FAIR AT NORFOLK BEGINS MONDAY

First Agricultural Fair Held in Virginia City In About Eight Years; Horse and Auto Racing

The New Norfolk Fair will open next Monday, September 23, at 5 P. M. on the old Norfolk Fairgrounds. This will be the first time that Norfolk had a real Agricultural Fair in seven or eight years, and from all indications the exhibits are going to be very creditable. The attendance will be up to the standard of former years. N. G. Bartlett, secretary-manager of the Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce, the sponsoring organization of the New Norfolk Fair, stated that a program of grandstand acts and midway attractions will be second to none that Virginia has had in a long time. "The Fair spirit is again in the air," Mr. Bartlett said, "and we believe that the New Norfolk Fair will fill a real need in the Community." Two thousand five hundred dollars is being offered in all the different departments.

Those interested in securing space for exhibits or any other information may call telephone, 25247 or call at the office, 345 Monticello Arcade, or go to the fairgrounds, direct. The office of the Fair will be moved to the Fairgrounds Thursday morning. H. C. Barton of Suffolk is the assistant manager, Mrs. M. L. Fiddy, is office secretary, J. L. Grandy, and Mr. Portlock are the field men. Indications are it will be a big success. Horse racing four days, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday. Automobile races, AAA sanctioned, Saturday only.
