

Rehabilitation Loan Applications Ready

Loans Made to Worthy Farmers With Approved Land Resources

Applications are now being received by the Farm Security Administration for rural rehabilitation loans for the next crop year, John H. Pope, County Supervisor in charge of the Rural Rehabilitation supervised loan program of the Farm Security Administration in Chowan, Gates and Perquimans counties, announced early this week from his office in Edenton.

Mr. Pope stated that a considerable part of the work of his office consists in assisting Rehabilitation farmers to make out practical Farm and Home management plans and in advising them in their farming and home operations. "In order that maximum attention may be given to that important phase of the work next spring we are doing what we can to spread the lending activity over a longer period. Farmers thought to be qualified for these loans should therefore be advised to make their applications early this fall," the Supervisor said.

"These loans are limited within the bounds of allotted funds to financially distressed farm families—whether on their own land or as tenants on rented lands—who are unable to secure proper credit from other sources to make a crop or to purchase needed livestock and equipment."

"The time given for repayment of these loans is an important factor in getting distressed families back on their feet," Mr. Pope said. "Many things which the farmer has to buy, such as livestock, farm equipment, lime and other soil improvement items do not bring their full return the first year and the longer credit period makes it unnecessary for the farmer to sacrifice needed feed and seed crops to repay his loan, as would be the case if loans were made for but one year. Where the borrower is a tenant, the term and provisions of his lease are, of course, important factors, particularly as regards loans for soil improvement items."

Mr. Pope is assisted in his work by Miss Elizabeth Payner, Rural Rehabilitation Home Supervisor. Mr. Vance E. Swift, of Raleigh, is State Director in charge of this phase of the Farm Security work.

WHAT'S WHAT ABOUT SOCIAL SECURITY

As another service to its readers, The Herald each week will give authoritative answers to questions on the Social Security Law. By special arrangement with Mr. George N. Adams in Rocky Mount, N. C., the Social Security Board has consented to pass on the accuracy of answers to questions on Social Security, which may be asked by employers, employees, and others, through The Herald. Address inquiries to the Editor. Answers will be given here in the order in which questions are received. This is an informational service and is not legal advice or service. In keeping with Social Security Board policy names will not be published.

Question: When will the Social Security Board begin to make old-age benefit payments?

Answer: Lump-sum payments are now being made daily, but it appears many persons who have sums due them have not filed claims. No payment is made unless claim is filed. If you have reached 65 since last January 1 and have been paid wages for work done as an employee since last December 31 in any employment which is not specifically excepted under the old-age benefit provisions of the Social Security Act, a payment is due you. If you have a legal interest in the estate of a worker who has died since last December 31, a payment may be due you. Your nearest Social Security Board Field Office will give you every assistance.

Question: Is it true that $10 is the least any worker will get under the Social Security Act when he reaches 65 years?

Answer: The minimum monthly old-age benefit payment which will be made to those employees who qualify for monthly benefits will be $10 a month. Payment of these will not begin until January 1942. Meanwhile lump-sum payments are made to workers who have reached 65 since last January 1 and have qualified for lump-sum payments. The amount of a lump-sum payment to an individual will vary, and will depend on the amount of wages earned by the individual. The payment will be 3 1/2 per cent of total wages. For example: Suppose wages amounted to $100; the lump-sum payment would be $35.

Question: When will unemployment ment compensation benefit payments begin?

Answer: Payment of unemployment compensation benefits will be begun to eligible workers next January in the District of Columbia, Maryland, North Carolina, Virginia and West Virginia, and many other states.

Question: How much public assistance am I entitled to each month?

Answer: The public assistance part of the Social Security program is a State-Federal program, which is administered by the State, in accordance with a State plan approved by the Social Security Board as meeting the requirements of the Social Security Act. The Act does not specify what amount shall be paid to an individual. Do not confuse old-age assistance with old-age benefits.
