

A Peep At Raleigh

By EDENTONIAN

There is an air of expectancy around the State capital at this season of the year. The colleges constitute a large part of the city population and so their reopening will put in motion many interesting forces that have been dormant during the summer months. And, too, the State Fair is just around the corner. It will only be a short while before the streets will be alive with bunting proclaiming this coming event. The great army of State employees, most of whom have been away on vacation, is getting back to its usual routine. The city schools opened last week with their fine regimentation of the youth of the community. It is a far cry from the great vacation freedom the schoolboy enjoys in the summer to the Spartan military discipline of the modern school. Both are necessary to the proper development of mind, character and body of the future of the citizens of the country. Raleigh has a wealth of attractive shopping centers where these school children are much in evidence shopping for their school needs. The hotel lobbies are taking on new life. The Legislature is in the immediate offing and it will not be long before the hotels will be crowded with legislators, lobbyists and those who are interested in the great legislative show. The mills of the Legislature will soon begin to grind out innumerable new laws, and repeal an equal number of old ones. There will be many new faces in the Legislature this year. Raleigh takes peculiar interest in the legislative freshmen. They are the most interesting because they are new. The new member has usually made innumerable promises to remedy the ills that have beset the body politic and he will not be satisfied until he has gotten them "off his chest." And they proceed by legislative fiat to impose a rule of conduct which they have advocated on the cracker box. This is a very interesting performance, and though it would appear to be fraught with great hazard to the body politic, the eternal law of compensation takes a hand and balances the account. Old legislators who have become disillusioned as apostles of reform spend most of their time in repealing as many old laws as the new members introduce.

MAN RINGS 7,685 BIRDS

Herr Posingis, keeper of the light at Windenburg on the shores of the Baltic near Memel, has found that birds migrate from the northeast to the southeast. To learn this he caught and ringed 7685 in the last two years. Of this number only 74 were heard of again, but he says, this is enough to determine the route. Herr Posingis rings birds as a hobby. He spreads a large net to catch those attracted by the glare of the light, rings them and sends them on their way. Last year he ringed 6666 starlings. As fast as one netful was ringed and released another netful arrived. They begin to arrive in June each year, old and young feathered travelers coming together.

Red Cross To Hold Regional Conferences

Washington, D. C., Sept. 20.—The first of a series of three regional conferences for Red Cross chapters in North Carolina will be held in Tarboro on Tuesday, September 25. The other conferences will be at Pinehurst Wednesday, September 26 and at Asheville on Friday, September 28. The conference at Tarboro will open at 10 a. m. on Tuesday morning at the First Baptist church. Richard F. Allen, manager of the eastern area, will go from Washington to attend the conference and will speak at the luncheon session on "Today's Challenge to the Red Cross." William Carl Hunt, assistant manager from the area, will be another speaker from national headquarters, leading forum discussions on membership and financial problems and fundamentals of Red Cross organization and service. A. J. Berres, Jr., a state field representative, will give a report of Red Cross work in North Carolina during the past year. A life saving demonstration will be given in the municipal swimming pool by members of the Edgecombe County Red Cross life saving service.

LOCAL MAN DISPLAYING HOME-MADE SPANISH GUITAR

Archie Lee, local young man, was this week displaying the framework of a Spanish guitar made by himself. The material, gum veneer, was secured from Wiggins' Veneer Mill and is a delicate piece of work, showing an outstanding degree of craftsmanship. The guitar brought forth many compliments to the maker.

