

AT ST. PAUL'S

Union Thanksgiving Day Service with our Methodist friends in the Methodist Church Thursday at 10 A. M. Your minister the preacher. We make our contribution to the Thompson Orphanage that day. You will bring your envelope to the Methodist Church service. If not able to attend this service, send your envelope to the Church or put on the collection plate at a later date. The orphans, wards of ours along with other Episcopalians of the State, depend for a living upon the concern we have for them. Be as generous as you can. Some people just cannot be generous. A suggestion that they help those less fortunate than themselves or any worthy cause freezes their souls. The pocketbook nerve atrophies, excuses start up, and they do little or nothing, congratulating themselves that others must bear the burden, and they side-stepped it. Others welcome any chance to assist, even at self-sacrifice. The latter keep our churches and other wholesome institutions going. The stingy sour, cannot justify on any fair basis their attitude. All for self; let the poor, the orphans go starve. God pity these miserable creatures: "Whosoever stoppeth his ears at the cry of the poor, he also himself shall cry, but shall not be heard." The canvass is being made for parish support and general church support for 1937. Do what you believe the Christian service of St. Paul's merits, give what you can for the red side, which pays the salary of our Bishop, helps keep a chaplain at Chapel Hill, assists the Missionary clergy of the diocese and elsewhere, goes to the end of the earth, ministering in the name of the Lord. If you are missed, pledge cards may be had at the Church or from any vestryman. We hope the result of the canvass will indicate real interest upon the part of our people in the church.

Study of Book of Revelation 7:30 Sunday nights.

If any one should give me a dish of sand, and tell me there were particles of iron in it, I might look for them with my eyes, and search for them with my clumsy fingers, and be unable to detect them; but let me take a magnet and sweep through it, and how it would draw to itself the almost invisible particles by the mere power of attraction. The unthankful heart, like my finger in the sand, discovers no mercies; but let the thankful heart sweep through it, and how would it draw to itself the almost invisible particles by the mere power of attraction. The thankful heart will find, in every hour, some heavenly blessings, only the iron in God's sand is gold.—Deeener. By the churchgoers. But in per capita church wealth man any other body of U. S. churchgoer. But in per capita church giving opulent Episcopalians in 1930-1934 slumped 64 per cent, dropped from 7th to last place (in contributions) among twenty churches. The missionary deficit emphasized two facts—the rich neither give to pious causes in proportion to their incomes, nor do they feel greatly aroused by Christ's command: Go ye therefore, and teach all nations.—Time.

Indicate what you really care for the work of Christ through Old St. Paul's. What will you do? Your fair share, or be a church dead-head?

Larger Peanut Crop Expected Next Year

The possibility of a further increase in peanut acreage next year is seen by the Federal Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

The acreage this year was the largest on record, the bureau stated in a report sent the State College extension service, but dry weather curtailed the crop in certain areas.

In North Carolina, the production this year will probably run close to 417,800 pounds, it was estimated, as compared with 429,775 pounds in 1935.

The slight curtailment in production, together with diversion payments from the AAA, helped hold prices at a favorable level, the report continued, and this is expected to cause an increase in next year's plantings.

This increase may extend through Virginia, North Carolina, the Southeastern States, and the southwestern States. The average farm price per pound throughout the peanut growing area this year is running close to 3.1 cents, about the same as last year.

There has been an increased demand for peanuts for crushing purposes, and this demand has been given further stimulus by the AAA payments offered on peanuts diverted into oil and meal production.

This demand is expected to be good next year, and plans are now being considered for offering diversion payments to the growers in 1937.

The price of peanuts next year will depend largely upon the demand for crushing purposes, and this in turn will depend to some extent upon the volume of hog marketing and the size of peanut oil imports, it was pointed out.

Turkey Dinner On Menu For CCC Boys

More than 500,000 pounds of turkey have been purchased to provide Thanksgiving dinners for the 350,000 men of the Civilian Conservation Corps, when they celebrate their fourth Thanksgiving in the woods on November 26, Robert Fechner, Director of Emergency Conservation Work said today.

The Quartermaster General's Office of the War Department, which has charge of the subsistence of the CCC, estimates that more than 40,000 turkeys will be required to provide each CCC man with his Thanksgiving ration allowance of twenty-five ounces of dressed turkey.

In addition to dinner, the holiday will be marked by religious services, entertainment programs, athletic matches, and other special events. Orders have been issued by the War Department to all Corps Area Commanders authorizing them to grant special leave with pay to CCC enrollees on Thanksgiving Day (not to include the day preceding or the day following). Special holiday leave will also be granted at Christmas time, which may be taken either over Christmas or New Year's.

A New Radio Feature Brings Southern Lore

A new type radio entertainment goes on the air the week of November 30th. The National Chilean Nitrate folks, in behalf of all Chilean Nitrate dealers and agents, present Uncle Natchel and Sonny. These fun makers are the two characters who first attracted attention on the National Chilean calendars. For several years these calendars have been distributed and the two characters, Uncle Natchel and Sonny are familiar to thousands of Southern farm families.

The new program will be broadcast twice each week over twelve Southern stations.

Uncle Natchel is an old deep south darky whose interest lies in natural things. That's where he gets his name, Natchel being his pronunciation. His part is played by Frank Wilson, the colored actor who played "Moses" in both the stage and motion picture version of Green Pastures. Wilson is one of the leading character actors of his race, having to his credit in addition to his Green Pastures roles, notable parts in Forgy and other stage successes.

Sonny's role is played by James Franklyn Allen, a child actor of unusual ability. Although only nine years of age, he has already scored a number of radio hits, particularly on one of the well known children's programs. He is regarded as a "comer" in every sense of the word.

Other characters in the various episodes are played by capable stage, movie and radio performers.

Each story in this new twice-a-week program has been written by Mrs. Florence Richardson, a Southerner, who has made a life study of Southern folk lore, who is reported to know more Southern songs and stories than any other writer. Her American Mountain Songs, published seven years ago has been accepted by the American Library Association as a permanent record of American songs. She has had wide radio experience.

Dates Set For Annual Newspaper Institute

January 13, 14, 15, and 16 have been set as definite dates for the 13th annual Newspaper Institute which is to be held in Chapel Hill and Durham under the auspices of the North Carolina Press Association with the University of North Carolina and Duke University cooperating.

The Institute will open on Thursday evening, instead of Wednesday evening as heretofore, to enable more weekly editors to attend, and will close on Friday at noon.

Carl C. Council, publisher of the Durham Herald Sun, who is president of the State Press Association this year, will preside over the sessions.

A number of prominent speakers have been invited and the program is rapidly taking shape.

MRS. J. C. LEARY HOSTESS TO SEWING CIRCLE GROUP

Mrs. J. C. Leary entertained the Sewing Circle at her home near Cross Roads on Thursday evening. The home was beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums. Mrs. C. J. Hollowell assisted the hostess in serving a delicious salad course with hot tea. There will be no meeting this week on account of Thanksgiving.
