In Fashion

Many department stores have knitting departments where amateur knitters are helped with their work if the wool is purchased there.

Wigs continue their popularity. Some women have several for different occasions.

Knitted garments are very popular this season. So much so that many housewives have taken up this creative art and are knitting dresses and coats as well as sweaters and caps. While some of the yarn is expensive, the labor is really what makes these garments cost so much when they are purchased as handmade.

Get out of Grandmother's old knitted shawl and drape it around the head and shoulder. Dye it a brilliant color and you will be in the mod set.
