THIS WEEK'S BIBLE THOUGHT

WE MUST LOSE A LITTLE TO GAIN MUCH: If any man will come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me.—Matt. 16:24.

All Should Help

Though reports are far from complete, J. A. Moore, chairman of Chowan County's March of Dimes campaign, gave out the information Tuesday that approximately half of the $1,420 quota had been reached and that he had observed that contributions were running somewhat below last year, which if maintained in remaining reports means that the county this year will just about reach the quota.

Last year, when the largest contribution was made to fight infantile paralysis, Chowan County's contributions amounted to $1,858.22, and it was Mr. Moore's hope that this year contributions would reach the $2,000 mark. He has every reason to set that mark, for surely Chowan County people have not forgotten the recent epidemic which, though Chowan was spared, made many children its victims. But for the fact that financial aid was available, many more of those afflicted children would have died. It should be of interest to Chowan people to know that during the epidemic the Chowan County chapter transferred $500 of its funds to state funds in order to speed treatment for children in other counties.

No person knows if or when infantile paralysis will break out, nor where it will strike, so that Chowan County is just as liable to be the victim as any other section of the State. For that reason our people should be willing to make a substantial contribution in order to be prepared to cope with any situation which may arise. No time can be lost to raise money when the disease strikes, so that it is far better to be prepared than to be sorry when it is too late.

Chowan County can very easily and should contribute $2,000 during the March of Dimes drive. That amount can be raised without anyone making a sacrifice. It is a settled fact that many have been missed by the canvassers, but this should not be any reason to fail to make a contribution, for Mr. Moore, W. H. Gardner, the writer and even the canvassers themselves will gladly receive any contribution.

No one should hide behind the fact that they have not been solicited in not making a contribution. Canvassers and Mr. Moore are contributing generously of their time and efforts in the drive, and it is Chowan County's drive, not theirs, so that every person in the county shares in the responsibility of not only reaching the quota, but raising the $2,000 which Mr. Moore set as a goal.

If you have not made a contribution, do so at once. It is not too late.

Worth Considering

Edenton has its parking problems, but other towns also have similar situations as is reflected in a story appearing in last week's issue of the Wallace Enterprise. Wallace, considerably smaller than Edenton, plans to install parking meters in the two main business blocks about the middle of February in an effort to help the parking problem.

"The principal reason for installation of the meters," says Mayor J. Aubrey Harrell, "is not to penalize anybody but to more evenly distribute the privilege of parking in the crowded business blocks of Wallace."

It is interesting to note that at least one identical reason contributes to parking conditions in Wallace as here in Edenton. Mayor Harrell in announcing installation

HEARD & SEEN

By "BUFF"

The writer, together with Max Campbell of Hertford and Bill Manning of Williamston attended the State press meeting in Chapel Hill over the week-end. While a small town editor has his troubles and worries and frets at times, it is some consolation to learn at such meetings that just about the whole she-bang have about the same things to contend with. Of course, the usual crop of jokes were "harvested" during the meeting, but I'm not putting 'em in print. It might not be out of the way, however, to tell about one of the editors near the end of the meeting. As a group entered the hotel elevator, the elevator girl asked, "Going down?" At once the newspaper guy replied, "No, I'm already 'down'."

I've a crow to pick with Lena Jones. She is publicity chairman for the Edenton Parent Teacher Association and, of course, is supposed to let me know about the meetings. Well just about every month Mrs. J. Clarence Leary, the president, calls me up at about press time to see if a notice has been received. The same thing happened this week and because everything in the paper is filled up except two columns, Mrs. Leary wants to remind PTA members that a meeting will be held next Tuesday afternoon at 3:20 o'clock at the school.

Oh, boy, things are getting like old times. Early this week Guy Hobbs was parading around town with a smile from ear to ear and tucked under his arm was a box of cigars. He was handing out the cigars, too, for on Monday he became the daddy of a bouncing boy. It so happens that Mr. Guy Hobbs, Jr., was born on exactly the same day that five years ago his sister put in an appearance. This circumstance has its advantages and disadvantages, for it will mean two birthday presents at the same time, but on the other hand one birthday party will fill the bill.

