CAMPEN'S JEWELERS

Pay Night Produces Smiles To Guardsmen

There were smiles on many of the faces of the members of the Edenton National Guard this week. Reason being, they received their first pay checks. They are also happy because Captain William P. Jones, commanding officer, announced at their last drill meeting on Friday night in the Edenton armory that Staff Sergeant Walter Mills was to leave for Atlanta, Ga., to pick up the first issue of rolling stock from Army supply, in the form of a three-quarter ton weapons carrier.

"The men are anxious to begin training on the tank and radio equipment," states Captain Jones, "and we are doing everything we can to have our allotment cleared through military channels."

Asked by several high school students if they can join if they are only 17 years of age, Captain Jones replied that new regulations permit this type of enlistment without parents' permission.

Commissioner Scott Urges Attendance At Farm - Home Week

Urging a record breaking attendance at 1947 Farm and Home Week, W. Kerr Scott, Commissioner of Agriculture, made the following statement this week:

"It is my earnest hope that every farmer and farm woman who can possibly attend Farm and Home Week will make plans now to take advantage of this splendid opportunity to broaden their knowledge and to enjoy the fine fellowship. It should be a matter of pride for us to participate in this splendid endeavor which is so helpful to both the individual and the State as a whole."

"The prime goal of Farm and Home Week is better rural living throughout North Carolina, and in carrying out this purpose the event benefits every segment of our population," he said. "Furthermore, this year's program which includes persons of national and international importance, undoubtedly is the finest ever offered by this outstanding annual event which has meant so much to thousands of North Carolina's farm families," he added.

Scheduled to take place on the State College campus, August 25-29, a program of interest to both farmers and homemakers has been arranged. Aside from the outstanding lectures that will be given, there will be the usual array of farm exhibits, as well as many interesting tours and demonstrations.

Not to be forgotten is the recreational side where singing, dancing, contests and other enjoyable features will be held.

Sawmill On Wheels To Be Displayed At Farm - Home Week

If you have never seen a sawmill on wheels that can travel over a community like a combine or thresher, then you will want to see this machine along with the many other interesting exhibits on display at State College during Farm and Home Week.

"This machine can be set down in thirty minutes," says R. W. Graeber, in charge of Forestry Extension at State College, "and will cut from 6,000 to 10,000 board feet of lumber per day."

The timber harvester, as it is called, will be on display for three days.

MITCHENER DRUG STORES Sold in Edenton by LEGGETT & DAVIS

Mr. Graeber said, and a demonstration of its use will be held on Wednesday morning, August 27.

Included with the forestry exhibits will be a tree planting machine, fire protection equipment, chain saws, bow saws and circular saws on wheels. Each of these implements will be displayed in the college gymnasium, and demonstrations will be given on the proper use of them.

The tree planting machines are designed so that three men with the use of them can plant approximately 12,000 trees per day.

An exhibit-demonstration showing the various methods of treating fence posts has been arranged to give farmers proper procedures to follow in this money and labor saving job. This exhibit was prepared by the United States Forest Products Laboratory of Madison, Wis., and detailed explanation of the various methods will be given, and made applicable to farm conditions. As a part of this program, Mr. Graeber will discuss "Management of Farm Woods for the Production of Fence Posts and Other Timber Products."

All of these, plus many other interesting exhibits and demonstrations pertaining to farming and homemaking go to make up the busy activities of the week of August 25-29, Farm and Home Week.

Between Two Fires

A certain fledgling Congressman from the South took his rather puritanical wife to a swank party in Washington one night. His sedate mate sat on his right, while on his left he was somewhat startled to discover a well-known dancer gowned in the most extreme décolleté.

The unsophisticated statesman shot several surreptitious glances at the fair danseuse, and several times he opened his mouth to speak. But at the sight of so much feminine loveliness so boldly displayed he was struck dumb.

Suddenly the perspiring politician felt a stiff jab in his ribs and the voice of his better half hissing: "John! John! For heaven's sake, talk to that woman or they'll think she's your wife!"

Brought Them Along

Mr. Smith: "My wife came from a very large family. Did yours?"
Mr. Brown: "No, she brought it with her."

Adventures in GOOD EATING

COOL COOKERY TRICKS

Vanilla wafers are staunch allies to hot weather cookery. Use 'em for unbaked pie crusts, in puddings and ice box desserts. Delicious and crunchy served with fresh fruit cup or ice cream, too.

THIRST QUENCHER

Hot and thirsty? Iced tea is the perfect summer beverage. Easy to make. Perfect results every time if you do this: Use twice as much tea, steep in freshly boiling water 3 to 5 minutes. Then pour the hot tea over cracked ice. Instant chilling sprig of fresh mint, garnish with lemon slices. For party doings, stick whole cloves into the lemon slices. Add for elusive, spicy flavor, add a stick or two of cinnamon to the hot tea while brewing. They'll ask what the trick is!
