

C. E. McIntosh Appointed To Head WPA Youth Program

Explains Plan by Which N. C. Youth Will Be Benefitted

Raleigh, N. C.—State Works Progress Administration Administrator, George W. Coan, Jr., has appointed Mr. C. E. McIntosh of Chapel Hill, State Director of Education. Mr. McIntosh also directs the National Youth Administration for North Carolina.

Mr. McIntosh is well-known to North Carolinians as an educator and as a former assistant dean at the State University. He has devoted many years to the study of the problems of youth, particularly those dealing with education. He is well equipped in every way for this new work which is such a vital and important part of the Works Progress Administration program for North Carolina.

He expressed the hope that the youth of North Carolina would take full advantage of every opportunity offered. All North Carolina Educational Institutions of college level operated on a non-profit basis may select 12 percent of their 1934 enrollment to share in Federal Aid offered. No applicant will receive aid who is financially able to secure his or her education without help. Only those who would otherwise be unable to attend, will be helped. The amount of aid that may be secured is adjusted to the individual case. It is expected that the average monthly amount allowed will not exceed $12.00 to $15.00. A maximum monthly allowance slightly in excess of this amount is available in very extreme and deserving cases. The aid given students is not a loan but is a direct grant, and is made in return for specific duties to be outlined by the college authorities and performed by the student seeking aid. Mr. McIntosh called especial attention to the fact that all students seeking aid should apply direct to the institution they elect to enter and not to his office. Only those students with good records and qualifications will receive help, and they will be expected to maintain the high standard set heretofore by students receiving Federal Aid.

High School boys and girls are also offered assistance by this Administration. Children between sixteen and twenty-five years of age whose parents were on the May 1935 Relief Rolls are eligible for aid. Seven per cent of those enrolled who show promise and a desire to continue their education may receive Federal aid up to an amount not to exceed $6.00 per month. It was pointed out that the school superintendent was the person to whom application for aid should be made.

Mr. McIntosh also states that the Works Progress Administration hopes to employ 12 or 15 hundred teachers from Relief Rolls this winter. He explained that they would be paid the security wage, and would be used largely in teaching adults. Reading, writing, arithmetic and other studies would be taken up by these adult classes.

The importance of all educators, and others interested, acquainting themselves with the program was stressed. If the youth of North Carolina is to receive the full benefits of this great Works Progress Administration Program they must have full information and directions as to how to proceed in their efforts to secure aid. Mr. McIntosh pledged full and complete cooperation of himself and his staff in assisting the youth of North Carolina to secure this Federal aid in continuing and completing their education.

Quinn Store An Asset To Business Section

Greatly adding to the appearance of the Edenton business section, the Quinn Furniture Company in January, 1925, moved into a brand new three-story brick building on Broad street which is used in its entirety for the storing and displaying of furniture. This company has rapidly expanded until at present a fleet of trucks is necessary to deliver goods all over Chowan, Bertie, Gates and Perquimans counties. A corps of salesmen also cover the territory who by fair dealing and courteous service have worked up a tremendous trade.

This store is owned by J. H. Wilkins of Elizabeth City and his brother, W. M. Wilkins, the latter acting as manager of the store. The manager a number of years ago also entered the undertaking and embalming business, which is conducted in connection with the furniture store. Like the regular business, this feature has grown by leaps and bounds.

The concern carries anything in the line of furniture that could be desired and a welcome awaits any prospective customer to inspect the stock on hand. They desire to please their customers and if a wanted item happens not to be in stock, they can get it. The Quinn company also operated the Albemarle Burial Association with something like 1000 members.

Randolph Guernsey breeders sold a pair of 23 cows, heifers and one bull in Florida last week for $2,000 net.

N. C. State Grid Stars Mentioned In Stars Of 1935 By Wilton Hazzard

College Station—It is seldom a sophomore gets a write-up in the "Illustrated Football Annual," but Cowboy Robinson, the N. C. State College triple-threat halfback, is given six paragraphs by Wilton Hazzard in his place "The Stars of 1935" written for the Annual.

Mr. Hazzard writes: "Why, you may ask, does Hearty Anderson (Rockne's beloved Hunk) go around with a look on his face like nothing so much as that of a kitten which has got into the cream bottle?"

"The answer is Cowboy Robinson. They call him 'Cowboy' because he hails from the plains adjacent to Wallace, Idaho, and he will admit in picturesque western lingo that he 'has rode the range.' He came to Dixie by way of Notre Dame where he was a freshman the last year Anderson coached there.

"Robinson is proclaimed by many who saw his exploits last spring, the finest back of all time in the broad state of North Carolina. There was a big and strong squad on hand, and plenty of resistance was offered, but in each of the six test games which concluded the week's practice, Robinson ran through his opposition for touchdown after touchdown.

"He weighs 190, is a fairly consistent 10-second sprinter, and has a photographic eye that lays out for him the touchdown course through the scattered defensive elements of a gridiron."

Other N. C. State stars in Mr. Hazzard's list of candidates who are predicted to have a chance for all American honors includes Captain Barnes Worth, right guard; Steve Sabol, brilliant center; Eddie Berlinki, the right halfback who Grantland Rice said would be an all American before finishing college; Ren Hoek, battering fullback, E. There's lots of room in the FORD V-8

EVERY ONE who steps into the Ford V-8 for the first time is surprised at its roominess. There's exceptional seat room, leg room and head room in all body types — the whole car gives you a feeling of substantial size.

The Ford gives you extra body room because of the compact design of the V-8 engine — an exclusive Ford feature at a low price. This V-8 engine takes up less space in the hood and permits more of the car's length to be used for passenger comfort. Many a car selling at a higher price does not give you as much interior room as the Ford V-8.

Rear seats are wide and restful... three people can ride comfortably in the front seat of the Fordor Sedan, Fordor Touring Sedan, Convertible Sedan and Phaeton, and in the Coupes and Roadster. The seat of the Ford V-8 Roadster is 52 inches wide. A ride in the Ford V-8 will show that it combines unusual body room with fine-car performance, safety and comfort.
