

Huge Amount Paid To Beneficiaries In Old Age Insurance

In Norfolk Area Over $37,000 Paid to 1,000 Claimants

INCLUDES CHOWAN

More Than $13,000,000 Paid In U. S. Since Jan. 1, 1937

A statement issued by Horace K. Dickson, manager of the Norfolk office of the Social Security Board, shows that 69 claims for old-age insurance were certified for payment to eligible persons in this area during January, 1939.

Since the start of the program, on January 1, 1937, 1,000 claims, amounting to $37,050.70, have been certified for payment to persons living within the counties of Elizabeth City, Isle of Wight, Nansemond, Norfolk, Princess Anne, Southampton, Warwick and York, in the State of Virginia, and the counties of Currituck, Camden, Pasquotank, Gates, Perquimans and Chowan, in the State of North Carolina, which comprise the area served by the Norfolk office.

A little more than half, or 558, of these claims were filed by relatives of deceased workers who were employed in jobs covered by the Social Security Act and who died before receiving benefits. A total of 442 claims were paid to insured workers in this area, who reached the age of 65 during recent months, after having worked in jobs that come under the Act.

Mr. Dickson said that since the old-age insurance provisions went into operation on January 1, 1937, more than $326,303 in benefits, representing about 10,258 claims were certified for payment to citizens of Virginia and North Carolina. Of that number, 637 claims were approved by the Social Security Board during January 1939 and certified to the United States Treasury for payment. The average amount of claims certified for payment in January was $51.72 in Virginia and $40.24 in North Carolina. More than one and a quarter million dollars in old-age insurance benefits, representing about 18,700 claims, were certified for payment throughout the United States during January. Since January 1, 1937, more than 285,000 claims, totaling $13,000,000 have been certified.

THE AWFUL PRICE YOU PAY FOR BEING NERVOUS

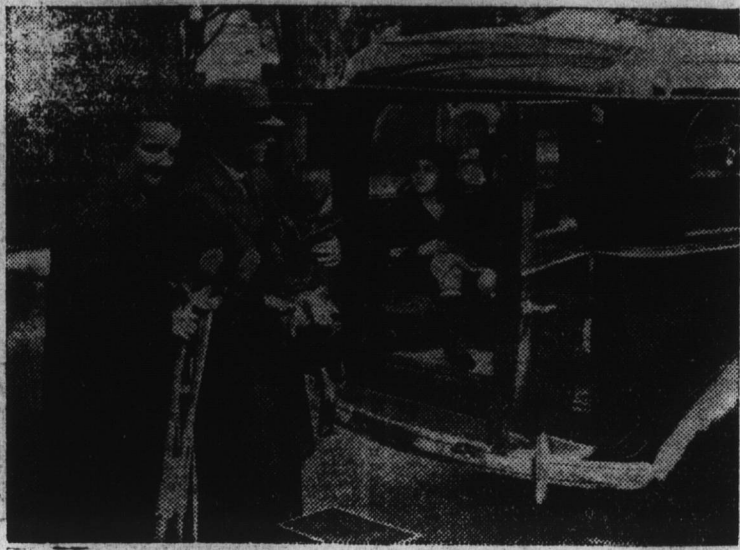

Quivering nerves can make you old and haggard looking, cranky and hard to live with—can keep you awake nights and rob you of good health, good times and fun.

What you may need is a particularly good woman's tonic—and could you ask for anything whose benefits are better proved than famous Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? Let its wholesome herbs and roots help. Doctors build up more physical resistance and thus help calm your shivering nerves, give more energy and make life worth living again.

Then a middle-aged woman who reported: "Why not let Pinkham's Compound help YOU, too, to get 'small-time' better than the 100 other women who are still 'BE GOOD!'?"

Help to Eliminate Such Scenes

In too many communities this is an unfamiliar scene—that of crippled tots being safely bundled off to school. In order to provide transportation for the great majority of crippled children unable to attend school because they can't get there, and to give crippled children other opportunities for a better life, the Chowan Society for Rehabilitation, under the direction of Chairman W. J. Taylor, is making plans to make a record sale of Easter seals as part of a nation-wide drive. They will cost only a penny each, and everybody is urged to help in this worthy undertaking.

Funeral Held Monday For Louis E. Myers

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon for Louis E. Myers, who died at his home in Washington, D. C., on Friday. Due to information sought by the family relative to burial in Beaver Hill Cemetery when he was not expected to live, it was erroneously reported that Mr. Myers died Friday of the previous week and caused considerable anxiety among friends when the body failed to arrive.

The services were held at the graveside in Beaver Hill Cemetery, with Rev. W. C. Benson officiating. Mr. Myers was 66 years of age and had been employed as a watchmaker by Campen's Jewelry Store before leaving Edenton about ten years ago. Surviving are his wife, two daughters, Edith and Doris, and two sons, Myron and Ray.

Pallbearers were H. A. Campen, E. W. Spires, H. C. Jackson, C. W. Sawyer, John M. Elliott and J. Edwin Buflap.
