The SNAPSHOT GUILD

HAVE A SNAPSHOT PARTY

The "magic chair" will prove to be a popular attraction.

SOME people just naturally frown on the idea of doing anything unusual or different, but be that as it may, here's a suggestion for a new kind of party. A "Snapshot at Night Party" and the chances are it will be voted by those who are fortunate enough to be invited as an outstanding success.

To further add to the merriment of the party you might have your guests come in costume. Tell them to come dressed as their favorite movie star, some famous person of history, a character from one of the nursery rhymes, or you might simplify the matter of costumes and make it a regular "Kid Party," all guests dressing as children.

Setting the stage for your Snapshots at Night Party is very simple and can be done before your guests arrive. Here is what you do. Place a chair in an out-of-the-way part of the room so that it will not be disturbed by the guests as they arrive. Close to the back and to the right of the chair place a floor lamp so that the light bulb is about two feet from the back of the chair. Now tilt the shade slightly upward so that it will throw the light directly over and down on the shoulders and head of the person sitting in the chair. About three feet directly in front of the chair place another floor lamp with its shade tilted to throw the light directly on the front of your subject and chair. You now have one floor lamp back of and to the right of the chair and another one three feet in front of the chair or subject.

With the lamps in this position you will have to take the picture from the side; so place your camera on a table or some firm support at a point where you can see all of your subject in the finder. If you have a folding camera with an f.6.3 lens open it to this aperture and set the shutter speed at 1/25 of a second.

With supersensitive panchromatic film in your camera and two Photoflood bulbs in the lamp facing the subject and one in the lamp back of the chair you are ready for the arrival of your guests and fascinating indoor snapshots at night.

In placing your camera be sure that neither of the lights shines directly into the lens of the camera or shows in your finder.

After your guests have arrived lead them one by one to the "magic chair," switch on the Photoflood lamps, and—snap—you have the picture. And you can count on much merriment as each faces the camera.

Suppose you do not have a camera with a lens as fast as f.6.3. You can have your party and take pictures with any camera just the same. You can take a short time exposure without any change in your set-up.

In taking either a snapshot at night at 1/25 of a second or a time exposure picture, caution your guest not to move when the picture is actually being taken.

You and your guests will have fun at a Snapshots at Night party and in turn you will have some highly interesting pictures to enjoy looking at for many years to come.

TOMATOES

By The Ton!

MORE tomatoes than any other vegetable are canned in this country today. The annual value of our tomato crop is estimated at more than $50,000,000 of which approximately $20,000,000 is spent for tomatoes by canners and manufacturers. Besides being canned, tomatoes are manufactured into soups, purées, catsups and tomato juice. From 1,000,000 to 1,250,000 tons are grown annually for the canners and manufacturers!

There is a very good reason for this. And that is that modern cooking minus tomatoes would be very much like the play of Hamlet with Hamlet left out. Not that there is anything so dramatic or heroic about the part the tomato plays in modern cooking, but as a general utility man he just simply can't be left out. What would the following recipes taste like, for instance, without the tomatoes?

Tomatoes Give the Tone

Tomato Fritters: Beat one egg slightly, add two cups canned tomatoes and one and a third cups crushed cracker crumbs, and season with salt and pepper. Drop from spoon into plenty of hot fat in a skillet. Brown on one side, turn and brown on the other side. Drain on brown paper. Makes about twelve small fritters.

Meat Loaf with Tomatoes: Add one small finely chopped onion, one teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon pepper, one teaspoon sage and one-half cup dry bread crumbs to one pound of chopped beef. Add one beaten egg. Mix well together and pile in a rounded mound in the center of a flat baking dish. Pour over one cup canned tomatoes and bake in a hot—400 degree—oven for about forty-five minutes, basting occasionally with the tomatoes. Serves four.

T. E. L. CLASS HAS ENJOYABLE MEETING

The T. E. L. Class of the Edenton Baptist Church met Monday evening for the regular monthly business and social hour. The meeting was held with Mrs. George W. Lassiter at her home on North Broad Street.

"Wonderful Words of Life" opened the meeting, and Mrs. J. Frank White, Sr., led in prayer. Mrs. Lassiter read the 37th Psalm, which was followed by singing "Rock of Ages." Routine business was disposed of, and some discussion of new business made. Catherine Shump recited "The Gingham Dog and the Calico Cat," and several selections were sung by the male quartette of the Baptist Church.

Mrs. C. S. Cozart invited the class to meet with her in February.

The hostess served dainty refreshments to the following class members: Mrs. B. F. Francis, Mrs. C. S. Cozart, Mrs. J. C. Leary, Mrs. J. Frank White, Sr., Mrs. J. J. Long, Mrs. J. C. Dail, Mrs. R. W. Boyce, and Mrs. H. B. Jones.

Mrs. W. Jim Daniels On Honorable Mention List

Last week the Garden Club committee in drawing off their list of names of those to be given honorable mention for residential Christmas decorations overlooked mentioning the home of Mrs. W. J. Daniels.

The Club asked The Herald to mention this oversight and to say that the decorations arranged by Mrs. Daniels were very beautiful and that they regret the omission, which was later discovered.

His Guess

Mr. Softy—You know, I am very fond of birds. Yesterday one sweet little thing actually settled on my head.
