

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

DEATH

International Sunday School Lesson for March 26, 1939

Golden Text: "Christ also suffered for sins once, the righteous for the unrighteous, that he might bring us to God."—I Peter 3:18.

Lesson Text: I Peter 1.17-23; 2:20-25

With this lesson, we bring to a close our quarter's study of the life and teachings of Peter. Taken from the first Epistle of Peter, this lesson gives Peter's interpretation for the benefit of the early believers of the suffering and death of his beloved Lord.

First proclaiming salvation by the suffering Christ, he emphasizes the fact that God is our Father, Christ is our Saviour and all Christians are brothers—having the same Heavenly Father.

God, in His wise providence, not desiring that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance, and realizing the tendency of man to sin, provided a way of escape from the penalty of his sins. "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." (John 3:16). The only way of escape provided by a loving Father, therefore, is belief on and acceptance of Jesus Christ, the Son of God, "who his ownself bore our sins in his own body on the tree, that we, being dead to sins, should live unto righteousness." (I Peter 2:24).

We cannot explain or "interpret" the atonement. All we can say is that Christ was able to make atonement for our sins because he himself was sinless. Peter says he was "without blemish and without spot" and that "he did no sin, neither was guile found in him." A sinful person could never redeem the lost world. Maltie D. Babcock said, "I do not understand the Atonement; and it is not necessary that I should. But I believe and accept, and that makes it operative for me. The man who has the most perfect and satisfactory theory of the Atonement—fair to God and just to men—is not saved by his theory, but by his faith in God's love, and the yielding of his will to it. All the laws of God's universe need obedience, not understanding, to unlock their power for us. Be obedient to the law, and you get its results."

feed is required for one hen, one dairy cow, one beef animal, one hog, one sheep and one horse or mule. The circular also contains a garden calendar, showing what, when and how to plant dozens of vegetables adapted to this section, and a crop rotation table which lists the general crops, and other crops which follow best to conserve and enrich the soil.

Dr. Schaub said "It is not possible to predict definitely in advance what price farm products will bring. Those depending upon money received from the sale of farm products with which to purchase food for the family and feed for the livestock often find themselves without the necessary funds. The farmer who produces his living largely from the farm and who conserves the fertility of the soil usually lives well every year and in the end has more cash as a result of his labors."

John B. Bunch Buried On Monday Afternoon

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon for John B. Bunch, 28, who died at his home in New York following a brief illness of Bright's disease. He left Edenton for New York about 15 years ago. ### Every Farm Family To Get Publication

Each person on the farm needs three bushels of wheat, two bushels of corn, 1.8 bushels of Irish potatoes, two bushels of sweet potatoes, 85 pounds of pork and lard, 30 dozen eggs, four gallons of sorghum, and quantities of about 15 other foods to maintain health throughout the year.

This information is contained in a new publication prepared by E. W. Gaither, analyst of the State College Extension Service, and now being distributed to every farm family in North Carolina. It is designed to aid the farm family in planning its food and feed requirements, and crop rotation.

Dr. I. O. Schaub, director of the Extension Service, is having the pamphlet distributed through the county farm and home agents, but he announced that copies are also available upon request to the Agricultural Editor at State College, Raleigh, for Extension Circular No. 235, "Facing Farm Facts."

In addition to tables listing the Swanner, Jr., M. L. Johnson, William food requirements for one person, Sexton, Jimmy Partin, Augustus there are tables showing how much
