel. Remove the fence boards and cut them into widths of two, three or four inches. Then refinish using a black-brown stain for posts and rails, a warm golden brown stain for the fence boards.

Deadline Set For Return Of Ballots In ASC Election

The deadline for returning ballots in the ASC community elections is Monday, Sept. 16, according to M. L. Shepherd, chairman of the Watauga County ASC Committee.

Chairman Shepherd points out that two envelopes have been mailed with the ballots to all eligible voters of record in the county office. One envelope is plain, and the other has a statement printed on the back which the farmer needs to sign. A witnessed mark will also qualify as a signature.

The ballot should be marked and sealed inside the plain envelope; voters are cautioned not to enclose any other material. Also, voters should not write on the plain envelope. This assures the secrecy of the vote.

The plain envelope should then be put inside the envelope with the statement on the back. This statement is a certification that the ballot was marked by the farmer personally without undue influence by any person. The envelope should then be mailed or otherwise delivered to the ASC county office.

"Be sure to sign this statement on the back of the outside envelope," the chairman urges. "If it is not signed, the ballot will not be considered as a vote."

Any person who did not receive a ballot to vote in the committee elections should visit or call the ASCS office to secure one.
