BIBLE THOUGHT FOR WEEK

WENT ABOUT DOING GOOD: And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people.—Matthew 4:23.

COUNTY LOSES MAN OF STERLING WORTH

Chowan County suffered a distinct loss this week in the passing of Richard B. Hollowell. He was a life-long resident of the county and in his dealings with people always acted in such a manner as left the feeling that his word was his bond.

Mr. Hollowell gained for himself an enviable reputation in the fact that he was a Sunday School superintendent for 66 years of his life, 41 of these years being at Rocky Hock Sunday School, where he enjoyed the honor and respect of a host of Sunday School pupils during these many years.

Not only have the family and Rocky Hock community lost a true father and a valuable citizen, but the county as a whole suffers the loss of a man of sterling worth. No community can afford to lose a man of the type of "Dick" Hollowell.

"NEXT GOVERNOR" TO VISIT EDENTON

Edenton will do honor to one of its own, at least one of its own by family ties, and certainly its own choice for the governorship of this great State, on Monday night when "Sandy" Graham comes here to make merry wassail as the guest of honor at a stag dinner in the Parish House.

The whole State knows "Sandy" Graham and Edenton knows him well. His friends are legion and will welcome him from every section of the county at the dinner. Now if he will come prepared to say things we should listen to, all will be joy and happiness.

AN EXECUTIVE WHO GETS THINGS DONE

To most of us Mayor Spires is just "Eddie" Spires, a tall, slant-shouldered, great big boy in so many ways, with a flair for oratory and a penchant for doing things, and doing them when they should be done without fuss or feathers.

There are scores of bigger cities in these thirteen counties the Mayor will hold chairmanship over, and all of them, no doubt, could have offered their best talent for the job. But, no—the choice centered on this sweet and delightful little commonwealth on Queen Anne's Creek, and upon the shoulders of an executive that gets things done.

HEARD AND SEEN

By "BUFF"

Well, the Edenton High School football team walloped Elizabeth City Friday afternoon. It was a pleasure to witness the game, for the best sort of sportsmanship prevailed both among players and spectators. The game somewhat resembled college affairs, with the Elizabeth City Band and the Boy Scout Drum and Bugle Corps adding color to the affair.

The Edenton Rotary Club had a big time Thursday night when they had the teachers of the county as their guests. Each Rotarian was obliged to escort a teacher to the table and in order to keep the consarn Rotarians from grabbing the best looking teachers, cards were cut in half and distributed among the ladies and men.

And then I was glad Edmund Harding pulled off the sort of stunt he did. The teachers were asked to repeat a sentence about a little dog and derved if they didn't ball up the whole thing.

Everything is short and snappy at Rotary meetings, but Dick Holmes is the personification of brevity. Cal Kramer had a clock which was passed from one to the other and whoever held the thing when the alarm rang was supposed to make a presentation speech to the lady next to him.

Right many Edenton people have been attending college football games, and no doubt have seen the star rooster down by the cheering squads. He's a good sport, and doesn't get in high gear until one of the teams score, but from then on—oh, my. The only thing that wonders me is how he knows a football game is being played.

What is said to be a whoop snake has been on display in Mitchener's window. It was captured by Pearly Baumgardner, and a sign the other day said: "For sale. Price $1000. Value, $5000." Sounds like a bargain, but I wouldn't give a dime for the thing.

Harvey Thomas got the scare of his life Sunday night. He retired early and was in the midst of a sound sleep about 10 o'clock when Sheriff Bunch shook him until he awakened. Looking up and seeing the big sheriff, Mr. Thomas sleepily asked, "What's the matter, I haven't done anything!" Well, he didn't but the sheriff wanted him to see a real still that was to be raided.

According to a legal notice appearing in the Herald, real estate of Pattie M. Jones, deceased, will be sold Saturday at noon. This sale will be held at the Court House door, at which place plenty more real estate will be up for sale about four weeks hence.

Bill Paxton, who was the principal speaker at the Rotary meeting in Hertford Monday night made a statement that probably applies to a lot of us. Bill said he was in business but that he didn't see how he weathered the storm unless it was by the grace of God and a kind bank.

This column contains right much Rotary dope, but shucks, they are a bunch of good fellows and don't mind being talked about. But two of them had a hard time getting to the intercity meeting. One of them was on the way to Hertford, when suddenly he piped up from the back seat, "Hell, fellows, I forgot half of my teeth." Well, the car had to be driven back to his home to get the rest of the chawers for he figured the turkey would be tough. It wasn't, however, for the Hertford Hotel sure put up a fine dinner.