METHOD TO SECURE LOANS FOR REPAIRS

Plan Presented Whereby Money Can Be Obtained Under Federal Housing Program

Here, in a nutshell, is the plan for borrowing modernization funds under the Federal Housing Program: 1—A modernization loan is solely for the purpose of repairing, altering or improving your home, shop, farmhouse, store or other building. Diversion of the money to any other purpose is strictly prohibited. 2—It cannot be for less than $100 or for more than $2,000. The borrower must have a bona fide source of income equal to at least five times the annual payments. 3—It can be made for terms up to three years, but may be paid in full earlier than the maturity date if the borrower desires. 4—Maximum charges, including interest and fees, cannot exceed an amount equivalent to $5 discount per year per $100 original face amount of the note. 5—To get a modernization loan, the property owner must present to the bank or other lending institution a precise estimate of the cost of the improvements and should be able to prove that they are necessary or advisable. 6—In addition, the property owner must file a property owner's credit statement, showing his financial condition, sources and amount of income and other information necessary to determine his ability to repay the loan. If the bank considers the improvements advisable, and the property owner able to meet the payments when due, it can advance the money on the personal note of the property owner. The note must be signed by both husband and wife, if the property owner is married. No mortgage or collateral security is necessary, unless state laws or the financial institution's officials demand it.

Sow Hay Mixtures For Spring Grazing

The nationwide hay shortage plus the increased number of animals to be wintered in this State will place a heavy demand on North Carolina farmers this year. Every Carolina farmer will do well to save all the available roughage this fall and make preparation now for growing a winter hay crop for early grazing next spring, says John A. Arey, extension dairy specialist at State College. Oats, barley, abuzzi rye, or a mixture of these cereals, and crimson clover sown in September will furnish good grazing early next spring. If the season is favorable, they will also furnish grazing this fall. Seeding for grazing purposes should be heavy. Arey recommended the following mixtures, which have given good results. In these mixtures, the quantity of seed needed for one acre is listed. Two bushels of abuzzi rye and 15 pounds of crimson clover, or a mixture of one bushel of beardless wheat, one bushel ofardless barley, and one and a half bushel of oats, and 20 pounds of hairy vetch or 30 pounds of Austrian winter peas. The rye and clover mixture does not make good hay, but makes excel-

Establish Pool For Cotton Certificates

Cotton farmers whose production is over their allotment will be able to purchase additional tax exemption certificates and those whose production is under their allotment will be able to sell surplus certificates through a national pool, under the provisions of a ruling issued by the secretary of agriculture, it is announced by the agricultural adjustment administration. The sale price has been set at four cents per pound. "This plan of handling the excess certificates," says Charles A. Sheffield, assistant extension director at State College in charge of the cotton adjustment program in North Carolina, "does not mean that the government will purchase such certificates but does mean that those who have more certificates than they have cotton to gin and sell may turn the excess certificates over to the manager of the national surplus cotton tax-exemption certificate pool who will handle them for producers under a trust agreement." The price of four cents per pound is approximately 70 per cent of the tax of 5.67 cents per pound imposed by the Bankhead Act on the ginning of cotton. Under the pool provisions, farmers who do not produce as much cotton as their allotment calls for will get some cash from excess certificates and those farmers who produce more than their allotments will be able to gin and sell some of their excess. Ernest L. Deal of Florence, Ala., has been designated manager of the pool. Price Fixed For Excess Certificates When the pool is closed, all funds on hand from the sale of the certificates, after deducting expenses, will be distributed among producers and each producer will receive his share in the proportion the poundage surrendered by him bears to the total poundage in the pool. In addition, each producer will be returned his pro rata share of the unsold surplus certificates, which may be used lent grazing for late fall and early spring when sown in September. The second mixture, sown preferably between October 1 and 15, can be used for both grazing and hay.

If hay is to be harvested, grazing should be discontinued in March, the exact date depending upon the location in the state. Yields of two to five tons of hay per acre have been secured from this latter mixture when sown on good land.

The hay will be ready to harvest next May when the cereals are in the milk stage of maturity.

next year in the event the Bankhead act is continued another season. The plan also includes provision for local sales of tax-exemption certificates in a county at the same price by individual farmers provided the sales are made through the office of the assistant in cotton adjustment in the county in which the certificates sold were distributed. Farmers wishing to participate in the pool, either as sellers or buyers of certificates, should make arrangements through their county assistants in cotton adjustment.
