Ed Bond Post Sets Goal At $35,000 In Drive To Build Memorial On Edenton Lot

Committee Meets and Lays Initial Plans For Campaign

"BUILD OR BUST"

Hope to Build Modern Home on Waterfront Property

Following the decision of Ed Bond Post of the American Legion to erect an American Legion Home in memory of Chowan County's war dead and for the use of living war veterans, a committee has been appointed and at a meeting last week a goal of $35,000 was set to build the memorial.

Members of the committee, of which Kermit Layton is general chairman, include Jack Bond, George Bond, T. C. Byrum, W. J. Yates, Willis McClenny, Skinner White, Lloyd Briggs, John Lee Spruill, Henry A. White, Bill Cozart and Dr. George Crawford.

This group met Thursday night of last week in the office of Dr. Crawford, at which time tentative plans for the drive were discussed. Members of the committee, as well as many Legionnaires are of the opinion that now is the time to make an effort to build a memorial and for the drive they have adopted a slogan of "Build or Bust."

If and when a sufficient amount of money is raised, the Legionnaires plan to build an attractive home on their lot on the waterfront at the foot of Broad Street adjoining the Thomas B. Wood property. The building will be modern in every respect and will be so arranged that it can be used for business meetings for both the Legion and Auxiliary as well as a portion devoted to recreation and social affairs for both groups.

The idea of a home of their own has long been paramount in the minds of the Legionnaires, and every so often the topic has cropped up at regular meetings, but nothing more in a concrete way has been accomplished. This time, however, the Legionnaires are determined to go all out in an effort to raise the necessary funds and most of them feel optimistic about the ultimate realization of their goal.

Tentative plans call for a solicitation form of drive, but whatever means will be adopted will not be started until the early fall.

Farmers Requested to Bring Axes and Cross Cut Saws

"Never in the history of the nation has it been so important to conserve our timber resources as it is now," says Robert Marsh, assistant County Agent. "We are annually depleting our forestry resources much faster than we are producing timber."

These demonstrations will be held at several different points throughout the county, and will be in easy reach of every farmer in the county. Howard J. Doyle, an experienced forester, will help conduct the demonstrations, and everyone is welcome, regardless of where he lives. The schedule of demonstrations is as follows:

Through cooperation with farmers, Mr. Overman is conducting six corn variety and hybrid test demonstrations. Here may be observed many of the local varieties and most of the best hybrids on test. These are located on various types of soil, so that those making the trip can see for themselves which looks the best.

Mr. Overman urges all farmers to take time out and benefit by this tour. A schedule of stops will appear in next week's Herald.

McLawhorn Puts First Game on Ice By Hitting Home Run

THRILLING GAMES

Colerain Has Edge Over Suffolk By Winning Two Straight

With the curtain drawn on the Al-bermarle League regular baseball season Sunday, the Edenton Colonials began the semi-final series Monday night on Hicks Field when they defeated the Hertford Indians 6-1.

Hertford's ace hurler, Moe Bauer, was pitted against Edenton's Lester Jordan, with the latter having the best of the argument. Jordan was in good form and allowed the visitors only three hits, two of which came in the third inning when the Indians scored their lone run. Brigham singled and scored on Young's single. The other hit was made by Young in the first inning.

The Colonials touched Bauer for nine hits, the big inning being the third, when four hits produced four runs. Edenton's nine hits were made in the first five innings, after which the batters went down in order.

The game was played in record time before one of the largest crowds of the season. The Indians played errorless ball, while the Colonials miscued three times, but the errors did not prove costly.

In the Colonials' half of the third inning Byrum started off by singling. Jordan sacrificed and Joe Wheeler tripled, scoring Byrum. Bohonko was hit by a pitched ball and Leary singled, scoring Joe Wheeler. Fulghum then singled over second base and before Cayton could recover the ball Bohonko and Leary crossed the plate. Edenton's other two runs were produced in the fifth. Fulghum doubled and McLawhorn, next up, connected with one of Bauer's fast balls, which sailed over the left field fence for a home run.

The Colonials won the second round in the series race in Hertford Tuesday night in a thrilling game played before a crowded house by a score of 2-0.

J. D. Thorne for the Colonials and Gilkerson, Indian hurler, tied up in a pitchers' duel, each of whom was very stingy with his hits. Both teams were credited with four safe hits, although there was some question about a long fly John Byrum hit near the left field fence in the third inning. The official scorer registered it as an error on the Indian left fielder, which put the hits for both teams on an even basis.

Aside from both pitchers being in splendid form, their respective teammates played air-tight ball, with many spectacular plays on both sides cutting down what appeared would be safe hits. Gilkerson fanned eight Colonials while Thorne had seven strike-outs to his credit.

Edenton's pair of runs came in the seventh inning. Bohonko, first up, hit a slashing triple between right and center field and Leary followed with a double scoring Bohonko. Fulghum walked and McLawhorn sacrificed, after which Griffin walked filling the bases. Buck Wheeler then hit a fly to center field on which Leary scored. Byrum fled out to end the scoring for the night. The Colonials threatened to score again in the eighth when Bohonko and Leary singled, but Gilkerson tightened and pulled out of the hole.

Nowell, Gilkerson, Young and Smith each made a hit for the Indians, while Bohonko and Leary divided the four Edenton bingles.

The two teams were scheduled to play again in Edenton Wednesday night and again in Hertford tonight (Thursday).

In the Colerain-Suffolk half of the semi-finals, Colerain has the edge, having won the first two games played. The Bertie outfit won the initial game in the series Monday afternoon in Colerain 3-1. DiLorenzo for Colerain opposed Dowdy in a pitchers' duel, with DiLorenzo yielding six hits while Dowdy allowed five hits.