And talking about new daddies, Jack Mooney became the daddy of another daughter Tuesday night. Well, Jack, I've already smoked Guy's cigar, or is it a case like Izzy Campen—waiting until a boy is added to the family?

An interesting letter was received this week from Chaplain D. O. Diggs, former pastor of Kadesh A. M. E. Zion church, who was recently awarded the Bronze Star. In commenting on the award Captain Diggs said, "though I feel a sense of humble pride trekking through my soul, I also feel a sense of littleness creeping over me as I think of the more noble deeds and tremendous and even supreme sacrifices of other great souls of Edenton and Chowan County. Now that this greatest and most dreadful of all wars is ended, may we all turn to God in true devotion and reverence in that many of us were spared to see the end, and may we devote our energy in the future to the solemn task of preserving the peace for which our comrades died so that they shall not have died in vain."

of meters, said shoppers in Wallace are now compelled to park their cars on back streets and back lots because most of the parking space on Main Street is crowded with cars belonging to local business men and their employees. Some of the cars are now parked at these spots from 9 in the morning until 6 o'clock in the afternoon, according to Mayor Harrell, which deprives shoppers of these parking spaces.

A recent check in Edenton's business section showed that 22 parking spaces were utilized by merchants and their employees, which, of course, meant that that many visiting cars had to find less convenient plans to park. For the past few years business has been good and merchants could sell about all the merchandise they could secure, but time has been and in all probability will be again when merchants will welcome prospective customers coming into their places of business. For that reason every effort should be made to attract out-of-town business, and one way is to provide parking facilities. It will be easier to attract business later on if some consideration is given now when business is brisk, than to try to get business after potential customers have chosen and become adapted to other points to do their trading.

Incidentally, a parking meter salesman recently contacted Mayor Leroy Haskett relative to installing parking meters in Edenton and if merchants feel that they are a nuisance, some thought should be given by the merchants themselves to using fewer of the choice parking spaces in the business section.

McLAUCHLAN-ANTHONY

L. R. McLauchlan of San Diego, Cal., and Miss Susie Anthony of Hamilton, N. C., will be united in marriage Friday, the ceremony to take place at the chapel at the Edenton Naval Air Station. George Orant, owner of Burton's Restaurant, will be best man and Murray J. Damm, S 1/c, USNR, will be maid of honor.

REPORTS LACKING

At a recent meeting of a nominating committee to choose directors for a Tuberculosis Association, various members volunteered to contact prospective directors, and report to J. Edwin Bufflap, temporary chairman of the nominating committee, so that another mass meeting can be called by W. J. Taylor, temporary chairman of the association. Up to Wednesday only four have reported, so that the others are asked to report at once.

Notice To Our Customers:

The Federal Reserve Board has issued a regulation prohibiting member banks from absorbing for its customers exchange charges or remittance fees charged by other banks covering checks drawn on them and presented for payment through mail by a member bank. Inasmuch as the Bank of Edenton is a member of the Federal Reserve System, this Bank is controlled by this regulation.

The laws of some states permit state chartered banks to charge exchange or remittance fees on checks cleared through the mails. All National Banks and banks which are members of the Federal Reserve System must remit for checks drawn on them at par or without making any exchange or remittance charge. All other banks can clear their checks at par if they so choose. However, only a few such banks have availed themselves of this opportunity. They continue in most instances to charge exchange at the legal maximum, one-eighth of one per cent. It is this charge which The Bank of Edenton has always heretofore absorbed, but is now prohibited from so doing.

If you do not wish to bear this cost, it will be necessary for you to have the drawer of the check pay you this one-eighth of one per cent when such check is drawn on a non-par bank. The only banks in this section of the State which clear their checks at par other than The Bank of Edenton are The Bank of Washington and the First & Citizens National Bank of Elizabeth City.

This exchange charge will be passed back to our customers commencing February 1.
