

Lancaster Baseball Club Officials Stop Over In Edenton

No Training Camp For Next Season Yet Selected

Friends, on Saturday, were pleased to greet Norman McLean, one of the owners of the Lancaster, Pa., baseball club, W. D. Cowdrick, the business manager, and Jack Quinn, who stopped over in Edenton on their way home after attending the annual convention of National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues held at Jacksonville, Fla.

Though the Lancaster club finished at the bottom of the league following training here last spring, both McLean and Cowdrick expressed a desire to again train in Edenton, though several other offers have been presented and no training camp decided upon as yet.

While in Jacksonville, Mr. McLean signed up Tom Oliver, who will be remembered here as manager of the Reading team, to manage the Lancaster club next season. Several other players were also purchased, which has materially brightened Lancaster's chances for a winning club.

LEGION AUXILIARY PLANS FOR CHRISTMAS WELFARE WORK

The American Legion Auxiliary met Friday evening at the Hotel Joseph Hewes for the regular monthly meeting. The meeting was opened by the president and routine business was carried on.

At the meeting Friday evening, the Auxiliary members planned for the Christmas program of child welfare work. It was also decided to send gifts to the four soldiers at Oteen assigned to this Auxiliary. These soldiers are James Davis, B. Cox, Charles Albert and Alvin Coley. Each Auxiliary member is also asked to send a Christmas card to each of the soldiers, addressing the cards to Ward C-1, Oteen, N. C.

S. P. (Pete) Mathews' Farm—Below Burgess (Per. Co.)

No, Pete's not dead—nor broke. He is very much alive—"Heads up" and going strong. But—he has accumulated so much farm equipment in a lifetime of successful farming—and having decided to go the whole hog in power farming—he is going to have a knock down, drag out, sale to clean up his barns, shelters, and stables. He always bought the best and plenty of it.

So you won't be disappointed if you come to his sale. Not only will he offer all kinds of horse drawn equipment—including:

John Deere Disc Cultivators, John Deere and International Riding Shovel Cultivators, 2-in-1 Cultivators, Section Harrows and Drags and Guano Sowers, and Lime Distributors—(Double and Single Hoppers), Disc Harrows, Stalk Cutters, Middle Busters of various makes, Planters of various makes (the best)—all in good shape and ready to go. Champion Plows, South Carolina Plows, Parts and Repairs.

Hay Presses, Mowing Machines (practically new), Log Wagons, with Tongs and Chains, 2 Fordson Tractors (in good shape), Farm Wagons, Carts and plenty of Hames, Collars, Bridles and other gear.

Also: He is going to put under the hammer part of his stock of Hogs, Cattle and Mules.

THERE WILL BE SOMETHING TO INTEREST EVERY FARMER. COME, MEET YOUR FRIENDS. HAVE A GOOD TIME—AND BUY SOMETHING AT A PRICE YOU ARE WILLING TO PAY.

There is to be no barbecue or free lunch, but you'll be able to buy a hot dog and cold or hot drink—if you like.

Sale Conducted By: J. C. BLANCHARD

P. S.—He'll sell you, probably—if you are interested—a barn full of Peanuts or a thousand bushels or so of corn.
