

Unusual Stage Show Booked For Taylor Theatre On Monday

According to Manager Jimmie Earnhardt, of the Taylor Theatre, "Parisian Follies of 1937" will be staged at the theatre on Monday and promises to be one of the outstanding stage units of the season.

It is indeed a difficult task to get something new and different in these stage shows but Sollie Childs, who produced "Parisian Follies" has, according to all advance reports, done this very thing.

Most of the units consist of several vaudeville acts put together without much thought of production behind them. Mr. Childs, however, has devised his production first and then engaged his acts to fit the show. The entire offering blends together in perfect harmony and the theatres in which the Parisian Follies has already appeared say that the effect is startlingly different.

Among the acts featured in this show are: Elizabeth Graves, billed as the Modern Enchantress of Exotic Dancing; Pedro and Luis, sensation of acrobatic act who have just returned from a tour of the European Music Halls; Tom Gordon, comedian; the Three Revelers, Babette Smith, the Dance Coquettes, and the Parisian Rhythm Kings Stage Band.

The show will be presented both matinee and night Monday, accompanied by the feature picture "Midnight Taxi."