And then another Rotarian was asked to accompany a fellow member and asked to park his car out at Lyn Byrum's filling station. Well, he did that and immediately jumped in another parked car there, and as he slammed the door he said, "All right, let's go!" But he didn't go just then for he was met with the following remark from a lady on the back seat: "Hey, you, where you think you're going? ... you're in the wrong car, aintcha?" Well, he was, and he got to the meeting late, too.

A certain gang in town had an oyster roast Tuesday night, and there was a devil of a lot of secrecy about the thing. The guys who went didn't know where they were going nor who was pulling the party. Of course, maybe they had only a limited supply of oysters, but I'd like to know what made them so bloomin' shy on lettin a fellow in on the affair.

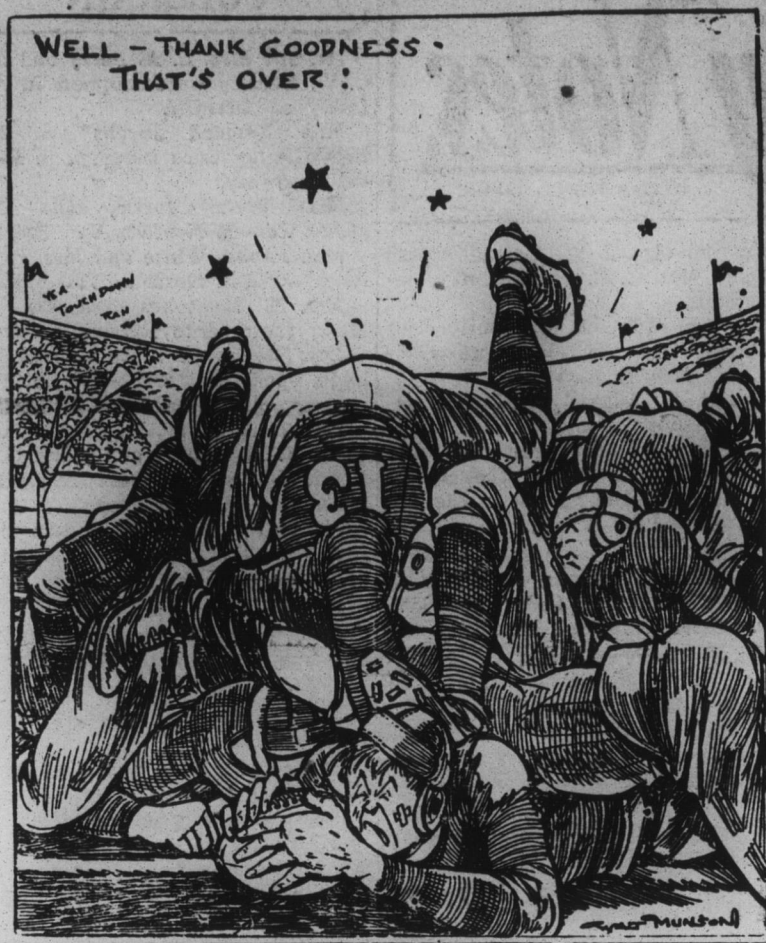

There's been right many tacky parties and the like this season, but it's dangerous business. Take for instance Mrs. B. F. Francis. She attended one the other night and won first prize. She was so elated over the fact that she decided to enter her home in the uniform for the rest of her family to see her. But she didn't get in so easy. The dog at her home didn't even recognize her and objected to her coming in.

The Masons are planning a big blowout for tonight when the principal "grub" will be barbecue. I've been listening for the "Sweet Adeline" and "When You and I Were Young, Maggie" songsters to be gettin in practice, but they'll no doubt do that tonight. Of course, the singing will not be a success unless Doc Whichard, Bill Summerell and Cam Byrum make their appearance.

The Legion Auxiliary will entertain the Legionnaires on Friday night at the Parish House. The last time they met there were more men present than ladies and some of the men had to go without a lady companion during the meeting. Things ought to be different at this meeting, for the Auxiliary now has 58 paid up members while the Post has only 40. Gosh darn, maybe some guys will have two lady partners. Anyway, Roy Leary will have a good chance this time.

My hjt's off to the High School football second team. They trimmed the Williamston second stringers, although outweighed. The whole crowd of 'em played a bang up game, but little Billy Shepard took off plenty of praise for the way in which he time and again spilled one of the larger Williamston backfield men. Then, too, the first string will welcome Pete Everett to the lineup when he becomes eligible to play in conference games. Coach Brogden knows his "onions" in developing this second team, for we'll soon be needing new men to take the place of the champions, and then we're in dire need of reserve material, which can only be developed by paying some attention to the youngsters who like to play the game.

Rev. E. L. Wells had a crowded church Sunday morning, and without a doubt it made his heart glad to see so many present at one time. Can't all the churches rig up a celebration to fill the churches one time?

