

RED MEN STAGE ANNUAL FISH FRY

Principal Address at Affair Made By Judge W. C. Morse, of Elizabeth City

Chowan Tribe No. 12, Improved Order Red Men, held their annual fish fry Tuesday night at the fair grounds when a large number of local Red Men, their wives, and a delegation from Pasquotank Tribe in Elizabeth City were present. The fish fry was under the direction of Harrison Spruill, who went to a great deal of pains to arrange for the affair. Long tables were erected for the convenience of those present, who were promptly served by a group of young ladies.

Guests were served promptly at 8 o'clock, immediately after which a short but interesting program was held in front of the grandstand when the principal address was made by Judge W. C. Morse, of Elizabeth City. During the course of his remarks Mr. Morse stressed the tenets of the Order: Freedom, Friendship and Charity, and very strikingly brought out the fact that a fraternity feeling such as prevails in the Improved Order of Red Men plays a great part in the perpetuation of peace in a world troubled with unrest. To emphasize his point he referred to the unsettled conditions in sections of the world where there is a lack of fraternities, and where all sorts of wicked and barbarous tactics are resorted to for selfish purposes.

Mr. Morse closed his very interesting address by urging his hearers to ring true to the Red, White and Blue which waves over the land of the free and the home of the brave.

Adding to the pleasure of the evening was string music furnished by the Honolulu Strummers, composed of Myrtle Presley, John Presley, Wilborne Harrell, Rupert Wright and Shelton Rogerson.

The convention will remain in session through September 24th, after which time Mr. White will return home.

Soon Start Drilling For Another Well

Practically all of the well digging equipment of the Layne Atlantic Company has been moved from the fair grounds to the Anne Matthews property, owned by the Town, on the Virginia Road, preparatory to another attempt to dig a new well for the town.

A plentiful supply of water was found on the fair grounds, but due to the condition of the sand, the water would not flow fast enough for the pumps, hence the change of sites. Digging operations on the new site will soon begin.

REPORT OF GRAND JURY

Suggestions involving alterations and repairs to the county jail and the jailer's home as well as at the County Home, and a recommendation that Keeper Harrell, of the latter place have his salary raised to $75 a month, were embodied in the September grand jury report presented Tuesday to Superior Court Judge J. Paul Frizzelle, presiding. The report was signed by J. H. Haskett, as foreman, and his associate grand jurors were: McCoy Spivey, C. H. Barber, Wilbur Hollowell, James Davenport, Glenn Bunch, Roy Parks, W. C. Bunch, R. A. Chappell, Edgar Pearce, A. S. Smith, Carl Davenport, A. W. Bunch, N. E. Hollowell, F. O. Muth, R. A. Beasley, E. B. Williams and W. H. Dail.

Around 300 south shore opponents were in attendance at the hearing, as were a large group favoring the site selected by the Commission, led by Mayor E. W. Spires. The local representatives remained silent at the gathering, however, preferring to leave the matter in the hands of the Commission. Mr. Tatem charged "You are building this bridge over the protest of 30,000 people," although he did not say where 30,000 bridge users would come from in Dare, Tyrrell and Washington counties, and later he asserted "it will ruin our future."

The Tatem plan as outlined in objection to the proposed bridge called for bridging the Alligator River, Croatan Inlet and the Roanoke River at Plymouth, all entailing an expenditure, together with a Sound bridge from Ship Point to Reed Point at an aggregate cost for all of around $4,000,000, which the Commission, of course, dismissed as absurd at this time.

Chairman Waynick finally brought the discussion to a close by saying to Mr. Tatem, who kept accusingly referring to "the Wood bridge," "I have not been interested in the personal ownership of anybody's land, and while I cannot question your representation of the people down there I can tell you that I have here on my desk numerous telegrams and letters urging the Commission to stand pat on its decision, and I wish to tell you that the Commission loves North Carolina as a whole and wants to develop North Carolina as a whole."

Some of the telegrams Mr. Waynick referred to were in defense of Mr. Wood from the mean aspersions in print and otherwise from the south shore people. One such message of endorsement was from Federal Judge Isaac M. Meekins, a Republican, of Elizabeth City, who said he was confident Mr. Wood's site preference had "not been influenced in the slightest by personal considerations."

In addition to Representative Tatem others who spoke against the bridge were J. H. Matthews, C. W. Spruill and E. S. Askew, of Bertie; Mayon Parker, of Hertford; W. H. S. Burgwyn, of Northampton; George E. Davis, of Hyde; Melvin R. Daniels, of Dare, and J. C. Meekins, of Tyrrell.

Mrs. Lula Lupton is quite ill at her home in North Edenton.

Except for the usual references to the condition of the public school busses, most of which were found to be in good condition, and the rest requiring only minor repairs, the report says:

"We, the grand jury serving at the September term, 1936, of the Superior Court of Chowan County, beg to make the following report and recommendation:

"The county jail was visited and found to be in good condition. There are six colored men in the jail. We recommend the purchase of two mattresses for the women's ward. We recommend the jail's lower floor be elevated in the back so it can be easily cleaned, and that iron steps be installed to the upper floor of the jail.

"We recommend that the jailer's home front and back porch and dining room floors be repaired.

"We visited the offices of the Register of Deeds and found same in good condition.

"We visited the Sheriff's office and found same to be in good condition. "We visited the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court and found it in good condition. The Clerk reports all guardians have filed reports.

"The County Home was visited and found in good condition. But the keeper states that the Home is filled up and needs more room. There are three white women, six white men, two colored women and three colored men. We recommend a porch for the colored quarters. We recommend the keeper's salary be raised to $75 per month.

"All matters brought before us have been handled to the best of our knowledge.

"Respectfully submitted,
"J. H. HASKETT,
"Foreman."
