

STUFF AND NONSENSE

By Wilborne Harrell

OUR LITTLE GIRL

To that gorgeous little goddess, Shirley Temple, America's youngest sweetheart and Filmland's littlest star:

I have a secret for you, dear Shirley, You with your head so curly And your eyes so twinkly And your nose so crinkly, And those little tapping toes, How they patter, goodness knows; And those dimples, in each rosy cheek With your sunny smile that plays hide and seek—

A wonderful secret for your very, very own that mustn't be told, So don't you tell a single solitary soul:

Most everybody in the whole, wide world Wants you to be their little girl.

Twinkle, twinkle, little star, A bit of heaven is what you are.

GRAND-DAD

To my grandfather, F. W. Curran, venerable patriarch of the soil and staunch bulwark of the faith of his fathers, on the occasion of his 82nd birthday:

His face is seamed by the hand of time Where the wind and the rain have taken their toll; His eyes look forth from a soul sublime,

Ripe in years, yet unbowed nor old. On his brow serene from the plow of God

Furrows and etchings abound— Even as he in his field turned the sod and furrowed and etched the ground.

Fortunes aren't won in easy chairs, Too much rocking ne'er made millionaires.

Terrible Roads In Bertie Hindrance To Funeral

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon for Mrs. Margaret Miller, 58, who died Friday night at her home in the Mars Hill section of Bertie County.

Mrs. Miller, who was in her usual health, died in about 30 minutes following a heart attack. Services were held in the Mars Hill Baptist Church, and were in charge of Rev. Mr. Mustin, the pastor. Interment took place in the family burying ground.

The deceased is survived by her husband and one daughter, Miss Elsie Miller, who is assistant postmistress at the Colerain postoffice.

A regretful occurrence in connection with the funeral of Mrs. Miller is the fact that the dirt roads in Eastern Bertie County are in such a deplorable state that the undertaker was obliged to use a mule and cart to convey the body to the church, and those who attended the funeral were forced to use the same means for transportation.

The Edenton undertaker was forced to cross the Chowan River by boat and resort to a mule and cart upon arrival on the Bertie side.

A TRIBUTE

On the morning of February 17th, the anniversary of his mother's wedding day, Thomas Davis Warren passed into the confines of that spiritual world "from whose bourne no traveler returns."

Mr. Warren was the son of William Young and Frances Rouhac Warren and he grew up at "Beechwood," family home about a mile from Edenton. After the completion of his course at the University of North Carolina, and his marriage in June 1904 to Miss Mary Agnes Stevenson, of Kinston, Mr. Warren practiced law with his younger brother, Julien Warren in Trenton, for a short while and eventually moved to New Bern, that old town rich in antiquity and geographic beauty, where he purchased the old gray home on Pollock Street and became actively engaged in law and politics until the failure of his health about two years ago.

For eight years as chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee he guided the policies of his party and during the World War he was appointed United States District Attorney by President Wilson.

Here lying wrapped in the majestic sleep of death in his flower-crowned and beautiful home, friends and relatives gathered from far and wide to do him honor with loving sympathy and blossoms symbolizing immortality. The burial service was held in Christ Church, where his old rector, Dr. Huske, assisted by the present rector, Mr. Williams, officiated.

As we review the record of the past our hearts will bear testimony to the worth of his character and the value of his achievements.

Colerain Bottled Up By Impassable Roads

Are slow-cleansing tooth pastes robbing you of really white teeth?

Stop using slow-cleansing tooth pastes if you want really white teeth. A remarkable new kind of tooth paste—made by the makers of Dr. West's famous toothbrush—cleans teeth double quick—yet it cannot scratch enamel. For really white teeth, start using Dr. West's Double Quick Tooth Paste.
