

Colored Debaters Lost In State Final

The debating team of the colored high school, after being victorious in elimination triangles, lost out in the State finals Friday night when the affirmative debaters lost to the Greensboro school. The negative team, however, won at the same time from Rich Square. Greensboro won the cup, both sides having been victorious.

The local affirmative debaters, who have lost only two out of five debates in two years are Joseph Lawrence and Harriett Williams. The negative team, going through two years undefeated are Johnnie Horton and Haywood Banks.

Legionnaires Plan Sons Legion Group

Boys Will Attend Next Meeting of Ed Bond Post

If plans materialize as promulgated at the meeting of Ed Bond Post Friday night, Chowan County will in the near future be represented by a branch of Sons of the Legion. The idea was generally discussed, the opinion being advanced that such an organization would greatly increase interest in the local post, which at present is far above par. There are quite a number of sons of Legionnaires in Chowan and the plan will be discussed with them to ascertain the apparent interest in such a group.

The sons of Ed Bond Post members will no doubt be asked to attend the next meeting of the Post before definite steps are taken to organize.

Richard Dixon Taking C.M.T.C. Applications

Richard D. Dixon has again been named Chowan County chairman of the Military Training Camp's Association and is now ready to receive applications. The camp for this area will be held at Fort Bragg from June 16 to July 15. Mr. Dixon says the quota for Chowan is 3 but that he will register more than that number who may enter camp providing some other county fails to send its full quota.

The C. M. T. Camps are direct descendants of the pre-war Plattsburg Camp originated by the late General Leonard Wood. Physical examination during the war indicated that nearly half the young men of the country were physically unfit for active military service. This alarming situation was met by Congress in 1920 by creating the Citizens Military Training Camps, which normally provide approximately forty thousand young men annually with proper diet, and exercise amidst healthful outdoor surroundings. These young men return to their homes ardent exponents of the American principles of physical health and fitness.

The mission of these training camps is to bring together under healthful surroundings on a common basis of equality, young men from all walks of life, and by supervised athletics, military drill and instruction in citizenship to develop them mentally, morally, and physically, promote wholesome respect for American ideals, teach the value of teamwork, fit them for leadership, and impress upon them the obligations and responsibilities of true American citizenship.

Civil Cases Cause Extended Session April Term Court

Nixon Divorce Suit Finally Settled on Saturday

Despite the preponderance of criminal matters, hastily disposed of, last week's term of Superior Court with Judge C. E. Thompson presiding, managed to drag out longer than was expected. One elaborate civil action and two divorce cases kept Judge Thompson and the bar active until Saturday afternoon.

The Nixon vs Nixon divorce, which has been on the dockets in various forms since 1933, ran two days, and resulted in a quick jury severance of marital ties, in favor of Mordecai Morris Nixon and against his former wife, Marchia Small Nixon. The case brought out a large attendance of mid-county residents where both the parties to the action are prominently known. John W. Graham and J. H. Leroy, the latter from Elizabeth City, represented Mr. Nixon, and W. D. Pruden appeared for the defendant. Judge Thompson noted on the verdict permission, if desired, to reopen the action at the September term.

The other divorce, granted in the usual perfunctory manner, had Jesse A. Craft, a new Edenton resident, and Arvilla L. Craft, as the principals. It was uncontested and Mr. Craft was allowed a severance.

The civil action, highly interesting, involved a suit for freight charges on a carload of mules shipped to C. T. Griffin from East St. Louis, Mo., with the last carrier, the Norfolk Southern Railroad, suing for $235. Mr. Griffin brought a counter-suit for the death of one mule in transit and damage to 24 others, totaling $535. The verdict was a sort of compromise, the railroad being allowed its freight bill and Mr. Griffin allowed the cost of the mule lost and expense for treating the remainder of the shipment.

Funeral Held Tuesday For K. R. Winslow

Funeral services were held Tuesday at Warwick Baptist Church for K. R. Winslow, prominent out-county resident. Mr. Winslow died Monday morning in Lake View Hospital, Suffolk, Va., following an illness of several years. The funeral was largely attended and many flowers attested to the esteem in which he was held.

He is survived by his widow, the former Maybelle Privott, and four children, Katherine, James Russell,

Robert Ray and Margaret, all at home. His mother, Mrs. James Winslow, and a brother, Roy Winslow, both of Gliden, and a sister, Mrs. Lester Rountree, of Hobbsville, also survive.

Mr. Snail won, because he kept going and did not stop to sleep and tell what he was going to do on the morrow. In this contest there are both classes—the flash and the steady go-getter and it is safe to predict that the go-getter who keeps plugging away—who keeps at subscription getting steadily will come under the wire a winner—May 21.

The sliding scale of votes which subscriptions earn for the four periods of the campaign will be found on the front of each receipt book. It is important that all contestants study this table carefully, in order that they may realize the importance of getting subscriptions in immediately.

Now is the most important time in the entire campaign, the time to collect promises. Get every possible subscription, and report it Saturday. Now is the time to go over the top—make this week your very best one.

Candidates Working Hard

(Continued From Page One) this campaign. Hard work and determination count for most and are the two requirements necessary to land a big prize. Work and you must win.

The leaders of today must make every moment count or they will be passed by the go-getters that are out to win the big prizes. So far this week the late starters are about to carry away the honors for turning in the most subscriptions and unless the tide turns there will be new leaders next week.

Not a minute can be lost today—or tomorrow. Remember the story of the rabbit and the snail? Fleet as old Mr. Rabbit was, and as slow as Mr. Snail moved, at the end of the

Because her husband would come home in the dead of night, stand at the foot of her bed, and recite Poe's mournful "Raven," Mrs. Andrew Darling, of Camden, N. J., sued for a divorce.
