GOLD FROM BOULDER PUZZLES

When an aged inmate of a county hospital finds a boulder containing $80 worth of gold in the road and the government pays a bonus of $50 for it, who gets the surplus? That was put to the county council of Coromandel, New Zealand. The county clerk had taken out a miners license in order to have the boulder crushed, and wanted his share. A teamster charged $15.50 to cart it. The county foreman helped move it, and he wanted something. After all expenses were paid the surplus was $50, just equal to the bonus. The council refused to take part in the dispute.

FARM HINTS

By S. D. McRAE, Farm Demonstrator

S. D. McRae, farm demonstrator for Chowan and Perquimans colored people, has issued the following timely farm hints:

A Green Garden All Winter

One of the most valuable parts to a home is a good garden and can be secured at little cost. September is one of your leading months for planting your winter garden, now is the time to plant. No one has to beg in he or she has a good garden, a flock of poultry and some hogs.

What To Plant in September

September is the month for planting leafy vegetables for winter, collards, cabbage, kale, turnips, mustard, beets, carrots, spinach, onion sets. These plants should be planted at once so that they will be well rooted before the cold winter sets in. Ground should be well plowed and manured to get a quick start to growing and will better prepare to protect themselves from the early frost and cold.

September Is Our Great Harvesting Month

Before starting to harvesting your crop clean up around your barn and premises to destroy insect and other pests that will destroy your year's profit on your farm. Clean your barn before you place in your new corn, give a good sweeping, repair places needed, then use slack lime very freely over the floor, on sides and other places where insects can hide, that will save you several bushels of corn for your stock and cattle.

Poultry

Next to your garden comes your poultry. Now is the time to check your old hens. A hen over three years old has proven to be not of great profit. Prepare your hen house for winter. Give a cleaning and dusting, destroy places that hover mites and other pests that cause your poultry trouble. For best remedies see your farm agent. Sow something to keep greens for your chickens.

Hogs

Special attention should be given to hogs this month, so that disease will not get the lead and destroy your winter meat. Keep before them plenty of salt and wood ashes or slack lime as a cleaner, start now to pushing them for early fall market or home use. Food supply is predicted to be short, so every bushel of corn and pound of feed that can be saved will be money to you. Save your waste by giving it to your hogs. Sow your winter grazing crops. On account of the great drouth, food for your stock and cattle will be high. Be on the safe side, plant and save all that you can.

A good milk cow is priceless on the farm.

X-RAY RESTORES MAN'S SIGHT

After being blind for nearly six months R. S. Course, of Wellingborough, England, has had his sight restored by X-rays. Struck in the face by a steel door in November Course immediately lost his sight. Recently he went to a specialist at the Leicester Royal Infirmary and underwent an examination. In the evening he fell into a deep sleep, but awoke in the early hours of the morning with his sight returned. "I was awakened by a terrific bang like the shot of a gun in my head," he said. "I called out and opened my eyes and I could see. The X-ray apparatus is powerful and ultra violet rays have intense burning properties. Either it removed a clot of blood from the optic nerve or set it to function again."

ALPHONSO JORDAN FILLS PULPIT AT RYLAND SCHOOL

Sunday afternoon being regular preaching at Ryland school, the pulpit was filled by Alphonso Jordan. Mr. Jordan's sermon was helpful and inspiring.

Rev. John Byrum is the regular preacher, but he invited Mr. Jordan to fill the pulpit for this sermon.

OUR ROOTS ARE IN THE LAND!

THERE is a dignity and importance in the work of the farmer. He follows the oldest and most basic of all industries.

He stands as a symbol of security, for though investments may fail, the regular rotation of seedtime and harvest continues. His is the most tangible of all returns—food—and the most powerful.

It is our function to aid him in directing this power so that it may be diverted into the most fruitful channels, not only to himself, but to the country. Our wide facilities and experience will help him to develop his business—for it is a business.
