

Rapid Growth Noted In Hospital Saving Movement In State

50,491 Members Enrolled During Two Years Of Existence

During the two years of its existence, 50,491 members, representing 1,298 groups located in 55 different counties, have joined the Hospital Saving Association of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, according to the annual report of Felix A. Grisetete, executive director, which was received in Edenton by Mrs. Charles Conger, local representative.

The annual report of the Association, which is a non-profit organization controlled jointly by the North Carolina Medical Society and the North Carolina Hospital Association, was released simultaneously with the annual meeting of the board of trustees, held in the executive offices at Chapel Hill.

The rapid growth of this cooperative method of protection against the expense of hospital bills was illustrated in Mr. Grisetete's report by citing the fact that there are now nearly 2,000,000 people throughout the United States who are members of the 60-odd associations which offer such a service. Although the North Carolina association is one of the youngest of the group payment plans, its membership enrollment at the end of 1937 ranked it among the first half dozen in the United States. The New York Association, obviously, led all the others with an enrollment in excess of 500,000 members.

As of December 31, Mr. Grisetete reported that the Association has paid the hospital bills of 2,567 of its members. These members were patients in an even one hundred North Carolina hospitals.

REPUBLICAN Bertie County

By Walter Hughes

Read carefully and you will find that Adam was run out of the Garden of Eden because of his laziness. He was put in the Garden to keep it, but he got so lazy he just lay around, and at last he was kicked out; and told he would have to get his living by work. This shows he would not work in the Garden: When a man doesn't have but one man in the world to hire, and at last discharges him, you may know he was no account.

A man was hunting quail the other day, and his dog trailed to a hollow log. He ran a stick in the log and twisted out a mink, ran his stick back and pulled out a rabbit, went back again and pulled out the quail.

the best blood. Sometime back four men from afar off came to my house to go birding. I said that four dogs were enough, so I turned out one of my dogs, and told the men to kill the birds, that the dog would take care of himself. Soon they came back. I said, "What's the matter?" "Why we've killed the limit," I was told. The dog stood in a new ground. When we came close to the dog, he sunk from view. The quail began to rise, one at a time, so we killed thirty-eight. We looked down to see where the dog was. He was down in a stump hole, and with his foot, was letting the quail out—one at the time.
