

By L. L. STEVENSON

Baby Bunting Stuff: A lot of Broadwayites go up into Connecticut over the week-end with the intention of hunting rabbits. Whether or not they bring back any game, they certainly bring back yarns about desperate encounters with bunnies in the hills and dales of the Nutmeg State — yarns that would make Frank Buck blush. Among the more enthusiastic of the hunters is Johnny the Call Boy who is so small that, reports have it, he has to make sure his rabbit is dead before he picks it up, otherwise he would have to fight for his life. Incidentally, I've heard stories of good hunting, even if this isn't rabbit season but I haven't seen a rabbit — except those that occasionally run across the highway at high speed.

Just a Slight Drop: Up in Stamford, N. Y., which is in the heart of the summer resort section, the hotel men got together to ascertain the highest point in the town. It was discovered that 2,500 feet, which, though somewhat lower than nearby hills, is as high up as the village goes. At any rate, a hotel happened to be located at that point, so that 2,500-foot elevation was duly advertised, according to my informant. But some prospective guests wrote that their hearts wouldn't stand that altitude. So the advertising was changed to read, "Altitude, 1,700 feet" and everything is going along all right.

Music and the Law: Our old hand-organ man, the one with the handle-bar mustache and a fondness for "The Marseillaise," is back on the job again. Questioned as to how he got around the mayor's order barring hurdy-gurdys, he replied that, after he had laid off until his money was all gone, he visited the mayor and begged him for a license. The mayor, so the organ-grinder said, replied that he couldn't give him a license but he could take his organ out provided he moved along whenever any one ordered him to do so. Instead of ordering him to move on, May went down with a dime and thereby obtained three more tunes — and this paragraph.

This and That Dep't: The McAlpin is said to be the only New York hotel with a woman house detective on its staff. . . . Joan Marsh, motion picture actress, may be added to the list of those with hobbies. She collects autographs of other motion picture actresses. . . . Richard Gordon, whose radio life as Sherlock Holmes is spent tracking down criminals, won't go to any movie or read any book dealing with gangs or gangsters. . . . Philips Lord, radio gang buster, is afraid he'll have to give up his livelihood. His daughter Patricia is the cause. When she grows up, she wants to be a "lady cop". . . . Jimmy, Phil Dues's seven-year-old son, a favorite with Jack Benny, Eddie Cantor, Phil Baker and other grown-ups who visit the Dues home, is a hard luck youngster. After getting a tooth knocked out, he fell ill with mumps. Recovering, he ran right into a siege of measles. But he's getting along nicely.

Search for an Original: A report that a member of the original cast of "Aida," first produced in Cairo in 1871, is somewhere in New York is causing a lot of activity on the part of members of the Del l'Orefice Opera Co. Despite the years that must have come on the singer, he is wanted to take part in the millionth performance which is to be given August 1 with the Welfare Council of New York's fund for crippled children as the beneficiary.

Just as Woman to Woman: Esther Velas, who wields a baton over an all-male orchestra in the Hotel Roosevelt, doesn't think the average woman musician is in the same class with the average male musician. "She is too sentimental a creature to become a really good performer," declared Miss Velas. Born in Russia, educated in France, Miss Velas, a concert violinist at sixteen, has conducted orchestras in various parts of the world—all male orchestras. And she can express her opinion of women musicians in seven languages.

"Old Faithful" Isn't Faithful Any More

Yellowstone Park, Wyo. — The longest and shortest intervals between eruptions of Old Faithful geyser were recorded here recently. The usually reliable geyser spouted once at 11:56 a. m. and then burst into action again at 12:26 p. m., a wait of only thirty minutes. Then followed an interval of ninety-two minutes, or until 1:58 p. m. Old Faithful seldom varies from sixty-five-minute intervals between outbursts.

June Is a Fritter Fiend

Young Hollywood Star Gives Favorite Recipes

By Mabel Love

JUNE TRAVIS, who has been winning new laurels by her performance in "Jailbreak," is one of the most charming members of Hollywood's group of younger screen actresses. She is also what might be called a fritter fiend. When it comes to making fritters she claims that she is a real authority, and to prove it she stands ready to take on all comers who think they can out-do her in the fritter line.

One of the favorite recipes of this young Warner Brothers star is for a pineapple fritter which she says is particularly good when served with chops, ham or veal steak, or a curry dish. Here is her recipe for it.

Royal Fritters

- 1 No. 3 can Hawaiian pineapple sliced in spear-like shapes
- 1½ cups all-purpose flour
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 egg
- ¾ to 1 cup milk
- 2 tablespoons powdered sugar

Drain and dry the pineapple slices with absorbent paper or a fresh tea towel. Sift flour, salt and baking powder; stir in well-beaten egg and milk. This batter should be just thick enough to coat the pineapple. Heat fat (about 1 quart in a deep, flat bottom pan) to 360 or 375° F., or until a cube of bread will brown in about 60 seconds. Then dip pineapple in batter and fry in deep fat 2 or 3 minutes until a golden brown. Drain on absorbent paper. Sprinkle with powdered sugar before serving.

Just for good measure, June also gives a recipe for a sauce which she says is delicious for serving either with fritters or puddings.

Pineapple Sauce

- 2 cups canned Hawaiian pineapple juice
- Lemon rind
- 5 tablespoons sugar
- Juice of 1 lemon
- 2 teaspoons cornstarch
- 1 tablespoon water

Boil the pineapple juice with a piece of lemon rind. In another pan melt the sugar to a golden brown color, then add the pineapple juice and boil for a few minutes. Mix cornstarch with water and stir into sauce to thicken it. Boil for 5 minutes. Add lemon juice, and strain. This sauce may be served hot or cold.

had spent several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Harrell, on West Gale Street, being joined by her husband Friday.

Mrs. R. W. Leary, Jr., Mrs. E. E. Harrell and Mrs. Rob Bunch spent Monday in Norfolk, Va.

Miss Evelyn Spruill, Miss Anne Hinton Davis, Mrs. Worth Spencer, and John Byrum spent Tuesday in Elizabeth City.

Miss Anne Davis will spend the week-end with friends at Goldsboro.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wilkins and their daughters, Grace and Edna Mae, spent Sunday in Elizabeth City.

Mrs. H. C. Privott, Mrs. H. B. Chappell, Mr. and Mrs. George Privott and Miss Mary Arrington Burton spent Wednesday in Norfolk, Va.

RUBBER DOLLARS

How often have you and friend wife wondered how "the Joneses" seemed to do so much on their income? From remarks dropped by Jones, you're almost certain you earn as much as he. You're dead certain you and your wife are not extravagant or wasteful. Yet the Joneses do little things you can't afford—and have little things for which you can't spare the money. How come?

The truth is that the Joneses have a secret. They have discovered a way of putting rubber into dollars. Through the knowledge of this secret they have learned that a dollar can be stretched beyond its ordinary buying limits.

What is this secret? They read the advertisements!

In the advertisements in this newspaper, reliable merchants and manufacturers offer you their finest values. Before going to the stores to buy, shop here first. Compare products until you've found just what you want. Compare prices until you've pleased your purse. You'll save endless hours of weary walking. And you will buy with the comforting assurance that every dollar has done its duty!
