

Death Suddenly Claims C. A. Haste On Thursday Night Lives Only Four Min- utes After Internal Hemorrhage

Friends all over Chowan County were shocked Friday morning when they learned that Calvin Andrew Haste died very suddenly the night before at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. H. Dail. He was 78 years of age and had enjoyed splendid health all of his life, death coming as a result of an internal hemorrhage. He lived only four minutes after he was stricken. Eating a hearty supper Thursday night, the deceased was in high spirits and expressed his intention to attend the meeting of boards of election to be held in Edenton Saturday.

Mr. Haste was the son of the late John Calvin and Rachel Barnes Haste. He was born February 11, 1862, in Bertie County. When only three months old he was brought to Chowan County by an uncle, Andrew Haste, after his father was killed in the Civil War and his mother died. Being reared during the reconstruction days, he was able to enjoy only the bare necessities of life, and though he was deprived of educational advantages, he developed into a prominent farmer and a strong believer in education. He served on his community and district school boards for over 20 years and always favored employing a local girl to teach in her home school if she desired to do so.

In his church life, Mr. Haste was very faithful, being a member of the Rocky Hock Baptist Church, where he attended both church and Sunday School regularly. He taught a class in the Sunday School for many years.

Politically, he was a staunch Democrat, having affiliated with the party at the age of 21, and during his life upheld the Democratic principles, being especially active during the 80's and 90's under Republican rule. He helped to carry it through one of its most trying times and rejoiced to see it grow to be one of the greatest political parties in existence.

Surviving are one son, J. Craig Haste, and a daughter, Mrs. W. H. Dail, with whom he lived. Six step-children also survive, Mrs. C. S. Moore of Huntington, Fla.; Mrs. R. Bruce Etheridge of Manteo; Mrs. J. B. Spillman of Raleigh; Mrs. Mary W. Shaw of Charlotte; Mrs. P. W. Bass of Washington, D. C., and W. S. Webb of Norfolk, Va.

Funeral services were largely attended Saturday afternoon in Rocky Hock Church, with the pastor, the Rev. Frank Cale, officiating. Interment was made in the family burying ground.

Active pallbearers were: J. N. Smith, W. H. Pearce, Mark Bunch, T. R. Tynch, Sr., J. E. Bunch and J. R. Perry.

Honorary pallbearers were: R. D. Dixon, J. C. Badham, Z. T. Evans, J. Clarence Leary, Eli T. Byrum, Mark White, E. L. Winslow, B. W. Evans, J. E. Peele, A. N. Harrell, A. W. Belch, C. E. Kramer, R. P. Badham, D. M. Warren, W. T. Satterfield, Dr. J. A. Mitchener, M. A. Hughes and W. S. Privott, Jr.

Thieves Ransack Ed Habit's Store Sunday

Ed Habit's dry cleaning plant was a victim over the week-end of the wave of recent robberies in Edenton, the store being entered and ransacked Sunday. Fortunately, Mr. Habit, late Sunday afternoon, went into his store and discovered that a small quantity of change had been taken from the cash register and that a large quantity of merchandise was missing from the counters and shelves.

Immediately making an investigation he found several suitcases filled with wearing apparel placed near the door of the boiler room, from where it is supposed they were to be taken after dark. He, however, carries burglary insurance.

A young Negro man was seen loitering back of the building, but made a getaway when he suspected he was noticed. No arrest has been made.