Which reminds me of a remark made by a lady this week. She said too many people belong to too many various organizations. They conflict with each other, and a person cannot do justice to all. Fact is, she thought it would be a good idea to consolidate the churches and have only one church. Well, maybe in that way the church would be filled once in a while. It would be a simple matter, though. Just let the Baptists do the praying, the Episcopalians do the preaching, and we Methodists would take the collection. That ought to be fair enough.

Some people might not like Shirley Temple's pictures, but there are plenty that do. The crowds at her picture last week at the Taylor will prove that. And then watch the crowds today and Friday when Will Rogers will be seen in "Steamboat Round the Bend." He's got plenty of followers in Edenton, too, if you ask me.

Christmas isn't far away now. You can tell that by the nuts in town. I mean the Brazil, butter and paper shell almond variety. The other sort remain here all year 'round.

WEEK-END AT HOME

Miss Alma Winslow, a member of the faculty of Chicod School, Pitt County, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Winslow, on the Virginia Road, and accompanied by her sister, Miss Eleanor, was in Edenton Saturday afternoon.

Will Rogers Picture At Taylor Theatre

Admirers of America's greatest humorist who lost his life in an airplane accident recently, will have the opportunity of seeing Will Rogers in his greatest acting role in the presentation of "Steamboat Round the Bend" starting its two-day run at the Taylor today. Capacity crowds are expected to see this picture.

Merry Hill Faculty Presents Play Nov. 13

The faculty of the Merry Hill school will present the play "Wild Ginger" in the Merry Hill school auditorium on Wednesday night, Nov. 13, at 7:30 o'clock. Members of the cast have practiced faithfully and the entertainment promises to be one of the best ever to be presented by the school.

Mayor E. W. Spires On Important Committee

Mayor E. W. Spires has been named on the executive committee of the Institute of Government in connection with the erection of the proposed Institute of Government building in Chapel Hill. If carried out this will be the first State government laboratory in the United States. Building supply men and interested citizens have agreed to furnish the material, while the Federal Government has agreed to make a direct grant to provide the labor.

T. J. Long, of Bethel, and son, Jimmy Long, of Richmond, Va., visited the former's sister, Mrs. Ella Mae Williams, in North Edenton on Sunday. Mrs. Williams' condition remains about the same.

Miss Inez Benthall spent Monday afternoon in Williamston.

Hunter Jackson visited his parents near Elizabeth City, Sunday.

R. B. HOLLOWELL DIED ON MONDAY

Prominent Rocky Hock Man Had Been Superintendent Sunday School 41 Years

Many friends were grieved Monday upon hearing of the death of Richard B. Hollowell, who died at 10:30 that morning at his home in Rocky Hock. His death followed an accident three weeks ago when his hip was broken by a fall from a porch. He suffered greatly since the accident, but up until that time, despite his 84 years of age, he had been very active and a hard working farmer.

Mr. Hollowell was a life-long resident of Chowan County, being born in the upper end of the County, and moving to Rocky Hock 43 years ago. He took an active part in every community affair and was especially interested and derived much pleasure in doing church work. He was senior deacon of the Rocky Hock Baptist Church and for the past 41 years was superintendent of the Sunday School. He also served as superintendent of the Ballards Bridge Sunday School prior to moving to Rocky Hock.

Mr. Hollowell was highly esteemed by his neighbors and a host of friends all over the County, who regarded him as one of the most upright and christian-like gentlemen among their acquaintances.

The deceased is survived by one daughter, Mrs. W. H. Saunders, of Rocky Hock; and four sons, T. R. Hollowell, of Norfolk, Va.; Rev. W. H. Hollowell, of Republican, Bertie County; W. C. Hollowell and Raleigh Hollowell, of Edenton. A sister, Mrs. Bettie Evans, of Gates County, also survives, as well as a number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 3:00 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in Rocky Hock Church, in charge of Rev. Frank Cale, who was assisted by Rev. E. L. Wells, of Edenton, and Rev. W. T. C. Briggs. Interment took place in the family burying ground. The funeral was largely attended and the profusion of lovely floral offerings bore silent tribute to the esteem in which he was held.

Active pallbearers were: R. W. Leary, Sr., J. E. Bunch, Eli T. Byrum, W. E. Bunch, W. H. Pierce and J. N. Smith.

Honorary pallbearers were: J. R. T. Perry, C. D. Privott, C. D. Webb, W. A. Harrell, M. F. White, Joe Wiggins, A. Bass, Mark Bunch, Dr. W. A. Leggett, Dr. J. A. Powell, Dr. M. P. Whichard, Dr. L. P.
